THE CANT TWINS

A Little Pleasantry in the House Today Over the Additions to Representative Cant's Family.

Speaker Van Sant, for the House, Presented the Happy Father With a Box of Cigars.

Amendment Made to the Bill in Regard to Fishing With Nets in International Waters.

Interesting Debate in the Senate on the Bill Relating to the Firemen's Relief Fund.

ST. PAUL, March 20.—The house opened this morning with a little pleasantry over a domestic happening in Representative Cant's family, all having heard of the twin boys that arrived yesterday. After roll call and reading of the journal Speaker Van Sant announced that he had a pleasing duty that was somewhat out of the ordinary. He considered Mr. Cant a true Duluthian who believed in increasing the population, and he felt that everyone up there would heartily approve. He expressed the confident belief that all joined with him in hoping that the mother, the twins and especially Mr. Cant, were doing well. In honor of the occasion he presented, in the name of the house, a box of cigars, saying that in case of one baby the father was expected to treat to cigars, but in the case of twins he thought the case was different.

C. A. Smith, of Lac qui Parle county, suggested that two boxes would be more appropriate, but when Mr. Feig proposed that the second box be furnished by the gentleman from Lac qui Parle the suggestion was not pressed. Being called for, Mr. Cant said he had nothing to say but thank to the speaker for accepting the gift in the spirit in which it was offered.

The following committee reports were made and adopted: H. F. 617, to provide for inspection of hay, potatoes and other farm products, at St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, to pass; H. F. 376, providing for farmers' organizations, to be indefinitely postponed; H. F. 636, declaring certain weeds nuisances and providing for their destruction, to pass; H. F. 664, to amend laws relating to state and other agricultural societies, amended to provide for $5000 instead of $14,000 appropriation, to pass; H. F. 380, to destroy Russian thistles, to pass; H. F. 657, to amend law to provide for filing bank reports; H. F. 432, relating to banks of discount and deposit, to be indefinitely postponed; H. F. 434, to amend existing laws, to pass; S. F. 386, relating to banks of discount and deposit, to pass as amended; S. F. 414, relating to naming of banks and trust companies, to pass; S. F. 301, fixing amount of bonds required of clerks of courts and sheriffs, to pass; H. F. 535, to amend general laws relating to substitute S. F. 418 therefor; H. F. 601, to amend general statutes 1878, to be indefinitely postponed; S. F. 309, to amend general laws 1878, to pass; S. F. 390, relating to duties and compensation of county surveyors, to pass; H. F. 370, to amend general laws 1878, to pass; H. F. 376, to provide for organization of unincorporated counties, to be indefinitely postponed; S. F. 25, to provide for section or property lines at expense of property owners, to pass; H. F. 663, to authorize counties to employ attorneys in certain cases, referred to judiciary committee; S. F. 514, to provide for hard fibre twine plant at Duluth, to pass; H. F. 665, relating to passengers by transportation companies, to be indefinitely postponed; H. F. 17, to compel railroads to run daily passenger trains on branch lines, to be indefinitely postponed; H. F. 362, Brevig omnibus railroad bill, to be indefinitely postponed; S. F. 156, in relation of sale of spices and condiments, to be referred to judiciary committee; H. F. 668, for protection of public health by inspection of cattle, sheep and swine, to pass; H. F. 446, pure syrup and candy, to be indefinitely postponed; S. F. 171, pure baking powder, to be referred to judiciary committee; H. F. 445, to wash milk cans, to pass; S. F. 224, to legalize state certificate of pedagogy department of state university, to pass; H. F. 657, purchase and floating United States flags from school buildings, to be indefinitely postponed; S. F. 182, to provide for appeal from county school superintendent, amended, to pass; S. F. 329, allowing board of education to make one of their number treasurer, placed on calendar; S. F. 417, to consolidate colleges, to pass; H. F. 638, to provide for sale of state normal schools, to be indefinitely postponed; H. F. 558, to amend general laws 1891, to pass as amended, reducing from $1500 to $12,500 and from $1800 to $1500; H. F. 523, to appropriate money for waterworks at state fair grounds, to pass; S. F. 265, to appropriate money for Meeker county cyclone sufferers, to be indefinitely postponed, but on motion placed on general orders.

Mr. Jacobson offered and the house adopted a resolution that hereafter the sessions shall begin at 9:30, lasting until 12:30, recess then until 2, remaining in session until adjournment. The house went into committee of the whole. H. F. 5, for fishing with nets in international waters, which had been recalled from the governor after passing, both houses, in order to make an amendment suggested by him, evoked considerable discussion, much of it a good deal at sea, until Mr. Heustis of Kittson, finally gave a clear explanation of what a pound net consisted of, to the evident edification of the house, and its opposition to a proposition to settle disputes as to fishing grounds by lot defeated that amendment and disputes will be settled by the fish commission. The number of nets to be allowed to any one firm was limited to fifty. The bill was then recommended to pass and the house took a recess until 2 o'clock.

DOINGS OF THE SENATE.

Bill Relating to the Firemen's Relief Fund Passed.

ST. PAUL, March 20.—There was an interesting debate in the senate this morning over H. F. 273, the bill relating to the firemen's relief fund. The friends of the measure claimed that it simply provided that the money which was intended for the firemen's relief associations should go there and not be diverted. It provided for the payment of the money direct to the associations. Senator Greer offered an amendment providing for some check on the relief associations by making them subject to city ordinances. The Greer amendment was adopted by a decisive vote. The bill was finally passed by a unanimous vote.

Senator French introduced a bill providing for municipal courts for cities of less than 3000 inhabitants. He consented to an amendment, making it 5000 inhabitants.

The committee on hospitals for the insane reported back a substitute bill for Senator Peterson's bill amending the law governing hospitals for the insane. The law makes some changes in the method of commitment, but the section that will stir up the most strife is that increasing the size of the board of managers from five to nine members. It consisted of nine members until two years ago, when it was cut down. An old fight seems bound to come up again.

Senator Wyman introduced a communication, signed by all the druggists of Minneapolis, giving reasons why H. F. No. 626 and S. F. No. 559 should be indefinitely postponed. These are the patent medicine bills.

STRUCK BY A TORNADO.

Augusta, Ga., Visited By a Terrible Wind Storm This Morning But No Lives Lost.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 20.—At 9 o'clock this morning a tornado struck Augusta back of the old Lafayette race course. The first house struck was buried across McKinnis street and thrown against the house on the opposite side. Its sole occupant, a woman, was badly injured, but not fatally hurt. Nothing but the floor of the house was left.

In the next house demolished were a negro woman and five children, who were buried under the wreck, but after an hour's hard work they were extricated alive, though some of them were badly bruised. In the same southern part of the city, a dozen houses were wrecked and along the path of the storm trees, fences and outbuildings were leveled.

A small house was buried through the roof and into one of the big rooms of the Miller flour mills. The central railroad roundhouse and paint shops were badly damaged and one engine smashed under the debris. It is extraordinary that no lives were lost and that few people were hurt.

KILLED WITH DYNAMITE

Terrible Explosion on Board a Ship, Thirteen Persons Being Killed and Five Being Injured.

COLOGNE, March 20.—A report is in circulation here to the effect that a terrible explosion of dynamite has taken place at Oberwesel on the Rhine. Twenty-five persons are said to have been killed, two ships are reported to have been destroyed and many houses are announced to have been wrecked by the explosion.

AMSTERDAM, March 20.—The Nieuws Van Den Dag publishes a dispatch stating that the report from Cologne was the result of the explosion of the cargo of 20,000 kilos of dynamite on board the ship Elizabeth A. Salmon in the district of Dusseldorf yesterday evening. According to this dispatch thirteen persons were killed, five were injured and one went mad. The scene after the explosion is described as being one of terrible destruction.

INCREASING ITS DEMANDS.

Newfoundland Will Ask Canada to Tunnel Belleisle Straits.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 20.—It is stated here that an effort is being made in Newfoundland to add enormously to the demands of the colony when the terms of its admission to the Dominion are considered.

The latest proposition is that Canada should tunnel the straits of Belleisle in order to give the island all-rail connection with Canada. This, it is urged, would confer a special advantage upon Canada, reducing the sea voyage to England by one-third and rendering it possible to convey passengers from Montreal to Liverpool in 108 hours. Where it is proposed the tunnel is to be built, the straits are about twelve and a half miles wide, and the land formation is said to be favorable to the undertaking.

Designation of Rank.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The probabilities are that in the near future the officers of the United States army will take on another designation of rank in the shape of a metallic grade to be worn on the front of their hats. The question is under discussion among the head officials of the war department, and it is understood that the project is very favorably regarded by many of them.

Nebraska Bank Suspends.

OMAHA, March 20.—A special to the Bee from Genoa, Neb., says the Genoa State bank closed its doors this morning and is in the hands of a state bank examiner. The bank was reorganized last week with a woman as president. The assets and liabilities are unknown.

GRESHAM ANGRY

There is No Doubt That He Has Asked for the Recall of Minister Thurston.

The Hawaiian Minister Has Recently Fallen Under the Displeasure of the Secretary of State.

Hawaii's Declination to Accede Would Doubtless Be Followed by Thurston Being Given His Passports.

The Entry in Ex-Queen Lili's Diary About a Present From President Cleveland Is Explained.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—An intimate friend of Minister Thurston now in Washington says that Mr. Thurston has no official information as to the request for his recall, while at the same time no doubt exists on the part of the minister that such a suggestion has been made to the Hawaiian government. It is not likely, however, that Mr. Thurston will leave this country. He will continue, it is stated, to look after Hawaiian interests in an unofficial manner. Mr. Thurston's friends say that as a matter of fact he has never been treated at the state department and that his ministers have been treated as has not been accorded the courtesy usually extended to men holding similar positions.

Mr. Thurston, it is said, does not know who will be his successor, but it is intimated that Frank Hatch may be selected, and he will represent the ideas and views that have been prominent during the mission of Mr. Thurston. Mr. Hatch is said to be unusually well qualified for the position. The latest official mail from Hawaii has arrived here, Minister Thurston declined to state whether it contained anything bearing on the request of Secretary Gresham for Mr. Thurston's recall.

The minister maintains the absolute silence on the subject he had since the report first appeared. The legation office is open to callers, however, and the usual business proceeds briskly between Minister Thurston and Mr. Hastings, the secretary of the legation. The moment the recall is mentioned, Mr. Thurston and his assistant lapse into silence.

It is believed from the fact that the communication relative to Minister Thurston was sent on Feb. 21 that there has been ample time for a response from the Hawaiian government in the mail just received. Secretary Gresham's note reached St. Francisco and San Francisco on the last of February. Since then several ships have left Honolulu, the last one reaching St. Francisco and Vancouver respectively about a week ago.

They brought the official mail which has now arrived at the legation. It is known that the Hawaiian communication from Mr. Hatch, the Hawaiian minister of foreign affairs, as Mr. Hastings received a brief message saying that such a communication was on its way. If the Hawaiian government has replied, Mr. Thurston would be the natural and only channel of communicating it to the state department, as he remains the official representative of Hawaii until his recall is actually accomplished. That Secretary Gresham asked for Mr. Thurston's recall, it is no longer any doubt, though the manner in which it was put is not yet known.

Before answering Secretary Gresham, it is assumed the Hawaiian government will communicate with its minister and seek his version of the circumstances before acceding to Secretary Gresham's request, which in a measure implies a personal affront to the individual under these circumstances. The communication from Hawaii, if it refers to the recall, is so packed with excuses and promises that it is likely to be sort of a reply to Mr. Gresham's request.

Further developments therefore will be watched with great interest and especially the answer of Hawaii, as a declaration to accede to Secretary Gresham's request doubtless would be followed by Minister Thurston being given his passports, an act equal to severance of diplomatic relations.

In connection with these later Hawaiian developments, criticism is made by members of congress still in the city of the failure of the secretary of state to transmit information of his action to congress prior to its adjournment on March 4. The request for Mr. Thurston's recall was dispatched prior to Feb. 21. Congress had been informed officially that the government would keep it posted on Hawaiian affairs and would be supplied with the correspondence relating thereto. Notwithstanding the congressmen say no intimation, however, transpired that the representative of the Hawaiian government to the United States had declared a persona non grata and a step taken which may embarrass seriously the relations of the two governments.

The Honolulu Advertiser which has just arrived here clears up a mystery which has puzzled officials here as to an entry in ex-Queen Liliuokalani's diary stating that on the day specified President Cleveland's present had been received by her. It was at once denied here that the president had ever sent a present to the ex-queen.

The Advertiser now explains that Mrs. Domini received a copy of the report of the board of public works of Chicago for the year 1893. Some one had taken the trouble to cover it handsomely in cloth, and had also secured the personal cards of Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Gresham. In to-day's cards, the paper says, were placed inside the volume with a suitable statement of regard in forwarding it. The ex-queen did not mind the present, but she was not a jester had been at work and accordingly made the entry in her diary. The Honolulu paper states that the report contained "plenty of useful information that could be used to advantage by a progressive monarchy." It was learned rather late this afternoon that the Hawaiian minister is accused, in addition to giving out of facts, of having instigated the publication of newspaper articles in New York papers attacking the administration. It is held that this brings his case on all fours with the celebrated Catcazy case, which caused so much commotion during the administration of President Grant.

THE CAPITAL GOSSIP.

Judge Lochren Does Not Expect Any Decreased Amount for Pension for Next Three Years.

Reason for Absence of Any Decrease is Found in First Payments on Pensions Allowed.

Senator Frye Would Annex Cuba and is Sorry Spain Will Make the Required Apology.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Commissioner of Pensions Lochren estimates that there will not be any decreased amount appropriated for pensions during the next three years. The amount appropriated for the fiscal year of 1906 in round numbers is $140,000,000, for the present year the amount was $150,000,000. The reason for the absence of any perceptible decrease is that the falling off owing to deaths and other causes is about counterbalanced by first payments in pensions allowed. As cases are allowed from time to time there are large first payments, sometimes for arrears and always dated from the time the application was filed.

The decreases in some classes of claims are quite great, as in the pensions for the war of 1812, which have decreased about 50 per cent in the past year. After three years, when it is expected the majority of claims will be adjudicated and there will be few remaining first payments, Commissioner Lochren expects there will be a rapid falling off of pensions, as they have now reached the age when it is to be expected. He then expects the pension appropriation will be diminished in size very materially.

Senator Frye was asked today what he thought of the prospect of an amicable settlement of the Alliance difficulty with Spain and replied: "Unfortunately the later reports make it appear to be very good. It looks as if Spain would make the required apology and if so, all will soon be settled. I hoped that it would be otherwise and that Spain would assume such a belligerent tone that it would be necessary for the United States to go over and take possession of Cuba. We certainly ought to have that island in order to round up our possessions as they should be, and if we cannot buy it, I for one should like to have an opportunity to acquire it by conquest."

Inasmuch as Mr. Frye is a member of the senate committee on foreign relations his utterances possess considerable significance, and indicate the early revival of efforts to acquire Cuba.

The Indian office, under the direction and supervision of Secretary Smith, will find considerable work provided in the last Indian appropriation bill which will keep it quite busy during the coming season. Among other things authorized in the bill is the appointment of a commission to negotiate with the Belknap Indians for the sale of the United States of a portion of their reservation in the north central portion of the state of Montana; also to negotiate with the Blackfoot Indians for the sale of a portion of their reservation in the northwest part of the same state. An appropriation of $5500 has been made for this purpose and as the commission will consist of employees of the interior department.

Secretary Smith has said to all visiting delegations of Indians, no matter from what portion of the country they came, that if they have no desire to sell their lands, the department has no purpose to relieve them to do so; that he prefers they should keep their lands where they can make use of them. To one delegation he recently said he found it would be a good thing if they would divide their reservation tracts among themselves in some equitable manner, and farm such portions as they could not use, and leave the remainder to farmers who would pay them a reasonable sum for the privilege. In the case of the Belknap and Blackfoot Indians it may be found that the department is to the Indians to dispose of a portion of their lands, as the area is considered much larger than they can handle judiciously.

Another commissioner or an officer of the government will have to be designated by the secretary to negotiate with the Ojibwa and Missouri tribes of Indians to see if there can be purchased from them sufficient lands upon which to allot and locate the Iowa tribe of Indians. If it seems advisable to the secretary, he is authorized to secure allotments for the Iowa upon lands which may have been or may hereafter be ceded to the United States by the Comanche, Kiowa and Apache, or the Wichita tribes in Oklahoma.

The intruders on the Cherokee lands will also receive the attention of the interior department. The new law direct the secretary to suspend efforts toward removal until the value of the improvements of these intruders can be ascertained and approved by congress. When an intruder is tendered the appraisal value of his improvements he must remove or pay rents according to the rate in the country. The law makes it plain that the intruders must remove after Jan. 1, 1906.

The secretary will also examine and report to congress the claims of the Sac and Fox Indians of Mississippi now residing in Iowa. A special agent to pay the Indians $1000 must be detailed. Two provisions in the law will cause more or less business for the Indian office and the secretary. The secretary is allowed to remove Indians from the reservation, but who may become needy, out of money which may not be used for the purposes named in the appropriations act, also to remove from reservations, to rent property not needed and to apply the proceeds of the property to reservations where it may be needed.

The secretary is also directed to appoint a commission to dispose of the surplus lands in Brown county, Kan., belonging to the Potawatomes and Kickapoo. A provision of the Indian bill, which those opposed to Eastern schools believe will result in decreasing the number of pupils in these schools, is that which prohibits the sending of Indian children out of the state and territory where they reside, unless the consent of the parents is obtained.

Probably some difficulty will arise when the secretary comes to carry out the portion of the law providing for the removal of Indian children, which contracts were made for the present fiscal year. To decide just what schools shall be given up will cause some trouble, as all will probably desire to be retained.

The secretary is also authorized to negotiate with the San Carlos Indians for the sale of the coal fields on the reservation in Montana. He will also appoint a commission, for which $10,000 is provided, to secure the consent of the Southern Ute Indians and pay the expenses of their removal, according to the terms of the law passed at the last session.

PAT CROWE ESCAPED.
Fatally Wounded a Detective of Denver and Skipped.

DENVER, March 20.—Pat Crowe, the famous train robber, jailbreaker and moonshiner, shot and fatally wounded Detective Al Moore last night and made his escape. The officers, with Detective Conners, had located Crowe and two companions in a room at 1030 Lawrence street. They wanted the men for several burglaries in the city. The arrest was made and the three prisoners had been handcuffed together.

On the way to the patrol, Crowe slipped his cuffs and drawing a revolver from his belt began firing at the officers. The fire was returned and it is thought that Crowe was slightly injured. Moore was struck in the groin and cannot live.

Crowe is known almost the country over. One of his crimes was the robbery of the train at Ottumwa, Iowa. He has escaped from jail at Sioux City, Milwaukee and Chicago and is wanted at the former place. He is supposed to be a member of the famous Evans gang.

THEY ELOPED TO ST. PAUL.
Young Married Man Sidelined with a Thief River Falls City.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 20.—A Crookston, Minn., special says: The rumor that E. E. Sirrine, formerly station agent for the Great Northern at Thief River Falls, has eloped with Miss Thelma LaBree, is confirmed. He left on Monday's train for St. Paul, where he was joined later by the young lady in the case there, and on Friday they departed for Kansas City.

Saturday, the wife of the recreant spouse appeared on the scene and is supposed to be hot on the trail. Mr. Sirrine has stood well up this way and the forsaken wife was a bride six months ago. He has been married and divorced at Clear Lake, Iowa, some years since. Miss LaBree is a young lady who was reared in Thief River Falls and bore a good reputation until a year ago.

Spring Medicine

It is important that you should be sure to get THE BEST. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven its unequalled merit by its thousands of remarkable cures, and the fact that it has a larger sale than any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier shows the great confidence the people have in it. In fact it is the leading medicine. It cures all blood diseases, builds up the nerves and gives strength to the whole system that, as one lady puts it, "It seemed to make me anew."

"I was all broken down in health, so weak and nervous I was hardly able to be up. I had severe pains in my side, and headache. I would often have to stop when going up-stairs on account of palpitation of the heart. I had no appetite and a distressed feeling in my stomach. I resolved to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles and have not had a spell of sick headache for four months, feel well, work all day and eat heartily. My friends remark how well I am looking."

The City Charter Bill.
Several very desirable amendments have been made to the Howard city charter bill by the senate, and there would be a reasonable hope that a fairly satisfactory measure would result from the senate's discussion, if it were not for the fact that the main principle of government which the bill establishes is radically opposed to good municipal government. Nearly absolute power is vested in the council, and the work now done by boards is delegated to committees of the council. This means that a man who has a scheme to benefit himself at the city's expense has only to secure the support of a majority of the council. How easily this can be accomplished has been demonstrated in nearly every city where this system of municipal government prevails.

Some of the senate amendments have materially improved the bill. As originally drawn and as it was passed by the joint committee on municipal corporations, the bill provided for holding the municipal elections on the same day as the state and federal elections. Everyone knows the result of such a program.
The municipal elections would be conducted on party lines, and the difficulty of securing the best men as city officials would be increased a hundredfold. All the earnest work which has been put forth by the friends of good municipal government to maintain nonpartisanship in city elections would have gone for naught.
Happily this mistake has been prevented, and the political bosses and the ward heeler will be unable to place their friends in the municipal offices against the desire of the better class of citizens who want to see the municipal government conducted on business principles. The friends of separate elections were in the majority in the senate and carried their point, the bill being amended so as to provide that the elections for municipal officers shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each odd numbered year, the state and federal elections occurring in November of each even numbered year.

Another provision of the bill which is of especial interest to Duluth was definitely settled yesterday. It was decided that all municipal indebtedness shall be kept within the 5 per cent limit, except that cities not now having water and light plants may exceed the limit for the purpose of securing such plants. In its original form the bill made no exception as to water and light bonds, and consequently Duluth would have been unable to purchase the present water and light plant or erect a new plant. An effort was made in committee to change this and City Attorney Morris argued strongly to except water and light bonds from the 5 per cent limit. The committee did not make the change, but the whole senate has proven wiser than the joint committee and the result is an amendment that will permit Duluth to acquire the water and light plant.

These are commendable changes which have been made, but the best thing the senate can do is to indefinitely postpone the whole measure and then pass the Sheehan home rule bill. The cities are able to govern themselves and to make their own laws. Give them home rule.

Washington is agitating for 75-cent gas, and yet the city has plenty of cheap gas when Grover has a congress on his hands.

The Omaha Bee says: "Since Hon.
Ignatius Donnelly retired from the reform business, the Minnesota legislature has become a staid, plodding, business body. Verbal pyrotechnics no longer agitate St. Paul." The Bee evidently does not know that the Hon. Henry Keller, the distinguished statesman from Stearns county, is still in the verbal pyrotechnic business at the same old stand.

An Excellent Suggestion.
A letter from Bishop McGrick, published in this issue, suggests a plan for benefiting many of the workmen of Duluth that should meet with general support. It is not a novel plan, because it has been tried elsewhere and with good results, so that with proper management it should prove highly successful here. The bishop's idea, in brief, is that owners of land in and close to the city, which is adapted for market gardening, should permit the free use of the land by worthy people for cultivation.
Nearly all the land in this vicinity will produce excellent crops of vegetables, and industrious laborers would be enabled by the plan proposed to raise a sufficient quantity to keep their families supplied throughout the year.

This would greatly improve the condition of many worthy people who are able to obtain work during only a portion of the year and are frequently compelled to solicit aid from the superintendent of the poor. No injury would be done to the land, and its owners would be benefited by the lessened demand for country aid.

Bishop McGrick says that he has been assured of sufficient fencing to protect the crops of those who are actually unable to do that work themselves. All that is needed now is the consent of owners of suitable lands to carry out the proposed plan. The Herald will be pleased to publish a list of lots donated for this purpose, with their location and the names of the donors. As the time for planting is rapidly approaching all such offers should be made at once.

It is suggested by Bishop McGrick that the Associated Charities undertake the management of the scheme. The Herald is authorized to state that the Associated Charities stands ready to do all in its power to forward this scheme to help the deserving poor. It has also been suggested that when work on the extension of the waterworks system begins, preference should be given to men receiving county aid, which would prove a relief to the county poor fund and also be a means of weeding out the lazy imposters from the deserving poor.

They do not seem to be feeling the hard times very much in Washington.
Mrs. Bruce paid $500 to appear at one of her musicals, and gave Melba and Edouard de Reszke an equal amount to appear at another. The widow of Senator Hearst and Mrs. R. H. Townsend also paid these operatic stars $750 and $1000 for their attendance at a musical.

President Kruger of the Transvaal republic is not gifted with an appreciation of music. A short time ago at an entertainment in his honor one of the most gifted singers of Bloemfontein sang a song. The hostess asked the president how he liked the music, and he replied:
"I go into the country when I want to hear a she wolf scream."

A heavy snowstorm began in St. Louis at midnight and raged violently for several hours. How the people of that wintry region must wish that they lived in Duluth with its beautiful, bright sunshine.

Jerry Simpson, the sage of Medicine Lodge, is going to lecture. He is a statesman out of a job and must earn a living. Farming is rather hard work, so Jerry will lecture.

If the duke of Veragua does not restrain his hot-blooded countrymen, they will not be the slightest chance of raising his relief fund in this country.

Ex-Congressman Brand is going to Colorado to lecture on free silver. Is he looking for converts there?

The distressing news comes that Maurier threatens to write another novel.

Snow fell in Bangor, Me., the other day. He was a candidate for mayor.

Suit Against the Plunderers.
Springfield (Mass.) Republican: As congress failed to take any action on the Pacific railroad debt question, it becomes the duty of the administration to look sharply after the interests of the government in these roads. A suit is now pending against the Stanford estate under the personal liability provision of the California statutes, and this should be pressed to a speedy conclusion. If that case is won the government may be able to collect most of the debt from the estates of the men who wrecked the properties for their own enrichment.

The Irrepressible Conflict.
Sioux City Tribune: The Tribune is no alarmist, and it does not believe in crying "wolf" when there is no wolf in sight. But nevertheless it is profoundly impressed with the conclusion that the easiest and by all means the surest way to beat constitutional prohibition in Iowa is to beat it before the next legislature.
It is the height of military folly to depend wholly upon the last line of defense, and if the anti-prohibitionists of the state permit this to be done this fall they need not be surprised if their works are finally carried by assault.

Dimensions of Japan's Push.
Chicago Tribune: China has but 100 miles of railroad in operation. The grading of a road between Shanghai and Woo-Sung which was torn up by the Chinese authorities, remains as a monument of Chinese antipathy to progress.
Japan has 2000 miles of railway and is steadily adding to its mileage. This is one of the proofs that Japan is in sym-

TO BENEFIT THE POOR.
Suggestion by Bishop McGrick of a Plan
That Has Worked Well Elsewhere.

To the Editor of The Herald:
The undersigned is anxious to obtain your assistance in a project for the benefit of many workmen resident in Duluth, a project already well approved and shown to be of material benefit in other parts of the country. We have in our growing city a large number of honest artisans and laborers who are doing their best to bring up their families decently and who are desirous of securing for them due maintenance and a good education. Owing to the general depression such worthy people labor under special difficulties, and it appears to me that the plan of donating the use of certain vacant lots in and around the city, convenient for cultivation, would be a great boon to them.

Enough of vegetables could be easily raised by a workman and his family to provide for their needs during the year.
The soil is eminently adapted to the growth of potatoes, onions, cabbages, etc., and in no way could children be better employed, both before and after school hours, than in the beneficial and beneficial work of the little garden. The owners of such property cannot suffer in any degree, but rather profit by this charity, and a few gentlemen known to me will engage to obtain for the very poor such fencing as may be needed to protect their little crop.

Our newspapers, foremost in every good movement, can obtain and publish a list of the lots thus donated, their location and the names of the donors. I have no hesitation in asking the Associated Charities of Duluth to undertake the management.

Bright Business Signs.
Philadelphia Ledger: That business prospects are brightening is amply evidenced by the reopening throughout the country of numerous manufacturing plants which have been closed for some time.
Among the latest reports are those of the renewed activity of Massachusetts rubber works. For the winter season the works in West Virginia. Now that congress has adjourned, the croakers and gumblers surely have no excuse for obstructing industrial progress and insisting that the country is going pell-mell to the "how-wows." It is a patriotic duty to help business to its feet by the publication of the facts of returning confidence instead of the sensational fabrications devised by short-sighted partisans to discredit and belittle their rivals.

Of an old and noble foreign house

Cheer Up.
Better times are on the way—
Conquer after while,
Might as well get ready now
To greet 'em with a smile.

Heavy hags the clouds today,
Chilly falls the rain,
Languid limbs and mournfully
To the wind's refrain.

But the sunshine dearer seems,
For the clouds are gone,
And the cheering makes more sweet
The notes when they trill.

So cheer up, for better days
Are bound to come along;

A NORTH SHORE ROAD.

Minneapolis Men Interested in the Link to Port Arthur.

C. E. Bateman, of Minneapolis, one of the incorporators of the Grand Marais & North Shore railroad, which filed articles of incorporation in Duluth Saturday, was seen this morning in regard to the project, says the Minneapolis Journal.

He stated that the line was intended to form a connecting link among the north shore of Lake Superior between Two Harbors and Port Arthur. It will connect at the former place with the Duluth & Iron Range and at the latter with the Canadian Pacific. The immediate plans, however, are to build a shore line from Grand Marais to Two Harbors, a distance of about sixty-four miles, the right of way for which has already been secured. The road will derive its revenue from the transportation of fish from the lake shore hamlets and also from the output of the rich ore mines which are being opened in the territory through which it will pass. The capital necessary to carry the scheme through has been secured.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Brothers Byrne.
These ever-popular and well-known pantomimists will appear in their comedy success, "Eight Bells," at the Temple next Friday and Saturday evenings. In presenting "Eight Bells" this season, the Brothers Byrne have expended over $15,000 in new scenery, mechanical tricks and elegant paper. They intend giving one of the best and most complete pantomimic comedies on the stage. The reputation they have gained for themselves has been done through hard and faithful work and for this reason have been able to keep the confidence of the people. "Eight Bells" will be a startling revelation in stage craft. John F. Byrne has invented a number of new and surprising tricks, which mystify the audience. The scenery is surprisingly beautiful. The last act has been rewritten, making it more complete in plot and detail. The supporting company is a superior one.

Nothing Heard of Him.
Nothing has yet been heard of found of George La Fayette, the employee at Stevens' mill on Garfield avenue, who so mysteriously and suddenly disappeared last Saturday. Mr. Stevens, as soon as the man was missed, notified the patrolman on that beat, supposing that he would report it and that a further notice to the police department was unnecessary. It seems that in some way the report of the officer never reached headquarters, hence the lack of all knowledge of the matter in that direction.

A Good Thing and Nothing to Pay.
Just see what Dr. Greene offers to do for all weak and suffering people. He is the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. His unparalleled offer to consult with anyone, free of charge, by letter corresponds, is doing wonderful good. If you have any complaint which you do not thoroughly understand, and which you would like cured, write the doctor a letter stating just how you feel and what symptoms trouble you. He will answer it, giving a complete description of your case, explaining the meaning of every symptom, and telling how you can surely get well and strong. He gives most careful attention to each letter, and explains your case so thoroughly that you understand exactly what ails you. All this costs you nothing, you have no doctor's fees to pay, and you don't have to leave your home. The doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and they nearly always get well. He is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Write to him at his office, 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city, and you will undoubtedly be made strong and well.

OUR SOCIAL SYSTEM.

Professor Herron Gave It His Attention in His Lecture at Pilgrim Church Last Evening.

The Competitive Industrial System Grinds Down the Many and Enriches the Few, He Claims.

Social Revolution is Sure to Come, and He Called on Christians to be the Leaders.

Professor George Herron, of Iowa college, delivered the last of his series of lectures at the Pilgrim Congregational church last evening. The church was filled, every seat being taken, and the audience was thoroughly interested. Professor Herron is not a graphic nor magnetic talker, and has a hesitating way of speaking at times which is not particularly pleasing, but his thoughts and ideas are sufficient to hold the interest of his audience. They give evidence of deep study and clear, conscientious conviction.

His subject last evening was "The Christian Realization of Democracy," and as his discourse touched greatly upon the politics of the country it was especially interesting. Some of the great moneyed kings of the world, like the Rothschilds, Rockefellers, the Vanderbilts, Carnegies and others, would have enjoyed hearing Professor Herron. He attacked the social system which permits the few to grow rich at the expense of the many; that allows one man to have an income of several millions each year while another cannot get enough to feed his family. The government is fast falling into the hands of great corporations and they are controlling its legislation. England is today more democratically governed than we, in spite of its house of lords. Every phase of opinion in the world is represented in parliament. We must have such representation or we will be in the hands of an oligarchy. A representative system by which the will of the people shall be actuated directly. Democracy only begins the work when it becomes political, it must be social, too. Political freedom can only come through industrial freedom.

The Competitive System.
The assumption that competition is the law of life is the great mistake of our social and economic system. Christianity and competition cannot live in the same world. Competition has been much of the struggle of life, but not law. There is no law of competition, for the assertion that competition is the law of development. In nature it is the cooperative plants and animals that thrive; the result of competition is the destruction of the many and the enrichment of the few.

The independent wage-earner is today less sure of earning bread for his family than was the feudal slave. His life is to persist that thrift and integrity will guarantee a man against loss of employment or the starvation of his family. The fiercer will where the competitive industrial system exists. With great industries striving against each other and each man striving to get ahead, the chance is there for individual development? Were it not for the pathos of life it would be indeed a divine comedy to look down on this great army of competition and see what opportunity is presented for individual development.

They claim wages have increased in the last forty years, but the price of necessities has increased ten times as much. Wages have not increased. Forty years ago each laborer owned his cow, his horse, his pig and in the majority of cases his home. How is it now? He owns none and has to pay street car fare, and innumerable expenses that bring his wages far below what they were forty years ago.

This competitive system dwarfs the minds of successful and unsuccessful alike. It is not virtue, but absence of conscience which wins. What is necessary to succeed? To outwit your neighbor, that is the way to live. The editor of a religious paper recently wrote to Rockefeller, Wanamaker and others asking articles on the question of "Christianity Pay in Business?" Of course they all answered that it did, that it pays to be honest and so on. Yet those men who wrote those answers were men of high Christian character and they have of political economy on the moon. The most powerful men of society today are the parasites—men who produce nothing, but corner the products and manipulate them to their own advantage.

Ownership of Railroads.
Professor Herron finds one of the great evils of the day in land speculation. It kills cities and ruins people. Land was made to use, to be productive, not to speculate in. The question of government ownership of railroads is at present settled by the railway ownership of the government. [Applause.] The railway system of the country cost less than one-tenth of the amount of capital upon which the people are forced to pay the interest and even then they are mismanaged for today there is no place where good common sense is so badly needed as in the management of railroads. The wealthy people have obtained their wealth through legislative gifts. When the congress of '94 and the vagabonds who stood on the steps of the capitol clamored for legislation as was their right, stand before the bar of judgment! I beg to be classed with the vagabonds, said the speaker. The filling up of lands with people by the government on the same principle as European nations support their standing armies would remove a great deal of social disorder. Cooperation is what is wanted, human worth in dollars. The earning of a living ought to be a secondary thing in this great country. The whole movement is toward monopoly and the hope of the people is taking monopoly into their own hands. The people do not need to wait for capital to come to terms. Cooperation is what is wanted and will solve the problems. There is a crisis coming whether we want it or not. A revolution of the social system is bound to come. The question is will the intelligent Christians go out

IN 44 STATES.

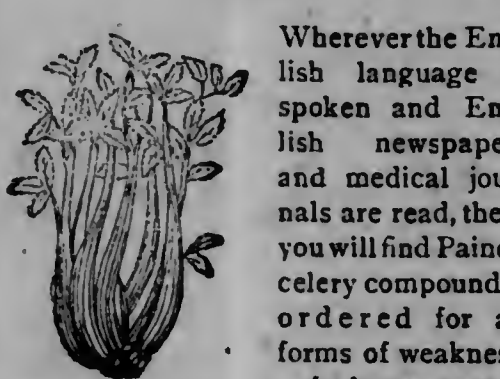

IN EACH CITY, TOWN AND SMALLEST VILLAGE

Paine's Celery Compound is Making People Well.

Its Wide Use Today Over Three Continents.

'Tis the One Undisputed Remedy that Cures.

Ordered by Physicians Wherever One Practices.

Wherever the English language is spoken and English newspapers and medical journals are read, there you will find Paine's celery compound is ordered for all forms of weakness.

At home, as well as abroad, throughout the United States, in every state, city and village the one undisputed, strongly commended, unfailing remedy for the spring is Paine's celery compound. As a nerve strengthener and regulator, blood purifier and bodily invigorator there is nothing that bears any relation or at all resembles or in any measure equals Paine's celery compound.

It stands by itself, unrelated to any sarsaparilla, nerve or tonic the world has ever known, and as far superior to them as the diamond is to ordinary glass. Its discovery by Professor Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., in the laboratory of Dartmouth medical school was as noteworthy an event in medicine, as the wonderful cures it has effected have been remarkable.

Where everything else fails, Paine's celery compound cures! Try it!

and lead that revolution or will the anarchists and the dangerous element control.

Professor Herron made a plea for the triumph and ascendancy of the Christian spirit. His lecture he called "The Transmutation of the Christ's Gospel into Industrial Language." He saw in organized labor one of the great factors which will assist in the solution of present disorders and he expressed the belief that the Christian spirit and the teachings of the Saviour are the guidance of the trades assemblies.

A DISTINGUISHED GUEST.

Masonic Fraternity is Entertaining Secretary General Frederick Webber.

Frederick Webber, secretary general of the Southern jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masons, arrived in the city from Fargo, and is the guest of T. W. Hugo.

Last night Mr. Webber was entertained by the commandery at the Masonic temple, work in the Red Cross degree being exemplified by a class consisting of Messrs. A. A. Farrington, Vent Bridgeman, McGregor and John Coventry. A banquet followed at which a number of members spoke.

Tonight W. E. Richardson will entertain Mr. Webber and the members of the knights commandery of the court of honor. The morning and afternoon were devoted to business and the evening session to a description of the different countries in which mission work is being done. Young ladies dressed in the national costumes of Turkey, Syria, China, South America, India, Japan and Africa, occupied the stage and a large number of curios were exhibited. Miss Rebecca McKenize and Miss Addie Hackett rendered solos and the entire session was a great success.

The following officers were elected for the following year: Mrs. W. S. Albertson, president; Mrs. T. G. Findlay, first vice president; Mrs. Hackett, second vice president; Mrs. S. A. Jamison, third vice president; Mrs. S. H. Boyington, fourth vice president; Mrs. George Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. H. I. Carver, corresponding secretary; Mrs. I. T. Waugh, treasurer; Miss Agnes Gibson, contingent fund treasurer; Mrs. Susan Hatch, literary secretary and Mrs. Sample, young people's secretary.

The Superiors Defeated.
The Zenith Polo club defeated the Superior club in a lively game at Endion rink last night by a score of 2 goals to 1. The Zeniths scored the first goal in eight minutes. Superior followed with another goal and the Zeniths made the deciding goal in twelve minutes. This is the second time the Zeniths have defeated the Superiors and this game probably winds up the polo season for this year.

I used Ely's cream balm for catarrh and have received great benefit. I believe it a safe and certain cure. Very pleasant to take.—Wm. Frazer, Rochester, N. Y.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

THE BENEFIT CONCERT.

Large Audience Heard a Fine Program at the Bethel Last Evening.

The benefit concert at the Bethel last evening arranged by Mrs. J. N. McKindley drew a large audience. It was given for Miss Julia Johnson, a talented young pianist. Miss Johnson played Kieblau's "Sonatina" and exhibited considerable skill and musical taste. Mrs. McKindley considers her a very promising musician. Her performance was encored. Mrs. d'Aumont gave recitations which were very pleasing to the audience and were warmly encored. Her numbers were two scenes from "As You Like It" and "Grandma at the Masquerade."

Miss Collins and Mr. Murphy sang a duet from "Rob Roy" and in response to an encore, one from the "Fencing Master." Miss Farrell sang two numbers one of them being Clay's "I'll Sing Three Songs of Andy" and was encored. Mr. Shirk and Mr. Jones also gave numbers and received encores. A quartet number by Miss Collins, Miss Moak, Mr. Jones and Mr. Murphy was excellently sung. The entire concert was quite successful both from a musical and financial standpoint.

The Modern Way
Commends itself to the well informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs.

John Rustad will speak on the government ownership of railroads at the Central Populist club this evening. Among other speakers will be a well known citizen who personally made quite an extended study of that subject when in Germany a couple of years ago. Thousands of cases of rheumatism have been cured by Hood's sarsaparilla. This is abundant reason for belief that it will cure you.

THEY ATTACK THE LAW

Several Owners of West Duluth Property Claim Their Assessments for Improvements Were Illegally Made.

They Allege That the Law of 1891 Under Which They Were Made Is Unconstitutional.

Ground on Which This Sweeping Allegation Is Made Is Not Disclosed in the Answer.

An important legal question is being raised by West Duluth and Onondaga property owners which attacks the legality of all assessments for local improvement levied by the village of West Duluth up to the time of its consolidation with the city. The matter of the enforcement of taxes becoming delinquent Jan. 1, 1895, has brought out the question for the first time. Twelve answers were filed this morning by West Duluth property owners through Agatin, Davidson & Carey, each of which is similar in its allegations.

The general taxes are admitted in each instance, but objection is made to all assessments levied by the village for the improvement of streets and avenues on the ground that there is no valid statute authorizing the village to levy assessments for local improvement. It is alleged that chapter 146 of the laws of 1891 is void and unconstitutional, and that the village never had the power to levy assessments.

Chapter 146 is entitled "an act relating to villages of 300 inhabitants and over and providing for a municipal court therein," and provides that villages of that description shall have all the power generally possessed by municipal corporations including the power of making improvements and levying assessments therefor.

The grounds on which these property owners attack the constitutionality of the act is not given in the answers, and the attorneys refuse to state them at present, but they assert that they have good grounds, and that they are confident of knocking out the statute. If so, it will be a matter of great inconvenience to the city of Duluth, as all assessments made by the village of West Duluth will be held to be illegal. The same thing will apply to all assessments made by any village in the state under the same law.

Following are the property owners who have set up this defense: H. W. Wheeler, E. P. Lowe, A. M. Stearns, G. L. Raymond, B. H. Wisdom, E. D. Field, Henry Martin, F. O. Harris, Northwestern Loan and Investment company, Edward Ward, E. W. Markell and Herman Burg. Others will probably follow.

A default judgment for $792.21 has been filed in favor of E. M. Gordon against J. H. Brigham. The First National bank, of Syracuse, has sued Traphagen & Fitzpatrick for $500 on a note. The First National bank, of Montrose, Pa., has secured judgment for $1534.45 against J. W. Norison on a note.

Judge Moor has filed findings in the case of Stryker, Manley & Buck against J. K. Shaw et al for $150 for the plaintiff on a note.

Are Again in Evidence. Spring is here. There is not a doubt of it for the little Italian bootblacks have again made their appearance. When cold weather comes in the fall they disappear completely, but as soon as the warm days arrive in the spring they swarm out again and are almost as thick as the sparrows being almost as much of a nuisance as well. Likewise the fruit wagons have again appeared on the street and everything indicates the continuance of the warm weather.

Before Judge Moor this morning the case of L. H. Grieser and Wallace Warner against the American Loan and Trust company was argued, and Judge Moor ordered judgment for the trust company. The case of H. P. Barbour against J. H. Upham et al, was continued until Wednesday, March 27, for argument.

BRIDGE WANTED.

Mr. Cant Asks a State Appropriation of $15,000 for an Iron Bridge at Fond du Lac.

The Sheehan Home Rule Bill Passed by the Senate With Only One Dissenting Vote.

Senator Stebbins Has a Bill for Ten Years' Aid for Smelting Minnesota Iron Ores.

An Investigation Ordered Whether the Road Companies Are Holding Taxable Lands Free From Taxation.

St. Paul, March 21.—The house was ready for work at 9:30 this morning and soon disposed of the usual petitions. Few committees were ready to report. The committee on elections reported S. F. 40 relating to election districts, to pass as amended. H. F. 441, the Staples primary musical education for teachers' bill, which had been defeated, was reconsidered. Introduction of bills was reached before 10 o'clock, the following being introduced:

A. E. Kelly, to amend general laws 1879, relating to establishment of free public libraries and reading rooms. Education.

Mr. Craig, by request, to regulate practice of veterinary medicine and surgery. Agriculture.

Mr. Downs, licensing newsboys under 18 years of age. Municipal legislation.

Mr. Cant, to appropriate $15,000 for an iron bridge across the St. Louis river at or near Fond du Lac as a part of the state highway known as the military road. Said bridge to be built according to plans approved by the secretary of war and to be forever free from toll.

Mr. Parker, by request, providing that town supervisors may designate the place for depositing township funds. Banking.

Mr. Mellicke, to appropriate money for reimbursement of several persons massacred by Indians in Jackson county on Aug. 22, 1862. Appropriations.

Mr. Torson, to authorize compensation by county commissioners to persons who have in good faith relieved non-resident paupers. Towns and counties.

Mr. Robbins, to prescribe and limit liabilities of mortgagees for purchase money on real estate. Judiciary.

Mr. Robbins, to appropriate $1400 for supreme court contingency expenses. Appropriations.

Mr. Johns, to authorize state treasurer to cover into the general revenue fund a certificate for $400 that was appropriated in 1879, but had not been paid because the beneficiary had died leaving no heirs. The bill was given its second reading and will be called up for passage later.

Mr. Baston, to provide for sanitary regulation of bakeries. Public health.

Mr. McInnis, to authorize the extension of time of payment of local improvement assessments. Judiciary.

Mr. Zier, providing for assistants in the office of public examiner and making the appropriation therefor. Judiciary.

Mr. Littleton, to provide for sewer and street paving assessments on property benefited. Judiciary.

J. M. Smith, legalizing official certificates of sale and the records thereof. Judiciary.

Mr. Dahl, to amend general laws 1878 regarding redemption from mortgage foreclosure sales. Judiciary.

Mr. Gunn, from the committee on logs and lumber, S. F. 500, to amend general laws 1878, logs and lumber to pass.

The house then went into committee of the whole, Dr. Zier presiding, for the consideration of general orders. The bill for the encouragement of payment of back taxes, which was introduced jointly by Representatives Cant and Douglas, was discussed at much length, considerable opposition developing. The bill was amended so as to prevent land speculators from taking advantage of it. Mr. Cant spoke at some length in support of the bill, urging the necessity of some such measure for the good of taxpayers and counties alike. The bill was finally recommended to pass. A recess was then taken until 2 o'clock.

DOINGS OF THE SENATE.
The Sheehan Home Rule Bill Passed Almost Unanimously.

St. Paul, March 21.—The senate this morning passed the Sheehan home rule bill, which was recommended for passage by the committee of the whole last night. The following bills were introduced:

Senator Stevens, proposing a constitutional amendment relating to taxation. Taxes and tax laws.

Senator Schaller, to amend statutes of 1878 relating to powers of district court. Judiciary.

Senator Spencer, authorizing an extension of time of payment for local improvement in cities. Judiciary.

Senator Stevens, to regulate the payment of grand and petit jurors, and make the same uniform throughout the state. Judiciary.

Senator Potgesier, to protect the health of citizens by requiring all dealers, wholesale or retail, in fresh meat of all kinds, or in fish, fowl or game for human food, or family use, to protect the same from dust, flies and other deleterious insects, while being shipped. Public health.

Senator Lloyd, to compel railroad companies to report to the railway and warehouse commissioners the salaries paid their officers, directors and managers. Public health.

Senator Stebbins, proposing an amendment to section 9, article 9, of the constitution, authorizing the legislature for ten years to aid and encourage the smelting and reducing of Minnesota iron ores. Judiciary.

Senator Peterson, to amend the laws of 1875, authorizing the formation of town insurance companies. Insurance.

Senator McHale, to provide for the enumeration of the inhabitants of the state. Given its second reading and placed on general orders.

Senator Sheehan called up S. F. 189, the home rule bill, just prior to the noon recess, and asked that it be put on its final passage. This was agreed to, but before the roll was called Senator Schaller attached an amendment providing that before any city shall incorporate under the act, the legislature shall pass a general law prescribing the general limits under which the charter shall be drawn.

There was no doubt about the passage of the bill. Senator Howard was the only one to vote no. Senator W. W. Man voting for the bill after the Schaller amendment was adopted. The vote was 45 to 1 in favor of the final passage. The senators absent or not voting were: Fuller, Henenman, Keller, Lloyd, Ozmun, Sperry, Young.

A report from the university committee on the state university was made. The committee recommended for indefinite postponement Senator Roverud's bill, S. F. 463, which makes diplomas of the medical department at the state university certificates to practice medicine in this state.

In other words, an examination before a state medical board was rendered unnecessary. Although there was decided opposition to the bill, it was placed on general orders by courtesy.

Senator Knatvold offered the following resolution, which is self explanatory and which was adopted without opposition: Resolved, that a special committee of five be appointed by the president of the senate to investigate and report whether any, and, if so, what railroad companies owning or operating lines in this state or holding title to lands therein are now holding such lands, either in their own name or otherwise free from direct taxation, which under existing laws are subject to such taxation, and to what extent and what, if any, steps are necessary or expedient to subject such lands to such taxation, and to make full report of the result of such investigation in all other respects. That such committee be and is hereby authorized to employ a stenographer and clerk, and to send for persons and papers and take all other steps necessary to fully carry into effect the purpose of this act.

It is understood that the purpose of the resolution is to aid in carrying out the intent of the Anderson bill. President Day appointed as the investigating committee Senators Knatvold, Stockton, Schaller, Stevens and Morgan.

ENTREATED TO BE SHOT
Maj. Seward Begged President Dole to Have Him Shot Rather Than Kept in Prison.

New York, March 21.—A special from Honolulu says: The captives are ended and over 300 political prisoners have been sentenced to terms of imprisonment in the penitentiary, and fully 100 others have either been banished or released on parole. There will be no capital executions.

This American prisoner, Seward, after having received his thirty-five years' sentence to the penitentiary, made a piteous and pathetic appeal to President Dole.

Upon behalf of Maj. Seward and at his request, Joaquin Miller undertook to carry to President Dole a message asking clemency. Its substance was an entreaty that Seward be taken out and shot rather than be kept in prison. When this message was delivered to President Dole he was startled some.

He is a man of imposing presence and courteous and kind to a degree. He has been in the penitentiary since that Seward insisted upon being shot, the president think there is a man in that prison who is as good as dead. Seward, a political criminal who will have to serve out his sentence, if he does what is right. We have done what we considered best for them."

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW.
Some Sales of Lake Superior Ores Are Expected Before the Close of the Month.

CLEVELAND, March 21.—The Iron Trade Review this week will say: "The important events of the week to the iron trade have been the announcement of an advance in coke workers' wages, with a prompt strengthening of the market for Bessemer pig, and the beginning of negotiations that in all probability will result in sales of Lake Superior ores before the close of the month."

"An announcement of coke prices has been made as yet, but the fact that in a few cases April coke was contracted for a short time ago, on the basis of 2 cents advance over existing prices for every cent advance in mining, leads to the belief that the advance will be very close to 25 cents. Some operators, however, have been asking a three to one rate in providing against a wage advance. This would mean an additional 35 cents on a ton of coke."

"Furnance men have covered in part on sales of Bessemer pig for delivery after April 1 by accumulating coke at the low prices prevailing, and at most valley furnaces, moreover, there are good stocks of Bessemer iron. The Bessemer pig iron market responded promptly to the announcement concerning coke."

Costly Fire in New Orleans.
New Orleans, March 21.—A fire in Yards Nos. 1 and 2 of the International Cotton Press at Gainie and South Peters street which broke out at 3 o'clock and was not extinguished until 10:30 this forenoon, burned down 15,000 and 20,000 bales of cotton. Loss $250,000.

JUDGE SPRINGER

Ex-Congressman William M. Springer, of Illinois, Made a Federal Judge for the Indian Territory.

C. B. Kilgore, of Texas, Another of the Defeated, Given a Judgeship in the Same Territory.

They Are Newly Created Offices to Check the Great Growth of Crime and Lawlessness.

Their Courage Will Be Taxed in Dealing With the Lawless Element in That Region.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The following appointments were announced at the White House today: William H. Springer, of Illinois, judge of the United States court of the Northern district of the Indian territory; Constantine Buckley Kilgore, of Texas, judge of the United States court of the Southern district of the Indian territory.

To be marshals of the United States: Samuel M. Rutherford, of the Indian territory, for the Northern district of the Indian territory; Lucien L. Stowe, of the Indian territory, for the Southern district of the Indian territory.

To be attorneys of the United States: James V. Walker, for the Central district of the Indian territory; Andrew C. Bruce, of the Indian territory, for the Southern district of the Indian territory.

The two Indian territory judgeships are newly created offices established by an act of the last congress framed for the purpose of checking in a measure the great spread and growth of lawlessness and crime in the Indian territory, which had become a refuge of robbers and outlaws. The new judges are well known to the congress and have been serving in the house of representatives for many years and having taken a prominent part in debates as one of the Democratic leaders.

He was chairman of the banking and currency committee in the last congress and of the ways and means committee in the preceding congress. He has always kept up his legal reading and has been counsel before the United States supreme court in many cases during his congressional career. Soon after his defeat for congress in the landslide of the last election, he was rendered the supreme court practice of one of the principal granger roads and had its acceptance under advisement for some time. He owns a house in Washington and is fairly well to do.

Judge Kilgore had served in the last four congresses and had attracted a great deal of attention by reason of his vigorous personality and frequent objections to various bills. He is a Georgian by birth and 60 years of age. He served in the late war and his courage is it is believed would make him useful in dealing with the lawless element who must be tried in the Indian territory courts.

PEACE IS NOT PROBABLE
Military Men Are the Dominant Power in Japan and Bent Upon Continuing the Campaign.

YOKOHAMA, March 21.—It is expected that the negotiations for peace between China and Japan will not be successful. The army is the dominant power in Japan, and the military men are bent upon continuing the campaign. Fresh troops are being hurried forward.

In the house of representatives notice has been given of a motion declaring that the time for peace negotiations has not arrived.

RESULTED IN A DRAW.
Hard Battle Between Tom Murray and George Curtis at Grand Rapids.
George Curtis, of West Superior, and Tom Murray, of Grand Rapids, fought a 15-round draw at Grand Rapids last night that was as pretty a fight as has been pulled off hereabouts in some time. Curtis is always in good condition and Murray was much finer than when he fought Curtis in Duluth some time ago. Curtis put up one of the best fights he ever made, and he found it necessary to use all his skill to keep away from Murray's pile driver swings with his right. In the third round Curtis received a stinging clip from Murray's right planted on his neck, and it took him till the eighth round to fully recover. Murray did most of the offensive fighting, and a less wary man than Curtis would have been wiped out early in the fight by Murray's wicked right. As it was, Curtis held his end up well, and the decision of Referee Billy Lawrence calling the fight a draw was acknowledged to be fair.

Has Appeared.—SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The Examiner announces the discovery of a granddaughter of James G. Fair, who may play an important part in the litigation over the late millionaire's estate. The child is about 5 years of age. She is the daughter of the ex-testator's eldest son, and Mary Ellen Lannaman, who, it is asserted, was probably married to him in 1890. The child was left at an orphan asylum and was adopted by Mrs. Charles Gregory. It is believed that the discovery of the child's existence has compelled the ex-testator to insert the clause in his will relative to the claims of illegitimate children, which reads: "I do not recognize children of my son's."

District Attorney Foote says there is no law under which he could be convicted, and consequently he will not prosecute. However, an indictment seems probable, however, that the grand jury will insist upon indicting the railroad president.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Daniel Falconer, the Old Jeweler, Was Released Yesterday From the Jail Having Served His Sentence.

He Is Preparing to Resume His Jewelry Business at the Same Place as Before.

His Wife Is Ill but Insists That She Will Decline Her Rights Upon Her Recovery.

Daniel Falconer, the jeweler, has served his 60-day sentence at the county jail and was yesterday engaged in scrubbing up his windows and making preparations to resume business at the old stand. The girl with whom he eloped from Scotland was in his company and it is presumed that she has again assumed the position of housekeeper. During his absence, his wife, who, it will be remembered, came here all the way from Scotland and through whose complaint he was arrested and sentenced, broke into the building which serves as a place of business and home and took possession under her marital rights. She did not stay here, however, and is at the present time sick at the house of a friend.

The old gentleman states that he will prosecute her for breaking into the building. The wife on the other hand says that as soon as she recovers she will take her rightful place at the foot of the household table in spite of the old man and the other woman in the case.

The Missabe & Northern engineer visited West Duluth again yesterday to investigate the Central avenue crossing.

M. Jacoby has gone to his old home at Wabasha on business.

Peter Gilley is making preparations to build on his lot on Central avenue adjoining his present building.

The companies, one of girls and one of boys, are now drilling regularly for the competitive drill to take place some time next month.

THAT BLACK EYE.
Amos Shepherd fixes his Reason and You May Take Your Choice.

Under Sheriff Amos Shepherd came down to work this morning with a beautiful discoloration of variegated hues surrounding his left eye. His fellow officers of the law, as is usual in such cases, professed much sympathy in a satirical way, and also a great curiosity as to the cause thereof. In response to what appeared to be a genuine public demand for information Amos typewrote the following list of excuses, labeled, "Take Your Choice." They may be found useful in any other similar circumstances:

"Spitting wood; stove pipe fell; ran against closet door; tripped on sidewalk; lamp exploded; slipped on banana peel; thrown by sudden starting of street car; domestic altercation; assault at Finner's; ran against bigger man; riding a bicycle; riding a Hibbardian goat; riding an A. P. A. goat; riding my favorite Jersey cow; discussing 'Coin's Financial School' with a Populist."

THE INITIAL TRIP.
Record Tackled the Ice in the Lake Found 'H' Hard.

The Inman tug Record forced her way out of an ice-locked slip this morning and with a party consisting of Capt. and Mrs. B. B. Inman, H. C. Inman, C. W. Culver, Capt. Christy, John P. Gordon and others on board, took a trip out through the canal to try the ice in the lake. The current through the canal has softened the ice for quite a distance, and no trouble was experienced in getting through that part. But beyond the ice is still as hard and solid apparently as it was in the latter of the winter.

The Record went into the ice far enough to determine this, and then returned. The ice beyond is twelve or fifteen inches in depth, and does not appear to be honeycombed in the least. In the bay, however, the tug cut a wide swath, and her forefoot pushed the ice away as though it were paper.

Mrs. NANNIE GOLDMAN, of Duluth, Minn., writes as follows:
"For about eight or ten years my father, Col. T. U. Foor, of Wood Point, Ia., was laid up with carbuncles, the worst that I ever saw. He tried everything he heard of, but doctor could do nothing for him. He got so weak and suffered so much he could not walk. In 1872 he had a child in the middle of his room and he was so weak he could not get up. One expected him to die. He saw Dr. J. C. R. M. Hunter's advertisement for all blood diseases. Before he had taken a bottle of 'Discovery' he was better. Two bottles cured him. He is now 78 years old, and enjoys good health."

WHEAT ONE CENT LOWER.

The Market Was Weak and Declining Throughout the Session.

Wheat started with a show of strength today but soon became weak and declined steadily with slow trading, the total decline being 1c from yesterday's close. Cables came dull and easier and there seemed to be a probability of a small decrease in the visible supply next week, if not an actual increase. Alleviation from the Northwest was that deliveries during the next two weeks would be exceptionally large. Some of the agricultural journals which make a specialty of crop statistics published reports this morning claiming nearly twice as much wheat in January hands as he reported by Statistician Robinson. Then the general feeling was that prices were too high and that there was nothing to justify the recent advance. May started at 95c, declined to 94c by 11 o'clock, reacted 1c and sold down to 93c near the close. Trading in cash stuff was not very active. The bulk took about 10,000 bus No. 1 hard at 92c over May, and this constituted all the cash business. The close was 1c lower all round than yesterday, as follows:

The Monetary Conference.
The German council of state has adopted a resolution favoring the holding, under Germany's auspices, of an international monetary conference, and it is thought that this action, following upon that of the reichstag, makes certain the calling of the conference at an early date. That this will be done is made more probable by the statement that the council of state took the matter under consideration at the instance of Chancellor Hohenlohe.

A dispatch from Berlin to the New York Herald says that France has already been quietly sounded and has given Germany assurance of her willingness to co-operate in settling the silver question. As the co-operation of France is of the first importance, the Baltimore Sun expresses the opinion that it is a favorable omen that her help is assured even before the conference assemblies. At the last international conference M. Tirard, the French delegate, threw cold water on proposals for the increased use of silver, but since then many things have happened to cause all countries to reconsider their monetary policy. To what extent French statesmen have altered their point of view is shown in the recent declarations of Prime Minister Ribot in the chamber of deputies in reply to M. Fougere's plea for bimetalism as a means of doubling the price of French wheat and other agricultural products.

M. Ribot conceded that Germany's demoralization of silver in 1873 had caused disaster, but contended that the present agricultural crisis could not be attributed wholly to the general suspension of the coinage of silver. Many causes have in the last twenty years contributed to lower the prices of all commodities. But he was ready to admit that the abandonment of bimetalism had given the industrial crisis a graver character than it would have otherwise possessed.

In deciding upon a remedy for the existing state of affairs, Premier Ribot has a definite opinion which may be commended to impatient silver men, who wish the United States to go in for the free coinage of silver without regard to the action of other countries. The remedy, said the premier, is out of the power of any one country. If France attempts alone to settle the question of bimetalism, she would have to pay all the cost of the solution. There are indications abroad, he said, of a growing feeling in favor of bimetalism, but he could not say at just what moment this progress would be sufficiently decisive to overpower the resisting forces, which are very great. France ought, however, to indicate in a marked manner that she desires to hasten the solution, and ought to assume an attitude which will encourage the movement of public opinion in other countries. The rehabilitation of silver, in short, could come about, he thought, only by international action, and France must be regarded as favoring such action.

There is promise in the present situation that the Berlin silver conference will be better managed than that at Brussels. The latter was too much given to the discussion of doctrines and personal views, whereas what is wanted is a program shaped with regard not only to what is desirable, but also with regard to what is practicable. The German foreign office has a record of success in international congresses and will doubtless, if it asks an international conference, be ready when it assembles with definite propositions, some of which will be clearly practicable and command assent.

The fight between Mayor Strong and the Platt forces in the New York legislature continues. Mayor Strong is represented by the police reform bill, framed by the citizens' committee. The Lexow committee will report two bills, one of which empowers the present police commissioners to reform the force, and in doing so they are not answerable to the mayor in any way. The Albany correspondent of the New York Herald says that in this measure are no provisions for participation by the mayor in reorganization. This is an apparent attempt to regulate this matter from Albany instead of endeavoring to satisfy the reform element in New York city, which elected Mayor Strong to his present position.

Pass the Sheehan Bill.

The senate late yesterday afternoon passed the Howard municipal charter bill. It also placed on final passage the Sheehan bill providing for home rule by cities. This leaves it optional with the cities, so far as the senate's action is concerned, to adopt the Howard charter or to prepare charters of their own under the Sheehan bill, providing that the Howard charter be not adopted at once by a three-fourths vote of the city council. This latter action would probably saddle the Howard charter upon a city for all time and would prevent any action being taken to frame a new charter under the Sheehan bill.

The Sheehan bill provides for a constitutional amendment to be voted on at the next state election, granting to cities full powers to regulate their own affairs, without the intervention of the legislature. This is the proper method of dealing with the question, and the cities can afford to wait two years for the privilege of framing their municipal government in the manner best suited to their peculiar conditions. In the meantime the Howard charter bill is not required. It is a wretched piece of municipal patchwork, a monstrosity which should not be permitted to live.

The house of representatives now has an opportunity to demonstrate its wisdom. Let it show itself wiser than the senate, by killing the Howard bill and passing the Sheehan home rule bill. It is manifestly impossible to pass a general charter law, that will be acceptable to all the cities in the state, or even to any two cities. The conditions in each city are different. What suits Minneapolis does not suit St. Paul, and provisions that are satisfactory to both the Twin Cities are decidedly unsatisfactory to Duluth. The Sheehan bill is the best and only solution of the problem.

Strikes in Austria.

Some very interesting statistics and facts relative to strikes in Austria are furnished to the state department in the shape of a report by Max Judd, United States consul general at Vienna. Perhaps the most significant fact to be found in his statement is the steady increase noted in the number of strikes in three years—from 1891 to 1893 inclusive. Mr. Judd says the Austrian strikes are similar in cause and effect to those taking place in the United States, and are accompanied by less violence and are more apt to have a semi-political character.

The Socialists, who are already an important political party in Germany, are gaining ground in Austria and it is the leaders of this party that in many cases instigate the demand for greater privileges. There is less violence because the police promptly check any lawless acts in the beginning, on the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, while the presence of a standing army of 350,000 men makes disorder so ineffective as to be almost ridiculous.

The most important concession made by the Austrian government to the agitation of the labor party is the law under which employers are obliged to continue the wages of their employees who are incapable of working on account of injuries or sickness. In the last year there were 101 strikes to obtain an increase in wages, seventeen of which were successful, forty-three partially successful, while forty-one failed completely. In twenty strikes against a reduction of wages, ten were successful.

France is becoming nearly as free as the United States in the matter of divorce, and that in an exceedingly large order. It is always difficult to get at French statistics up to date, but the following figures show the increase in French matrimonial infelicity: In five months of 1894 there were filed actions for 1773 divorces; 1885, 4640; 1886, 4581; 1887, 6605; 1888, 6247; 1889, 7075; 1890, 7456; 1891, 7455. Total, 45,822. Of these, 40,301 were successful, 2993 were rejected and the rest settled out of court.

Judge Ingraham, of New York, decides that a man can play billiards in private residences, out of sight and hearing of those in the community, without transgressing the Sunday law. This view, says the Boston Transcript, is the correct one. The laws for the observance of the Lord's day are no longer intended to keep men from sinning, but only to prevent them from infringing upon the rights of others who hold the day sacred.

Dr. Zier's bill requiring an analysis of every patent medicine sold in the state is an outrageous attempt to restrict or prevent altogether the sale of such medicines in Minnesota. The plea that the object is to protect the public from poisonous or injurious ingredients is a thin subterfuge. It is an attempt on the part of the medical fraternity to prevent the sale of patent medicines and thus compel the public to pay tribute to the doctors alone.

It is not generally known that a vote for nomination to the presidency has ever been given to a colored man, says the St. Louis Star-Sayings. This was the case with Fred Douglas at the Chicago Republican convention of 1883, when one vote was cast for him. He was sitting at the time with Mrs. Fred Grant, who cleverly remarked: "Mr. Douglas, you seem to be the dark horse of this convention."

sachusetts legislature are strongly for the nomination of Hon. Thomas B. Reed as their party's presidential candidate in 1896. A statement of their preferences of members, so far as they could be ascertained, exhibit a total of ninety-eight in favor of Reed, twenty-seven for McKinley, and ten members declared ex-President Harrison to be their first choice.

Chauncey Depew states in a public interview that, basing his judgment on such knowledge of the subject as was conveyed by the arguments of the opposing counsel, he is firmly convinced that the decision of the supreme court in the income tax case will be in favor of the constitutionality of the law. Mr. Depew is getting ready to pay his income tax.

The suggestion of Bishop McGillick that owners of lands in and around the city donate their use to poor families for the purpose of raising vegetables, etc., has struck a popular chord. The bishop has already received several offers of land, and the prospect is that the scheme will prove a success.

A Damaged Garmet.
Sweet Charity lingered where congress had been, And her mantle she struggled to spread o'er the scene; But the wisp was delictious in width and in length! The task was too great for her wit or her strength. For this mantle of Charity had, be it known, Been used till all threads bare and weak it had grown; And the rents here and there only served to reveal More plainly the faults it was sought to conceal. And Charity wept as she saw brought to view A and sugar job and a scandal or two, With many remarks much too warm to repeat. And a wreckage of promises sadly compromised. And she murmured, "I'll take lots of patching and glue. For this mantle is even given 'til wear." —Washington Star.

A Daily Hint from L'art de la Mode.

His New Strong. Carlton County Vidette: Senator Spencer's district contains about 225,000 acres of untaxed railway lands. In spite of this he had the nerve to say that the present condition of things was all right; that the railways were paying tax enough; that it would be a shame to tax their lands in this case. Yet this sapient senator sees no injustice in making the poor man pay good and heavy just as soon as he acquires a piece of the same land, and proceeds to do a little improvement on it. Senator Spencer don't require any nerve food.

Beauty and the Beast.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: They did not have any riots in New Orleans when General Butler was boss down there.

Lopped Off One Scandal.

Chicago Tribune: The legislature of South Dakota had the decency to refuse to amend the divorce laws of that state for the purpose of returning to the lax methods of a few years ago, which brought in so much revenue to the law-ymen and hotel keepers of a few cities. But the facilities for cheap and prompt sundering of marriage ties which South Dakota declines to grant have been furnished in abundant measure by the territory of Oklahoma. It has become the paradise of the divorce seekers.

A Discouraging Task.

Courier-Journal: The hope for Democracy lies not in clinging to the corpse of the Fifty-third congress, but in turning its back upon it and directing its efforts toward securing more competent and more faithful representatives of its principles and purposes.

Nothing Shoddy in This House.

Howard & Haynie

The Spectacle Extracts Tears. New York Sun: It is humiliating that a Democratic congress should find it necessary to apologize for its record by pointing to the record of a previous Republican congress.

Will Reveal Rascality.

Globe-Democrat: The suit of the government against the Stanford estate for the collection of debts due from the Central Pacific Railway company will probably not succeed, but it will at least serve to reveal the shameful way in which that great monopoly has abused its privileges and improved every opportunity of rascality.

THAT SUNDAY SCRAP

Officer Miller's Case for Assault and Battery Against Charles Musolf Is Assuming Unexpected Proportions.

Judge Edson Admitted That He Had Talked Too Much and Granted a Change of Venue.

Attorneys C. O. Baldwin and Ellsworth Benham Passed Some Warm Words and Blows Seemed Imminent.

The case of the City vs. Charles Musolf, which was taken up in municipal court yesterday afternoon assumed extensive and unexpected proportions. Musolf was charged by patrolman George P. Miller with assault and battery upon him in a saloon at No. 105 Garfield avenue on March 10, near 9 o'clock.

The saloon was filled up with roysterers and Mr. Miller went in to disperse them and close the place which was open on the Sabbath day, contrary to law. A fracas took place in which Miller was knocked senseless and also relieved of his club and star. The other day one Fisher was bound over to the grand jury for assault upon Miller. He then made complaint against Musolf, charging him with giving the knockout blow and the taking of the club and star. Yesterday afternoon the case was called before Judge Edson. C. O. Baldwin appeared for the defense and opened the proceedings by narrating a little history. He said that a complaint had been made against Musolf under the state law and that a jury trial was then demanded. Mr. Baldwin further said that the court, meaning Judge Edson, had expressed an opinion in the case—in fact that was the reason for asking a jury trial, and intimated that Assistant City Attorney Benham, being aware of the court's prejudice against the defendant, had dismissed the state case and drawn another complaint under the city ordinance, thereby taking away the defendant's right of a jury trial. The attorney for the defense said that the court had expressed itself as to the guilt of Musolf to him and said that he did not see how Judge Edson could consistently adjudicate the case.

Judge Edson cautioned the attorneys and Mr. Benham finished his statement in explanation of his action in the case and declared that the first case had been dismissed and one commenced under the ordinance to save the city the cost of a jury trial.

"Well," exclaimed Baldwin, "I must say that Mr. Benham showed a very degraded opinion of the rights of his fellow citizens to a jury trial, a right guaranteed them by the constitution of the United States.

He Talked Too Much. Mr. Baldwin finally closed his statement in explanation and defense and then Judge Edson said that he must admit that he had expressed an opinion as to the guilt of Musolf and admitted very frankly that he had learned a lesson to the effect that he must be more careful in "talking out of court." He said that, under the circumstances, it would be necessary to let the case be tried before Judge Boyle and so ordered it.

After Special Judge Boyle took the case, not a thing was done by the attorneys except fight over technicalities. Mr. Baldwin first moved to dismiss on the grounds that the number and title of the ordinance was not, considered cheap by our neighbors at 25c, sell here tomorrow at.....15c

After the city closed its case, Mr. Baldwin moved a dismissal on the grounds that the city had not proven its case; that Miller had no right in the saloon; that he was an assailant instead of an assailed; that Musolf was acting in self defense, and that no proof of a trespass on the part of the defendant had been proven.

"It is lawful to keep the saloons open from 1 to 7 p. m. on Sundays," declared Mr. Baldwin. "That law is made by the high councils of this city in opposition to all higher law. The policemen guard with a jealous eye the right of all favored by that law."

"When you know the police longer you will know them better," said he to Judge Boyle. "They arrest men, confine them in the county jail for twenty-four hours and then let them go without making complaint or complaint being made. They pull their clubs and hit people over the head with them and have very vague ideas as to the extent of their authority." Judge Boyle decided not to dismiss and the defense was taken up.

Musolf's Story of the Affair. Musolf, in his own defense, told a vigorous, decided story, which was not materially shaken on cross examination. He swore that just a few minutes before the trouble, Miller entered the back door, sat down in the wine room, gave three raps, ordered a whisky and asked Musolf to take something. He replied that he did his drinking at the bar. A few minutes later Miller came back, entered through the side door and when asked to have a drink, according to Musolf's story, replied that he had had enough and then told the crowd to get out. Musolf declared that he did not resist Miller; did not assault him; that he was bit in a manner that stunned and blinded him, and that when the effects of the blow had somewhat passed off he did the star and club in his hands. He remembered of catching the star as he fell, and expressed a belief that he grabbed the club when it was raised a second time to strike him.

After a searching cross-examination by Mr. Benham, Musolf was excused and the court was adjourned until 2 p. m.

Warm Discussion in the House Over the Dunn Bill and the Investigating Committee's Bill.

Public Lands Committee Reported Against the Dunn Bill and House Voted to Kill It.

The Staples Stumpage Bill Favorably Reported and Made a Special Order for Wednesday Afternoon.

A Substitute Bill Introduced in Place of the Warner State Mineral Land Agent Bill.

St. Paul, March 22.—The house quickly warmed up this morning, the pine land bills causing a lively discussion. The public lands committee reported the bills acted on by the joint session of the public lands committee. The state auditor's bill (H. F. 692) was adversely reported and the committee recommended that it pass as soon as the report for indefinite postponement had been read. J. D. Jones wanted both bills placed together and considered at the same time and made a motion to that effect.

Mr. Staples and Mr. Jacobson made vigorous arguments against the motion to give the state auditor's bill a place and hearing before the house. Mr. Staples maintained that Mr. Dunn had been given full opportunity to be heard, that the committee met with him for three hours and had heard all he wished to say. Mr. Jacobson insisted that the committee action was no aimed at State Auditor Dunn, but simply sought to save something for the state. The Staples or committee bill provided that only damaged timber could be cut and was in the interest of the state.

J. D. Jones insisted that the house should have a right to examine both bills, and as one of such he wanted to see the bills and consider them in committee of the whole.

Mr. Underhill agreed with Mr. Douglas in thinking the committee action should always be respected. C. A. Smith thought the action of the public lands committee was no much a reflection on Mr. Dunn as the action now proposed would be a reflection on that committee.

Mr. Holman explained that the only difference between the two bills was on the matter of method of sale.

Mr. Staples said the investigating committee's bill had been approved by the state auditor before it was introduced in all but one point, and was not tenacious on that point. The report of the committee to postpone the Dunn bill was then adopted, only eighteen voting to reverse the action of the committee.

The house concurred in the senate amendment to the Wright bill re-enacting part of the law relating to publication of the laws of Minnesota and passed the bill as amended.

The Staples stumpage bill, H. F. 255, was reported favorably and it was made a special order for Wednesday afternoon. Other committee reports were made and adopted as follows:

H. F. 332, by Mr. Staples, relating to mineral lands, resting to the state all timber rights on mineral lands, to pass. It was given a second reading and placed on calendar.

H. F. 629, duties of employers to employees, to pass. S. F. 3, struck by Mr. Underhill, relating to the state giving of bonds by contractors, to pass as amended; S. F. 91, authorizing creation of boards of directors in that measure, amended to pass; H. F. 485, by J. M. Smith, to establish free employment agencies, to pass; H. F. 610, to prevent fraudulent maturing of silverware, to pass.

H. F. 215, for relief of Gen. John H. Mullen, surveyor general, for expenses incurred to pass; H. F. 144, creating mineral land agent, substitute introduced and recommended; H. F. 520, to change the name of state reform school, to pass.

H. F. 528, amending laws relating to incorporation of villages, to pass as amended; H. F. 123, for sprinkling of streets, to pass; S. F. 423, conferring powers on villages relating to waterworks, to pass; H. F. 700, regulating registration of newboys and bootblacks, to pass; S. F. 554, relating to sale of decayed poultry, to pass; H. F. 584, for inspection of cows whose milk is used for human food, to be postponed.

The substitute bill introduced in place of the Warner state mineral land agent bill, makes several changes from the Warner bill. As proposed in that measure, the governor should appoint the mineral land commissioner, but the special committee's bill leaves the matter under the control of the state auditor. It makes changes in the existing law similar to those sought for in the Warner bill, the chief difference being that the auditor has charge instead of a new officer appointed by the governor.

The committee on drainage reported adversely several drainage bills and favorably reported the following: H. F. 261, to appropriate money for a ditch in Waseca county; H. F. 622, for the leasing of the state capitol lands in Kandiyohi county; H. F. 50, to amend general laws for drainage of lands.

Mr. Furlong introduced a bill proposing a constitutional amendment, allowing roads and bridges appropriations to the aggregate amount of $100,000.

Senate amendments on minor points to two house bills were concurred in and the bills as amended were passed. The governor notified the house that he received a check, when the Wright census bill was taken up as a special order.

MINNESOTA'S LOG CUT.

It Will be One-Fourth Larger Than Last Year.

Minneapolis, March 22.—Specialists to the Journal say that the log cut in the pine regions of Minnesota is about concluded, and that it is about one-fourth larger than last year's cut. This increase is largely due to the forest fires, which made it necessary to cut the logs this year in order to save them. The water in the water courses is not as high as ordinary at this season of the year, and the lumbermen are depending on a wet spring to permit easy driving. If that fails several million feet of logs will be hung up, with little chance of getting them to mill.

A RECEIVER NECESSARY.

Minneapolis Block Yards Company is in Financial Trouble.

Minneapolis, March 22.—Within a very few days the Minneapolis Block Yards and Paving company will be in the hands of a receiver. The company has already permitted a judgment of $146,583.88 to be entered against it. The Minneapolis courts disaster court. Early next week an action of foreclosure will be begun on a $500,000 trust deed, issued several years ago. It is claimed a receiver is necessary to straighten out the affairs of the company, which will subsequently be reorganized upon a stronger basis.

THE GAME COMMISSION.

Sam Fullerton, of Duluth, Was Elected Executive Agent.

St. Paul, March 22.—At a meeting of the state board of game and fish commissioners held at the capitol yesterday, the following officers were elected: President, W. S. Timberlake, St. Paul; vice president, William Bird, Fairmont; treasurer, A. F. Ferris, Brainerd; secretary, Fred Von Baumbach, Alexandria. S. F. Fullerton, of Duluth, who was appointed to succeed W. P. Andrus as a member of the commission, was elected executive agent.

SUICIDE BY SHOOTING.

A Blacksmith at St. Paul Took His Own Life Today.

St. Paul, March 22.—Franz Schleman, a blacksmith employed in the shops of the Great Northern road, suicided by shooting himself this morning in a box car in the Great Northern yards. His home is at 1236 McMenamy street, where he had a wife and nine children, all dependent upon his exertions for a living.

He had not been home since Saturday morning, when he was paid off. His friends say that while he was a hard worker, he was addicted to occasional good drinking, and that he believed that it was the relapse to one of these he shot himself. He was 49 years old.

ST. PAUL'S GREAT OFFER.

Proposal to Remove the State University to Come Park.

St. Paul, March 22.—The Dispatch this afternoon will say that the city of St. Paul, after the legal formalities have been complied with, will formally make an offer to the legislature of the state university. This offer will be backed by a bond of $100,000 from the city of St. Paul. The offer is for the site of the university to be located in Come Park, which is a beautiful site, and is well wooded and watered. The property itself is worth $4,000. This would make the offer of St. Paul to the state foot up to $5,000,000.

FIRE AT ST. CHARLES.

Winona, Minn., March 22.—There was a fire at St. Charles, twenty-five miles west of Winona, this morning. A request for aid was received here and at St. Charles a detachment of firemen with apparatus left for the scene of the conflagration. The loss was only $10,000.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Forus Falls, Minn., March 22.—Mrs. Jacob Hopola, Finlander, was burned to death last night while trying to burn some horses out of a burning log.

BALDWIN TURNED DOWN.

State Senator Keller Has Won in the Fight Over the Postmasterhip at Sauk Center.

Washington, March 22.—(Special to The Herald).—Postmaster General Bissell has turned down the recommendation of ex-Representative Baldwin for the re-appointment of C. C. Tobey as postmaster at Sauk Center, and today appointed V. O. P. Hildesdale to that place. It is rumored that the visit here of State Senator Keller had something to do with Hildesdale's selection. An original pension was today granted to Henry C. Watson, of Duluth, and a re-issue to William C. Tufts, of Fairhaven, Minn.

PAUCIN IN A CHICAGO FACTORY.

It Was Caused by the Clothing of a Girl Taking Fire.

Chicago, March 22.—Fire in the Square Match company's works at Union and Erie today caused a panic among the fifty girl employees. One was perhaps fatally burned and three others seriously injured by jumping from the windows. The injured are Annie Hans, Jennie Warner, Roy Tate and an unknown girl.

The injured were removed to a hospital, where it was said, all would recover, with the possible exception of Annie Hans, who caused the fire. She was opening a box of matches, which ignited, setting fire to her clothing. Rushing screaming through the factory, she scattered the burning matches about the place, setting the building on fire.

Dashing through a second story window, she fell to the pavement below, followed by a dozen of the terror-stricken girls. The remainder of the employees escaped by the stairways and fire escapes. The fire was extinguished with slight loss.

PRESIDENT MORSE TO RETIRE.

Chicago, March 22.—The Illinois Steel company is to have a new head before another month has gone by. President Morse, of the company, retires and ex-President Gates, of the Consolidated Iron and Steel company, will be elected to the vacancy. The reason given by Mr. Gates' particular adaptability for the work of the company.

Edward Fagerstein, an Old Man, Died Last Night After a Very Sudden and Brief Illness.Coroner Eklund Was Called in to Make an Examination Because of the Sudden Death.He Found That it Was Due Entirely to Failure of the Heart—Other News.Edward G. Fagerstein, an old man about 61 years of age living with a wife and son in a shanty just off from Ramsey street between Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth avenues, died suddenly last night about 10 o'clock. He had been as well as usual through the day and went to bed as usual and at the time named was suddenly taken with a violent illness. His wife hastily called a patrolman who summoned Dr. Graham, but the man expired just as the physician reached him.His sudden taking off looked rather suspicious and Coroner Eklund came up this morning to investigate. The doctor concluded that the man had died of heart failure and that no inquest was necessary. Dr. Graham stated this morning that he arrived too late to fully locate the trouble but that the quick and violent spasms looked a little suspicious as it betokened an unnatural death.

Bearing Good Results.

The results of the recent trip of the legislators to Duluth and the iron ranges are already beginning to appear. The information gained by them on their interesting trip is bearing fruit in the shape of the introduction of measures having in view the development of the interests of this section of the state. The St. Paul dispatches of The Herald yesterday stated that Senator Stebbins had introduced a bill having in view the encouragement of the smelting of Minnesota iron ores. The bill is for a constitutional amendment and it stands a very good show of being adopted by the legislature at an early date. It proposes to submit to the people whether the legislature shall be authorized to encourage the smelting and reducing in the state of Minnesota iron ore by appropriating money to the extent of one-half of the royalties on ores mined from state lands. This payment of bounty for home production is to be allowed from 1895 to 1905. Section 9 of the constitution, if amended according to Senator Stebbins' bill, would read:

Section 9. No money shall ever be paid out of the treasury of this state except in pursuance of an appropriation by law, but the legislature of this state is authorized from time to time and at any time during the ten years following the year 1895, to use and appropriate from its general funds, for the purpose of aiding and encouraging any person, company or corporation to smelt and reduce within the limits of the state of Minnesota any of the iron ores mined in said state, a sum of money equal in amount to one-half the amount received during said ten years by said state in royalties on ore taken under leases from state university or school lands, said money to be disbursed only on the basis of the actual output of such manufactured product."

The house mining committee yesterday recommended for passage a bill allowing a rebate of royalties on all iron ore from leased state land that is smelted within the limits of the state. No action was taken in the house on the bill yesterday, it being tabled for consideration at a future date, when Mr. Jacobson intends to offer amendments limiting the time during which the rebate shall be allowed and rebating only a part of the royalty. As between the two bills, the plan proposed by Senator Stebbins is the best. It would encourage the establishment of furnaces here to use Minnesota ore, irrespective of the mine from which the ore came. The house bill limits the advantage to ore taken from state lands, which would mean only one mine at present. The drawback to the Stebbins bill is that it will take over two years to give effect to its author's intentions. Probably the best plan is to pass both bills. The house bill would extend aid at present and could be repealed when the constitutional amendment proposed by Mr. Stebbins was adopted.

At the banquet given to the legislators at the Spaulding, Col. Gridley strongly urged legislation giving cities and villages power to exempt from taxation for a limited term of years, manufacturing plants located within their limits. The idea was heartily applauded. It appeared to meet the approval of the legislators. Senator Hiram F. Stevens, who spoke later in the evening, said that at a previous session of the legislature he introduced a bill having that object in view. It passed the senate but did not reach the house until late in the session and was not considered there. Senator Stevens yesterday introduced a similar bill for a constitutional amendment. It proposes to authorize cities to exempt from all taxation except for state and school purposes, manufacturing plants located in such cities. The exemption is not to cover plants worth more than $100,000 and is not to extend beyond 1917. This is a measure of great importance and there should be no question about its passage by the legislature.

All Favor Home Rule.

The Minneapolis Journal yesterday published opinions on the municipal charter bills from a dozen of the smaller cities of the state, as well as from Duluth, and the expressions of prominent citizens are almost unanimous in favor of home rule. The fact which was apparent during the discussion of the bill in the senate is repeatedly referred to in these expressions of opinion, namely, that legislation for the large cities does not always fit the smaller ones, and vice versa. The Journal says it may be that the popular demand for home rule is to be attributed in part to a disposition to take up with new ideas and fads, and, yet, the men who are quoted in these cities will be recognized as qualified to speak.

In discussing the passage by the senate of both the Howard charter bill and the Sheehan home rule bill, the Journal points out that but one serious objection to a general charter bill has been emphasized by this discussion in the legislature. It is apparent that any general charter law will be subject to amendment at every session of the legislature, and the conflicting interests of different communities will engage at every session in contests over amendments proposed by some and resisted by others, so that even if the charter in its present form should be acceptable in any particular case now, it might not be after the next session of the legislature.

This appears to the Journal to be one of the excellent reasons why we should get on the ground at once of allowing each city to construct its own charter and free it from interference by other communities anxious to take from or add to a general charter law, to the constant disturbance of the conditions existing in any particular city. It is altogether likely, the Journal thinks, that if Minneapolis is permitted, under the home rule plan, to construct her own charter, she will construct one very similar to that which bears Mr. Howard's name, and, having done so, she will then be free from the danger of amendments and changes at the instance of St. Paul, or Duluth, or some of the smaller cities. If Duluth is permitted to frame her own charter, she will certainly not follow the lines of the Howard bill and therefore the home rule idea finds favor here. The form of municipal government embodied in the Howard bill is objectionable in the highest degree. For some reason, Minneapolis appears to like it. St. Paul opposes it, and yet St. Paul would maintain a different form of municipal government from that favored in Duluth. Thus the impossibility of making a general charter to cover all the cities is apparent again. The Sheehan home rule bill supplies the key to the problem.

The dimensions of the "Tribby" furore have become as expansive as the land of the free, says the Boston Transcript. The novel itself rushes gaily along through edition after edition. Harper Brothers are turning out 2500 copies a day while trying to keep up with the demand upon them either. Everything is "Tribby" from new towns to fashions in ladies' collars, and people who were prepared to scoff at the idea of the dramatization of the novel are ready to own up that 'tis worthy of the book.

The excuse of the Spanish commander of the Conde that he did not mean to hit the Alliance, says a Boston paper, is not a bit like that of the Vermont woman who killed a neighbor's hen with a stone. She said she meant to "smother" the thing out of her garden; she did not know the stone could hit when she threw it. But the Alliance was much farther away than the hen, although the result is also much fuss and feathers.

Newspapers are discussing what the verdict of the United States supreme court on the income tax will be, and how it is likely to divide on the question. If the court decides the income tax a direct one, it will have to reverse a former decision in which the position was taken that the income tax of that day was not open to any such objection. A direct tax must be apportioned among the states according to populations.

Secretary Gresham, the New York Evening Post says, "has added to the other enemies of his career that of writing a dispatch to the American minister at Madrid on the Alliance affair without letting the newspaper men know anything about it, thus luring them into the belief that he was doing nothing, or worse than nothing, that is, trying to find out the other side of the case, which is worse than nothing."

The number of immigrants who came to our shores in 1894 was only a little more than one-half as many as arrived in the preceding year, the number for 1893 being 248,000, as against 488,776 in falling off as this since 1861, when the war caused a great decline in immigration, and no one will regret that the decline is so great.

picturesque figures in the city of brotherly love. Mr. Vaux clung to the customs of the past, and his dress was almost of the colonial type.

It is said in eating Napoleon the Great was apt to use his fingers instead of his fork, and always cleaned off a dish by soaking his bread in the sauce or gravy, turning the plate round and round in the operation. Now, says an exchange, when a man acts like a hog in eating he can excuse himself by saying that he is only imitating the prevailing Napoleonic craze.

Governor Hastings, of Pennsylvania, is reported to be entertaining "presidential aspirations." This is a pleasant amusement, and the governor has a perfect right to indulge in it. Certainly he is large enough to fill the office with credit to himself and the entire country.

Col. Bill King, of Minneapolis, has been talking to a reporter on the capitol question, and the Journal heads it: "The Story of a Hog." Bill will no doubt want heavy damages.

An Arrival at Billville.
The lower bound of the station.
The flag waves from the dome;
We're glad and glad to see you home!
Our congressman's come home!
The birds have gone to singin';
The white the mill ponds foam;
The cattle bells are ringin';
Our congressman's come home!

The weather's bright and sunny;
The bees are in the honey;
Both yoshies full o' money;
Our congressman's come home!

So, get the old rule ready;
The large are in the law;
He'll hold the plowstock steady;
Our congressman's come home!

With glory we'll keep him;
No more we'll let him roam;
We're all agoin' to keep him;
At home, at home, at home!

Stopped Poaching.
A Scotch gentleman plagued by poachers, procured a cork leg dressed in stocking and shoe, and sent it through the neighboring village by the town crier, who proclaimed that it had been found in a man trap on the previous night in Mr. Ross' grounds, who desired to return it to the owner. There was no more poaching after that.

Why He Drinks Vichy.
New Orleans Picayune: Amelie Rives Chandler's latest hero has a heart which on one occasion gave "a hot leap along his breast to his throat, leaving a fiery track behind, as of sparks." It is this that makes a dude rush into a soda drug store and ask for cold vichy. There is that within him that burns and must be put out.

Next to Duluth.
Princeton Union: St. Paul and Minneapolis are continually in a broil with one another. Their quarrels have no particular significance. They are both prospering. It is only a question of a decade or two until they will pity, endure and embrace, and become the great city of the Northwest next to Duluth.

New Woman's Preserver.
Cincinnati Tribune: She threw her round, white arms about his neck and kissed him full on the lips. "My preserver!" she murmured, cooingly. "I am glad you like them, dear," said the happy man. "Of course, I am not as expert as father was in preserving peaches, but a few more years of practice and I will improve." As she sat in the sitting-room, smoking her after-dinner cigar, she could hear him humming softly as he washed the evening dishes.

Method in Hospitality.
Grand Rapids Magnet: Duluth is not slow to see the advantage of having the legislature as its guests. There is good method in the Zenith City's hospitality. They want a normal school; they want some legislation on their extensive iron interests, so they invited both branches to come and be their guests and see for themselves what they wanted. And the probabilities are that Duluth and the range will come very near getting what they are after.

That Normal School.
Elk River Star-News: A bill passed the house last week locating another normal school at Duluth. It is not designed to build another one just at present, but the Duluth people want it there when it is built, and so far as the house is concerned they will get it, but the same bill was defeated in the senate, so there is not much prospect of the matter being settled at this session. If another normal should be decided upon, Duluth is undoubtedly entitled to it.

Brothers Byrne.
"Eight Bells" will be presented by Brothers Byrne, who have no peer on the pantomime stage, at the Temple to night. Brothers Byrne have completed the new material for this season's production and it is wonderful. There has been an outlay of over $15,000. They have left nothing undone and have undoubtedly the best and most complete pantomime comedy on the stage. Its take horses, trick wagon, rocking and and eventually revolving ship, its octopus, its sea monster, its sea serpent, its stage wonder, so true to nature is the rolling of the vessel that one can, without much stretch of the imagination, feel themselves on the ocean.

MAY BE REDUCED.

Probably That the Second Hand Store License Will be Cut Down.
Sometime ago the city council passed an ordinance compelling second hand stores to pay a yearly license of $50. Mr. Abramson was arrested for violation of the ordinance and a test case made. After a long legal battle, Judge Powell upheld the ordinance.

The second hand dealers in the meanwhile put in a petition saying that the $50 license in many cases was almost prohibitive and asking that it be reduced to $20 a year.

The aldermen have looked carefully into the matter and it seems as if $50 is more than the average second hand dealer can pay. There are about forty of these stores in the city and it has been determined to introduce an ordinance, and pass it if possible, fixing the license at $25 per annum.

One provision in the measure will be that the dealer furnish the police a weekly statement of goods bought and sold, with the names of sellers and purchasers. That will greatly assist in locating stolen goods. The ordinance will also impose a penalty for failure to comply with the above provision.

Reported Late at Headquarters.

A Herald reporter heard the story during the morning and called at police headquarters to learn particulars. Not an intimation of any such occurrence had been received there at that time. About fifteen minutes later a friend of McDonald's came in and told of it.

McDonald was found at Dr. Phelan's office. He was in a highly nervous state, but gave a fairly well connected and clear story of his terrible experience. The wound received in a flesh wound in his side just under the left arm. He insisted that it was done with a knife but Dr. Phelan says it is unquestionably a bullet wound. It is not dangerous but its close proximity to the heart shows that McDonald was extremely lucky in not losing his life.

He cannot give a very clear description of the robbery owing to the darkness. He thinks he was a tall man and quite heavy probably weighing 150 or 200 pounds. He wore rough clothes and his head was wrapped with a black cloth. McDonald is not a large man, but is quite stout and wiry. He is sure he would know the voice if he heard it again, because the fellow talked and swore so much. He also said it had a familiar sound, but he could not place it.

The man committing the robbery is supposed to have thought that McDonald would have considerable money on his person. He had received a partial payment on his logs and was to have received the final payment about this time. It is quite possible that the robber figured that McDonald would receive this final payment when in town yesterday. If this is true he is evidently some one posted on McDonald's movements.

ROBBERY AND MURDER

Daniel McDonald, a Farmer, Held Up and Nearly Killed Beyond Lester River Last Night.

He Made a Hard Fight for Life and Escaped With a Wound Near the Heart.

The Robber Took all He Had and Then Drove on With Him Half a Mile.

Daniel McDonald, a farmer living on section 14-51-13, a few miles beyond Lester river was held up and robbed last night and went through a fight for his life which would have shattered the nerves of a stronger man. A bullet wound but a couple of inches from his heart gives evidence as to the murderous intention of his assailant.

McDonald was employed by the A. Booth Packing company in the city as driver of one of the delivery wagons for six or seven years. Some time ago he moved out to section 14-51-13 where he has a nice farm of 120 acres. He has been cutting timber this winter and had put in about 5000 logs. He is a single man and steady and industrious.

Yesterday he was in Duluth selling wood and in the evening was returning. It was quite dark when he crossed Lester river. About a half mile beyond a masked man suddenly jumped into the road, grabbed one of the horses McDonald was driving and presenting a revolver yelled out to McDonald.

"Get down you scoundrel and turn your back till I blow your brains out," McDonald says if he had demanded his money he probably would have turned over what he had without a murmur but he thought he had better die fighting and made a leap from the wagon seat for the highwayman. The man fired but the bullet missed and in an instant McDonald had closed on him and grabbed the hand in which the revolver was held. Then a terrible scuffle began. The robber fired the revolver two or three times but could do no damage for McDonald held on to his hand like grim death.

McDonald tried to catch him by the throat with the other hand and just then the fellow said:

"I'll murder you, now. This dagger will go in you now."

McDonald says that he then felt a knife going through his clothes and into his flesh and quietly jumped backward and threw the robber. McDonald says he could have easily held his own against the revolver but knew he would have no chance with a knife. As he jumped backward he tripped on a stone and fell. He jumped up quickly and the man came at him again yelling:

"I'll murder you now—"

With that he fired again, but the bullet missed. Up to that time he had demanded no money. After he fired the shot she said:

"Now step up here and empty your pockets in a nice bright place for me. Take off your watch and everything."

McDonald did as he was told and laid down about $20 and a silver watch and chain. He was then commanded to get into the wagon. The man followed and stationed himself on the seat beside McDonald, with a gun in one hand and a knife in the other.

"Now drive on," ordered the villain, and they proceeded about half a mile. The order to "halt" was then given and the man said: "The man followed and stationed himself on the seat beside McDonald, with a gun in one hand and a knife in the other."

McDonald reasoned against such a proceeding and the fellow finally said: "To leave a man alive who has just shot you around and go back you will be killed. Go on ahead and you will meet others who are waiting for you. Tell them that No. 22 held you up and took all you had."

With that he disappeared in the woods. McDonald drove on and pretty soon heard voices ahead of him and thought they were the others referred to. He recognized the voice of John Shea, a friend, and called to him to get in the wagon quickly. Shea complied and when asked who the others were told McDonald they were friends. The latter told his story and they took him on to Landy's camp where the Scott & Holston Lumber company is cutting timber. He was kept in there all night and came into this morning.

AN OLD AND TRUE FRIEND.

Which Thousands all Over the Globe Recognize and Love.

Writing about this great modern discovery Dr. R. A. GUNN says:

"After using all other remedies for Bright's disease of the kidneys in vain, I directed the use of Warner's Safe Cure and was greatly surprised within a short time to hear the patient express himself as perfectly well."

Rev. J. E. RANKIN, D. D., of Washington, says: "Warner's Safe Cure I want, in the interests of humanity, to commend."

Mrs. ANNIE JENNESS MILLER says: "Warner's Safe Cure is the only medicine I ever take or recommend. It is a wonderful tonic and gives new energy and vitality to all my powers."

If this great remedy can do so much for others would it not be wise for you to try it?

NEW FERRY SCHEME.

Capt. Osborne's Design for a Steam Ferry Across the Canal.

Capt. Osborne, of the firm of Burnham & Osborne, has put in a bid for a new scheme for the canal ferry. His plan is designed by him as follows: She will be of the catamaran style, seventy-five feet in length and thirty feet beam. There will be two drive ways, one on each side seventy-five long and ten feet wide, with a capacity of eight tons. Her propelling machinery of two engines, 10 by 48, would give a speed of fifteen miles per hour. The wheel is situated in the center between the two hulls.

The two rudders are well under about half way between the ram and the propeller, so as to be out of the way of ice. Both are evenly balanced and are worked at the same time by the one wheel. The landing is made and the street or either side of the canal would have to be sloped down to the water for a considerable width to allow passage for teams to the ferry.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.

Frederick Webber Entertained and Banqueted by Them Last Evening.

The Scottish Rite Masons were honored with a visit from Frederick Webber, secretary-general of the Southern jurisdiction of the supreme council, last evening. Work in the thirtieth degree was exemplified. Following this there was a banquet and speaking in the banquet hall. At noon today Mr. Webber left for the East. His home is in Washington, and he has been making a tour through the Northwest, visiting many Masonic lodges. He is the first of the supreme officers to visit Duluth, and was entertained during his stay in the city by the different Masonic fraternities.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Will Open in Duluth Next Monday and Continue Several Days.

THE PLAN NOT SUCCESSFUL.

Scheme to Force a Confession from a Man Was a Failure.

OMAHA, March 22.—A special to the Bee from Spring View, Neb., says: An attempt was made yesterday at the Holten ranch to force a confession from the man Hunt, who is under arrest for the lynching of Mrs. Holten.

While the preliminary hearing of Hunt and Miller was in progress, County Attorney Lear took Hunt into a room, apparently for a private conference. Just as they entered the room there were a dozen revolvers shot heard outside, mingled with shouts and curses. Lear jumped and ran, locking the door of the room and leaving Hunt alone.

In a moment Lear returned and announced that the vigilantes had come and had killed Miller, and that they were now hunting for Hunt. Hunt was nearly frightened to death, but the expected confession was not forthcoming.

He swore that if the vigilantes had killed Miller they had slain an innocent man, as Miller had nothing to do with the lynching of Mrs. Holten.

The officers are not satisfied that they have the right men and are still on the hunt for the murderers.

Fire in St. Paul.
St. Paul, March 22.—At 7 o'clock last night a stubborn fire broke out in some unknown manner in the basement of the large block occupied by A. H. Schlick as a shoe store, and the firemen had a hard fight for several hours. Loss on stock and building, $85,000; insurance, $70,000.

Tomorrow, Saturday.
From the appearance of the advertisements of Duluth's big department store in this issue Pantan & Watson seem determined to set the wheels of commerce agoing in Duluth. We predict a big mob at the Glass Block store tomorrow. All roads lead to their big emporium; to be in line will be in fashion.

"Trust Those Who Have Tried."
Catarrh caused hoarseness and difficulty in speaking. I also to a great extent lost hearing. By the use of Ely's cream balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved.—J. W. Davidson, attorney at law, Monmouth, Ill.

A Great Victory.
West Duluth Sun: The passage of the bill for the taxation of railroad lands is the greatest victory won for the people of Minnesota in many years. We regret that the vote of Duluth's senator was recorded against this just measure.

Ex-Consul Waller Tried by French Military Authorities in Madagascar.

Found Guilty of Having Been in Correspondence With the Hovas.

For This Act He Was Sentenced to Twenty Years' Imprisonment.

PORT LOUIS, Island of Mauritius, March 23.—John L. Waller, formerly United States consul at Tananarive, island of Madagascar, has been tried before a court martial by the French military authorities, has been found guilty of having been in correspondence with the Hovas and has been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment.

On April 20, 1894, Mr. Waller secured a concession from the Hovas government of the whole of the southern part of the island of Madagascar, and this concession was obtained in spite of the repeated protests of the French residents and the French colony generally. According to the French people, colonists, all the nationalities engaged in the Indian rubber trade considered that prospective commercial revolution. From this it will be seen that Mr. Waller's concession is a valuable one, and in view of the opposition he has met with on the part of the French, is not that he is now in trouble. 'Advises from Tananarive under date of May 21, 1894, announce that the French minister resident there had entered a formal protest against the concession secured by Mr. Waller, declaring that France would refuse to recognize any concessions made to foreigners without her permission.

Early in June last, the New York World published a letter from Antananarivo, dated April 21, in which E. Underwood Harvey, editor of the Madagascar News, asked the World to convey to the American people a message saying: "It is time for the great American government to put its foot down and say that American enterprise in this country shall no longer be trampled by French bullying."

This was a result of the action of the representatives of France in Madagascar on denying the Malagasy government's land grants to American citizens without first obtaining the sanction of the French resident general. "France is endeavoring to persuade President Cleveland," Mr. Harvey declared, "to allow her representatives to be the medium of all communication between the American consul in this country and the Malagasy government. This course, too, the Malagasy government refuses to consent to. Without touching on how American interests in this country would be affected by the repeated protests of the French residents, the Malagasy government is taking towards such land grants."

"The harm the placing of American representation in this country in the hands of France would be to American

RESIGNED

All Three Receivers of the Whisky Trust Resigned This Morning.

Judge Grosscup Then Appointed McNulta Sole Receiver.

CHICAGO, March 23.—All three of the receivers of the whisky trust resigned today. The resignations were presented to Federal Judge Grosscup. The receivers who resigned are Gen. John McNulta, John J. Mitchell and E. F. Lawrence. It was thought by many that the resignations were the result of a fight between the factions of the trust, and that sensational developments would follow, but nothing that would indicate that such was the case appeared on the surface today. The proceedings before Judge Grosscup were quiet and apparently entirely peaceable.

It had been rumored that Receiver Lawrence, who had held over from the original Greenback receivership, would resign today, and Judge Grosscup's which devolves upon the receivers and owing to the pressure of private business I cannot consent to be one of them. Gen. McNulta immediately followed with his resignation. He said that inasmuch as the other receivers had resigned, he felt that he should follow their example and leave the court free to dispose of the matter as he thought best.

Judge Grosscup intimated that he believed the receivership had been in good hands but added that he believed with Mr. Mitchell that three receivers were unnecessary. "It is my opinion," said the judge, "that the affairs of the company can be successfully handled by one man, and I wish a consultation between the attorneys and other interested parties on this phase of the question."

At the conclusion of the conference Judge Grosscup announced that he would accept the resignations of Receivers Mitchell and Lawrence, and that Gen. McNulta would be continued as sole receiver. In explanation of his action, Judge Grosscup said:

"The resignations were tendered because it was thought that the business of the receivership had reached such a stage that one man could conduct it without any difficulty. There has been no trouble between the court and the receivers."

Gen. McNulta was not disposed to discuss the matter freely. "We simply tendered our resignations," he said, "on account of a question of administration. There has been no conflict or disagreement concerning the conduct of the business. The court and the receivers have been in harmony throughout."

Messrs. Mitchell and Lawrence said that all the explanation they could make was made when they handed their resignations. The question of compensation of the two retiring receivers will be considered by the court on his return from California, where he is going on a brief vacation.

Gen. McNulta, who assumes full control of the trust's affairs, has in reality had control since the receivers took charge, after the overthrow of the Greenback receivership. Judge Grosscup ap-

SAT UPON

Two Compulsory Education Bills Were Indefinitely Postponed.

Bill for General Road and Bridge Fund Was Favorably Reported.

Spencer's Bill to Regulate Park Commissioners' Powers Recommended to Pass.

ST. PAUL, March 23.—The two compulsory education bills that have been introduced in the house by Representatives Zier and Tallman were today reported to the house for indefinite postponement. Dr. Zier, who introduced a very stringent bill of this sort, said he is a friend of the parochial schools and is himself a German, and he objected vigorously to attacks that have been made on him in this connection.

Mr. Knutson's bill, establishing a general road and bridge fund, which fills a long felt want in this state, was favorably reported from committee. The house passed the senate bill providing a hard fiber twice plant at the state prison, and it will become a law on receiving the governor's approval. Immediately after roll call, which showed little more than the necessary quorum present, the house decided that when it adjourned today it would be until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Committee reports were made and adopted as follows: S. F. 527, Senator Spencer's bill, to regulate the powers of park commissioners in cities, to pass; H. F. 735, to amend section 5, article 9, of the constitution relating to transfer of gross earnings to road and bridge fund, to pass; H. F. 547, to provide for road and bridge fund, to pass; H. their vested interests had been injured by the concession to Mr. Waller. The latter did not share in their opinion.

Tananarive is the chief port of entry in Madagascar, and India rubber is among the principal exports of that island, which also has extensive forests, containing much valuable timber suitable for furniture. France hitherto has claimed a protectorate over the island of Madagascar, and Great Britain has recognized it. But the native government of Madagascar repudiates the French claim to a protectorate, and the government of France is now sending to Madagascar a large expedition to subdue the Hovas. It may also be added that the last two American consuls at Tananarive have presented their credentials to the Malagasy government, thereby causing some friction between themselves and the French residents.

The concession granted to Mr. Waller is admitted to be a most valuable one, as it is in the greater district of Fort Dauphin, on the south coast of the island, and the terms under which the ex-consultant obtains it were very much more reasonable than any previously granted in Madagascar. Moreover, the concession is by far the largest and is said to be in every way the most important surface concession ever granted in Madagascar. It covers an area of 235 square miles, or more than five times the area of New York city. The lands in addition to producing rubber, trees and vines in vast quantities, abound in such fine timbers as ebony, mahogany and rosewood, and they are admirably adapted to the cultivation of tea, coffee, sugar and vanilla. When Mr. Waller obtained his concession, he announced that he would stop the destruction of rubber trees and vines by the natives in their method of getting rubber, and that he would preserve the productive capacity of his concession by having the milk of the rubber trees extracted in a scientific manner. He also proposed to enter largely into the cultivation of rubber.

The Scientific American and the Electrical Review, in commenting upon the discovery of the rubber district, said the discovery almost constituted a commercial interest is especially shown by the French also basing their objection to a land grant to an American citizen on the ground that it would violate the treaty. They say that article provides that French citizens may reside, travel and carry on trade freely throughout the whole extent of the states of the queen, no large grant of land may be made.

This preposterous proposition not only assumes that France had no right to a land grant to an American citizen, but it also clearly shows the French claim for previous sanction of the French resident general is a mere pretext to invalidate this concession, with the intention that no more shall be granted. Above all, it plainly demonstrates the likelihood of the French government having similarly distorted the articles in the treaty on which are constituted the claim that the French residents are the medium of all communication, whether in matters of international administration of the country or not, between the consular representatives of foreigners in Madagascar and the Malagasy government."

chambers were well filled with interested financiers when the matter reached a hearing. According to the stories about Mr. Lawrence had become dissatisfied with his treatment by the other receivers. He had not been consulted, it was said, in any of the important moves, and had been looked upon with disfavor and suspicion by the reorganization committee.

His previous connection with the Greenback management had rendered him a "suspicious character," according to rumor, and it was consequently expected that when he handed his resignation to Judge Grosscup today, some "inside facts" and sensational disclosures would be developed. But the expectation met disappointment. The three receivers of the trust arrived at the judge's rooms almost at the same time. There was every appearance of cordiality between them, and the proceedings were conducted without the slightest show of friction. Receiver Lawrence quietly handed a folded paper to Judge Grosscup.

"I desire to present to your honor," he said, "my resignation as receiver for the Distilling company. I am very busy with my private affairs and do not feel that I should devote any more of my time to a business that is of little personal interest to me."

"And," said John J. Mitchell, "I also wish to resign my position. I have no time to devote to this receivership, and furthermore would like to suggest that I believe that three receivers are unnecessary. I am of the opinion that two good men would easily handle the business

Topeka, Kan., March 23.—The jury in the famous Hillman case, which has been out since Tuesday morning, came in at 11 o'clock this morning unable to agree. The jurors were immediately discharged. It is said that seven were for the plaintiff, Mrs. Hillman, and five for the defendants, the insurance companies.

This is the fourth trial of the case and the third time the jury have disagreed. At the third trial the plaintiff secured a verdict, but a new trial was granted to admit important evidence before excluded.

The Epidemic of Influenza, Which Caused Many Deaths, Decreasing.

Great Destitution Shown by the Records of Institutions of Charity.

Lord Rosebery Seriously Ill and Many Talking of Gladstone Again.

LONDON, March 23.—The epidemic of influenza which has been causing so many deaths and such a wide spread of sickness throughout the United Kingdom is decreasing in strength. In this city as a result the death rate has decreased from 41.2 per thousand last week to 33.4 for the present week. Normal death rate is about 21 per thousand. But, in spite of this fall showing, cases of influenza are reported daily.

The general condition of the metropolis is indicated by the fact that 137,000 destitute persons were relieved by the various charitable institutions during the past week and the interim report of the select committee of the house of commons, which was appointed to inquire into the existing distress, has disclosed a state of affairs which apparently can only be met by extensive relief works in certain districts. Through the medium of the local government board, a circular letter was addressed to the masters of towns and to the chairmen of district councils asking for information on the following points:

1. Whether there is any exceptional distress in the district and how far this is due to circumstances peculiar to the locality or to the severe weather.

2. What is being done to meet the distress by public authorities or by voluntary agencies, and the average daily number relieved by each of the agencies during the week ending Saturday, Feb. 16?

3. Is an unemployed register maintained, and with what result?

4. Have you any suggestions to make for the purpose of relieving such distress?

The replies to this circular letter came in with promptitude and the committee,

DENIED BY CUBANS.

Negroes Not Trying to Raise the Race Question.

TAMPA, Fla., March 23.—Dispatches from Nassau, N. P., stating that the negroes of Cuba are attempting to make the insurrection a race question, have caused much comment here and is denied by Cubans generally. Col. Figueroa was questioned about it and said: "It is merely a rumor put up by the government to discredit the revolution. There are many negroes under arms, but the whites are undoubtedly in the majority. To show you there is no line between the races in this fight, Havana papers and letters state that a prominent lawyer named Hortido, of Santiago, has gone out with thirty or forty young men of the best white families in that section. They were going to join the forces of Gen. Guillermo Moncada, who is a negro. He has many white men under his command. The color line is not drawn in Cuba politically and in business as it is in this country. The negro population of Cuba has decreased and the whites on the island are in the majority."

"It is said one reason the province of Puerto Principe has been so slow to rise is because the government surprised the insurgents in that district. They intended to rise with Spanish arms, but Spain was too alert. Some time ago the government gave the citizens of this district permission to arm themselves against the bandits who are very numerous. The people took advantage of it and two days before the uprising every man was armed. The government officers who searched the houses in Puerto Principe secured no less than 3,000 rifles but expected 10,000."

"A young man was here two days ago, who conveyed arms in a street car from New York to Puerto Principe. Street cars were ordered and one of them, intended for carrying freight, was loaded with arms in New York and shipped to Puerto Principe. Some negligence at the depot there disclosed the cargo, and the arms were seized by the soldiers."

NEGROES.

Senator Morgan Says Their Exodus From the South Will Increase.

Believes United States Will Assist Them to Go to Africa.

Trouble With Germany Over the Latter's Exclusion of American Cattle.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Senator Morgan, of Alabama, thinks the present exodus of negroes from the South to Africa will increase rapidly in proportions and he believes that the time will soon come when the government of the United States will take the matter up officially and aid in their deportation.

"Africa," he said, in discussing the question, "is the natural home of the negro and a majority of them desire to return to that country. They can not well be blamed for entertaining that wish, for there is nothing in this or any other white man's country for the negro. Since the slaves were emancipated to demonstrate the white man's superiority in all walks of life, and it is my observation that most of the negroes already realize that if they remain here they will always occupy inferior positions and continue, as of old, to be little more than servants."

Senator Morgan also asserted that a large majority of the white population in the South would prefer to have the negroes go. "It is certain," he said, "that many of the planters, the owners of large plantations, prefer to have them remain for the reason that they favor negro labor. They are not so much in the minority, and the poorer white and the professional classes in the South prefer to have the negroes stay."

"The poor man does not want his competition and all classes object to negro equality in political affairs, as all feel that they stand directly in the way of securing a more desirable class of residents by preventing immigration. Furthermore it is not true as seems to be supposed that only negroes can do the labor in the Southern states, an assertion which is substantiated by the fact that the cotton crop of this country has increased from a little over 3,000,000 before the war to 9,000,000."

The senator expressed the opinion that congress would take the problem of negroes in hand at no distant date, and said he expected that within the next three or four years the government would be found providing means for their transportation.

The trouble between the United States and Germany over the latter's exclusion of American cattle has assumed a more pacific aspect of late, and officials are hopeful that the subject may be adjusted without further friction. The German authorities have urged an apparent sincerity that they had no purpose to retaliate against the United States because of the tariff differential duty placed on German sugar.

It has been pointed out that Germany took like action against her near neighbor, Austria, when it was suspected that hogs coming from Austria were carriers of the disease. Austria and Germany are members of the triple alliance, it is argued that her course is shown to be inspired entirely by sanitary precaution and not through political retaliation.

The German authorities also take the position that they will at once end the exclusion of American cattle, if it is established that they are entirely free from disease. In their investigations on the subject they have become satisfied that the meat inspection system of this country is very rigid and effective, and they do not doubt that this will lead to such perfect healthfulness among the cattle shipped abroad that the cause for the exclusion will disappear at no distant date. Assurances are given that when this occurs, the embargo will be at once suspended.

As if the lively cotton planter had not enough to contend with in natural forces, the science of chemistry has been invoked to invent a new artificial cotton which has been remarkably successful, the product being much cheaper than the natural cotton and possessing most of its qualities.

The basis is wool pulp, which by a course of treatment fully described by the consul, is changed into a pure cellulose and spun into thread and then woven into cloth. It resembles ordinary cotton, but has a slight defect which, however, it will be easy to remedy—that is, it is not as strong as the natural product. It weaves and works well and can be dyed as well as cotton. By coating it with paraffine and passing it over glass a beautiful brilliancy may be given to it. Much greater strength can be given to it by parching it, when it acquires a semi-transparency.

Another interesting report upon the war between classes in Germany—the agrarians on the one side and the manufacturing and mercantile on the other—has been received at the department of state from United States Consul General Charles de Kay, at Berlin. In this case the consul general touches upon the efforts being made to prevent a tariff war from being waged by Germany on Argentina, and shows how the conditions now are very similar to those which caused the attack upon the producers of the United States.

It appears that the agrarians are seeking to prevent the new process of making wool by the German government. The wool has just sent to the reichstag a memorial in opposition to the demand of the protectionists that Argentina shall be named the German government, or the termination of the most favored nation clause of her treaty. The chamber holds that this would simply ruin the

Spring Cleaning

Is such a trial that men say "Let the house take care of itself." But the conscientious wife is bound to do it. It keeps the blood vitalized and enriched, and thus sustains the nerves and holds all the bodily functions in strength and regular action. With its help you will not feel that intense exhaustion, and your natural extra work is depletion of the blood, the source of all fatigue at the close of the day will give way to fresh activity in the morning. Therefore we say, besides cleaning your house, be sure to take Hood's Sarsaparilla to

Cleanse Your Blood

With Hood's We'll Conquer

"Now that house cleaning is upon us, I know that with Hood's Sarsaparilla to help, we'll pass through that trial all right." MRS. HELEN HISCROFT, Tully, New York.

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla every spring, and it is the only medicine I use through the year. It enables me to do my house cleaning and farm work all through the summer. It helped me very much for palpitation of the heart. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine for everyone, and all who take it will never be without it. I have also used Hood's Pills and they are the best I ever tried." MRS. F. H. ANDREWS, South Woodstock, Conn.

Makes the Weak Strong

"Last spring I had to give up work, being unable to walk to my place of employment, a distance of only half a mile. I suffered almost incessantly from sick headache. I had racking pains all over my body. The least exertion would tire me out. Going up one flight of stairs would make my heart beat at a terrible rate. It was induced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now, after taking less than two bottles, the pains and aches have all left me. I have only had a slight headache once since. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me a good appetite, and I can now do a hard day's work." MISS ELIZ JENKINS, Queensbury, New York.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"My nerves were in such a condition the closing of a door was sufficient to throw me into a spell of trembling which would last an hour. This was often a severe attack of the grip, which shattered my health. I could not sleep, my food distressed me, and I had darting pains through my shoulders and back. At the suggestion of a friend I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla. After taking one bottle, my food no longer distressed me, and my nerves were quieted. I have taken three bottles and I am cured. The asthma trouble, from which I have not been free for years, has entirely disappeared. Hood's Sarsaparilla has done wonders for me, and I am glad to recommend it highly." MRS. LUCINDA RUSSELL, North Dartmouth, Massachusetts.

"My health has been poor for a good many years before I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Finally I decided to take Hood's and can honestly say that it has done me more good than any and all other treatments. I was troubled with dyspepsia, food distressed me, and I had but little appetite, was weak and nervous. In fact my trouble bordered on nervous prostration, from which I had previously suffered. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla last summer and it did me ever so much good. It does not seem as though I am the same person. My appetite is greatly improved, I am less nervous, have more strength and a can eat heartily without distress. Such a condition was unknown to me before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. G. C. CLAY, Bare, Vt.

MADMAN ON A STEAMER.

The Narrow Escape of Three Men From a Maniac.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 23.—Michael Manson, justice of the peace and owner of the steamer Stella, with two of the crew, dodged around the small vessel at night to escape from a madman armed with a revolver while the Stella was anchored at Quatshilla cove, 150 miles up the coast.

A stranger giving his name as James Lobb came aboard asking for passage to Salmon river. Manson intended to start at 3 a. m., so two of the crew went to sleep early, the captain and the madman reading before the fire. At 2 a. m. Manson went to examine the engine and returning heard a shot, then another, the latter smashing the lantern he was carrying.

The two sailors, badly frightened, said that Lobb had been firing at them, wounding one seriously. The maniac remained on the pilot house, preventing escape to shore and shooting whenever the sailors moved or spoke. Lobb went ashore at daybreak to the relief of the crew. Three Indians, pressed into service, got the madman drunk and he was finally arrested while asleep.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Three Children Perished in a Fire in Ontario.

CHAPLEAU, Ont., March 23.—The house occupied by P. Dollard, was burned by the upsetting of a lamp on the stairway. Mr. and Mrs. Dollard were down stairs and made every endeavor to extinguish the flames, but they got beyond control before they realized the danger.

Their five children were in the upper part of the house, and Mr. Dollard rushed through the flames. He seized the baby, 1 year old, kicked out a window and shouted to the other four children to jump out. Three children were burned—Gertie, aged 13; Michael, aged 7, and Alexander, aged 3. Johnny, aged 11, jumped out of the window but is so badly burned that his recovery is doubtful.

in its interim report, made an analysis of these replies. The substance of the 1914 replies which were received from districts representing a population of over 20,000,000 may be summed up by saying that in 596 localities representing a population of 6,797,231 there is no exceptional distress, that in 454 localities with a population of 10,381,000 there is exceptional distress due solely to the severity of the winter; and that in 144 localities with a population of 3,700,000 there is, apart from the want of employment due to the weather, an exceptional want of employment owing to slackness of trade, depression of agriculture or to particular local industrial causes.

From the showing, the committee concludes that it is abundantly clear that while over a great part of the country no lack of employment has prevailed beyond that which might be expected as a consequence of an unusually severe winter, there has been during the present severe winter, much grave distress affecting workmen ordinarily in regular work as well as those whose employment is always liable to be intermittent and that much suffering has been caused.

A MUNIFICENT OFFER.

How does Minneapolis like it herself?
Having made a mean and contemptible attempt to remove the capitol from St. Paul, by offering the exposition building, Loring Park and several other "white elephants" Minneapolis has fairly incurred the danger of losing the state university. It may be with some idea of retaliation for the unpleasant treatment accorded by Minneapolis that the city of St. Paul has made an offer for the state university which is truly munificent. In a few days, it is announced, the city of St. Paul itself will formally make an offer to the legislature of Como Park as a suitable site for the state university. This offer will be backed by a bonus of $1,000,000 from the public-spirited citizens of St. Paul. Como Park is admittedly the most charming piece of landscape in the state. There are close upon 500 acres of land; it is well wooded and watered, and the property itself is worth $4,000,000. This would make the offer of St. Paul to the state foot up to $5,000,000.

There are some inclined to think that there are insuperable barriers in the way of removing the university owing to its many buildings, and the several new ones that were erected by the state within the past few years. But, as the St. Paul Dispatch says, the magnificent bonus to be offered by the citizens of St. Paul will entirely remove any and all such barriers. If they at any time could be considered in the light of such a barrier.

The $1,000,000 bonus will not only pay the entire expense of removal, but provide for the erection of all the halls, laboratories, libraries and assemblies that a properly equipped university should need, and, in addition to that, the state would be saved the $500,000 to $1,000,000 which the university now needs for the erection of a gymnasium and other buildings. Thus the offer to be made by St. Paul will mean a saving to the farmers of the state of fully $1,000,000 in taxation.

The state has already expended a large amount of money on the university. The expenditure for the current expenses since its creation aggregate $2,027,506, while for new buildings and betterments the total sum expended has been $356,725. From a business standpoint, the acquisition of the university would be a good thing for St. Paul, while the splendid offer which that city has made, if accepted by the legislature, certainly would result in a large saving to the state. The legislature should give this offer careful consideration.

TELEPHONE COMPETITION.

As a result of the expiration of important telephone patents and the recent decision of the federal superior court against the claim of the Bell Telephone company to a patent covering the transmitter, there are numerous competing companies entering the field and a radical reduction in telephone rates may be expected at an early date.
The Western Electrician reports that the Bell company has undertaken to overcome threatened competition in Dubuque, Iowa, by meeting and reducing any rate which the Harrison company may make there. In Davenport, Iowa, citizens' committee proposes to organize a local company for the establishment of a plant.

Three companies are asking for franchises at Ishpeming, Mich., each of them desiring to furnish services to a group of cities in the northern part of the Michigan peninsula. The Bell company is unpopular there. Its rate in Ishpeming is $60. In Des Moines, Iowa, arrangements for setting up a new and independent exchange have been made by the old manager of the Bell company's exchange in that city, an expert electrician, who engaged the Bell exchange in several Western cities. He promises the latest improvements, a reduced charge, and the construction of toll lines at once to all neighboring cities.

In Fort Scott, Kan., a new and independent company began work on February 19, and its managers assert that already they have twice as many patronage as are served by the local Bell company. The new company's rate is $18 a year; the Bell company's is $18.

Grand Rapids and four neighboring cities in Michigan have asked the local Bell company to reduce its rates to $24 per annum for business houses and $12 for residences. If the company refuses to do this they will establish a new system. A new company in Oklahoma, Okla., has obtained 139 subscribers, and will begin work on its plant when 225 shall have been secured. The local Bell company gives notice that its system will be improved and its rates cut down about 25 per cent. At Great Falls, Mont., the Bell rate is $60, and a new company, offering service at $30, asks for a franchise.

These facts show what a lively competition has already sprung up. In the face of such competition, the Bell company must reduce its rates or its rivals will force it out of many cities. If the business men can get as good a service as the Bell company provides at lower rates they will take the new service, and the pressure everywhere to mitigate franchises to competing companies will become so great that city councils will find it impossible to resist.
The only way the Bell companies can meet the situation is by cutting their charges to reasonable figures. They have long enjoyed a monopoly by reason of owning patents on vital points of the telephone. This monopoly has been broken and they must be prepared to give a cheaper service.

FOR MR. CANT'S GUIDANCE.

Now that the chamber of commerce has given its opinion as to the advisability of increasing the appropriations for clerk hire in the offices of the county auditor and county treasurer, Representative Cant, who requested the chamber to express its opinion for his guidance, will find it easy to frame a measure that will satisfy the people here. The report of the chamber's committee meets general approval. This is not a time to recklessly increase expenses, and it behooves the county officials to guard carefully the county funds so that the burden of taxation may be made to bear as lightly as possible upon the people. It cannot be said that this policy has been very successfully carried out—the extension to the court house being an example of a needless expenditure.

The chamber's committee recommended an increase for the auditor's office, and there is no doubt that it is needed, as The Herald said in an article on this subject several weeks ago.
The work in the auditor's office has increased greatly during the last few years and it will continue to grow. The committee recommends an allowance of $11,000 for clerk hire this year and $1000 additional during succeeding years.

It was recommended that no increase be allowed for clerk hire in the treasurer's office. There is no increase in the work of the treasurer, and there is no valid reason for an increase. The present appropriation has proven ample and there was a fair-sized surplus last year. Therefore the committee is correct in opposing any increase. Representative Cant will do well to follow these recommendations in preference to the desires of the politicians who are anxious for largely increased appropriations so that they may pay some of their political debts with extra clerkships.

THE STATE CENSUS.

The house yesterday afternoon devoted all its time to the Wright census bill, made numerous amendments to it, and then voted up the proceedings by defeating it when the vote was taken on final passage. This was probably the best thing to do with the bill. It provided for a complete census of population, industries and farmers and various other matters. There is no necessity for such an extensive state census. The federal census every decade should be depended upon for those details.

All the state really needs is an enumeration of the people, upon which to base an apportionment bill giving the various sections of the state proper representation in the legislature according to the population. This house has apparently taken this view of the matter, and the Wright bill having been put out of the way, the census committee will prepare a bill providing only for a census of the population.

THE DETROIT PLAN.

The suggestion of Bishop McGillicrick that the Detroit plan of giving the use of lots, rent free, to the unemployed for the purpose of raising vegetables thereon for their own use, be introduced in Duluth has met with a favorable response. Capt. Miller, the executive officer of the Associated Charities, has undertaken the management of the scheme, and he has received many offers of land for the purpose indicated.
There is a good prospect that many poor people will avail themselves of the opportunity and that the bishop's suggestion will result in much good being accomplished.

The citizens' relief committee of St.
Paul has decided to try the Detroit plan there in a modified form. A subcommittee investigated the matter and wrote to Mayor Pingree and other prominent Detroit citizens for opinions on it. It was found that in Detroit some 2000 applications were made, and that there were more lots offered than could be used, partly because it was nearly June 15, when the scheme was put into operation. Mayor Pingree was very pronounced in favor of the scheme.
He stated that no land was given except to the worthy and needy. They gave allotments to one-third of the applicants and yet a reliable authority assured the committee that in more than four-fifths of the cases the women and children did all the work, while the men remained idle. This is an evil which it will be necessary to guard against

LIKE A NEW MAN.

Hon. L. P. Strickland Cured by the Wonderful Medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy. It is the Greatest Spring Medicine in the World.

Now is the time to prepare for spring.
Everybody knows what the spring does for our systems—clogs the secretions, renders the organs inactive, depresses the nervous strength, and lowers the vitality of the blood.
If you wish to keep well, therefore,
during the trying spring months, take the medicine which, above all others, makes people strong and well—Dr.
Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.
It cured Hon. L. P. Strickland, of Taylor street, Cleveland, Ohio. He says: "I have taken Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I feel like a new man. It has cured me of chills, hot flashes, bleeding after eating, cold feet and shortness of breath. I have also had a flu for over twenty years and have been unable to get on my feet.
I cannot express how thankful I am that I used this wonderful remedy."
The long list of cures by this remedy is unprecedented—unequaled. In fact, in medical history. It cures more cases than any and all other medicines.
The number of names of our most prominent physicians curing nervous and chronic diseases, who have been cured by this great remedy, and who write testimonials in re-

when putting the plan into operation in Duluth.

An Italian boy, 14 years old, who was offered as a witness in a case before Judge Hudspeht, in the court of general sessions at Jersey City, last Monday, was objected to as not knowing the nature of an oath. Animation followed and brought out the facts that the boy had never attended any church, Sunday or day school, and had never heard the name of God. Judge Hudspeht, of course, refused to allow the boy to go on the witness stand, and made some remarks about the waste of time and money of sending missionaries to Africa while they could find such opportunities for employment so near home.

"Alabama" is said to be a very good play, and it is a pity that its presentation in Duluth should be handicapped by the threat to give each purchaser of a ticket a subscription to the News-Tribune. Rather than thus inflict many people with the self-inflicted pleasure of seeing the play.

Washington society objected to Minister Thurston's pretty young wife because "she was a clerk at the World's fair." Such an objection from the class of people of suddenly acquired riches, adventurers and adventurers, who compose the greater part of Washington society, is amusing.

The Nawab Nawaz Jung Bahadur says that American workmen receive $2 a day and are discontented, while those in this country get pay on $1.50 a month. The American who suggests the introduction of the Indian schedule of wages is likely to become discontented after workmen have gone through having fun with him.

State Senator Keller has given Maj.
Baldwin another black eye in connection with the Sault Center postmas-tership. The major's "influence" with the president appears to have waned since his defeat in November. But he has his $10 a day job as Chippewa commissioner to console him.

Even in the house of its friends the Howard municipal charter bill repudiated. Although it originated in Minneapolis it does not please Minneapolis in every particular. It pleases no other city in any particular.

The mantle of Tolstoi has fallen upon his son, who says that his entire views of life and his literary style have been formed through repeated readings of the Kreutzer Sonata.

State Auditor Dunn is not in high favor with the present legislature. His bill in regard to the sale of pine lands was killed and buried without any ceremony.

SOCIETY.

Assembly Young Men Planning a Cotillion to Be Given Easter Week.

Winter Club Contemplates a Large Party After the Close of Lent.

Junior Exhibition at the High School Last Evening—Other Social Doings.

Society is still wearing its Lenten aspect and refuses absolutely to be interested in social affairs of any kind. There is some planning for later functions, however. The assembly will have a party during Easter week and the young men have almost decided that it will be a cotillion, something very swell. The idea seems to meet with favor from

"Simon Says 'Thumbs Up,'" and Miss Smith read a bright and interesting original story called "What's in a Name." George A. Raymond opened the program with a well executed piano solo, Dinkgreve's "Galloping Concert." The entire class gave their class song, "O Haste Thee, Gallant Boatman." The Junior Banjo and Mandolin club played "The Travelers' Quickstep," excellently, and the clarinet quartet gave a pleasing number.

Miss Marion Bostwick charmingly rendered "St. George and the Dragon," a well selected recitation. Carl J. Driesbach delivered a scholarly oration on "The Puritan in Modern Life." Julia U. Johnson recited "The Defense of Mary, Queen of Scots." Miss Rosa M. Butters recited "Mary's Night Ride," and Miss Betty M. Brearley read an essay on "Mother Goose rhymes." The Junior Record was read by Trumbull Kelly.

The hall was very prettily decorated, the work being done by the senior class. The seniors also had charge of ushering and the class occupied seats in the gallery opposite the rostrum. About 100 people were present.

One of the finest concerts which Duluth people have had the pleasure of hearing was given on Tuesday evening at the Bethel. It was arranged by Mrs. James N. McKindley and was given for the benefit of Miss Julia Johnson, a young pianist whom Mrs. McKindley believes is talented. The concert was a success financially as well.

Miss Johnson played a sonatina by Kuhlman and rendered it in an admirable manner. Other numbers were given by Miss Anna Farrell, Miss Moak, C. F.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Markell entertained the literature class on Wednesday evening at their home on East Second street. It was made a Triby evening. The evening was spent in the ideas of entertainment. It was a pleasant affair and the attendance was large.

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Sam Van Wagner were very pleasantly surprised by a number of friends, it being the seventh anniversary of their marriage. The evening was spent in card playing, charades and other games. An elegant lunch was served and the evening was delightfully spent.

The annual Unity club concert, which was to have been given March 25, has been postponed for two weeks on account of the illness of some of the participants. In the place of this, the club will devote the evening of Monday, March 25, to a consideration of "Coin's Financial School." F. E. Searle will open the discussion from the standpoint of the monopolist, and will be followed by C. C. Tear, who will speak from the standpoint of the bimetalist. A general discussion will follow, at which speakers from the floor will be allowed ten minutes each. The book has given rise to such divergent views that the discussion ought to be a lively one. The public is invited to attend, and to take part in the debate.

Personal Mention.
Miss Fannie Kiley, who has been visiting relatives in Duluth for some weeks, is spending a few days this week with her family at Spirit Lake.

Mrs. A. Overton and children visited in West Superior Thursday with her brother, E. Boyd.

The ice is entirely out of the channel of the St. Louis river and Spirit lake is open. It is thought that ducks will soon be here at Spirit Lake.

Miss Twannette Dash went to New Duluth and remained over Sunday, the guest of the Misses Hackett and Herman.

Dennie Sullivan, of Duluth, was out Thursday to see his father, who is very sick with la grippe this week.

Mrs. Durns, of Duluth, was the guest of Mrs. E. Swenson Thursday.

Mrs. Lindstrom and Mrs. Johnson spent Thursday in Duluth.

A laborer by the name of Oleson from West Duluth, lost a finger at the Iron-works last Tuesday.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. on Thursday it was decided to give a basket social at the Iron-works hotel next Friday night. There will be a good program and everybody is welcome. The union will meet next Thursday with Mrs. V. A. Dash.

THE MEMORANDUM.

Judge Moer's Ruling in the Allard Damage Case.

Judge Moer's memorandum in deciding against the plaintiff in the damage case of Mary Zoe Allard against the Northern Pacific, was crowded out of yesterday's paper. The point is an important one, and as Judge Moer stated that the decision was against his convictions, a brief of the text of his memorandum may be of interest. It follows:

The husband of the plaintiff lost his life in an accident which wrecked a Northern Pacific freight train on which he was riding. Before getting on the train the conductor told him it was against the rules of the road to carry passengers, but Allard was in a hurry and insisted, so the conductor took up the regular fare and gave him a seat in the caboose. The train collided with a wild freight train and Allard was killed. His wife sued for $5000 damages and the case was dismissed on the ground that the plaintiff's husband, being aware that it was against the rules of the road to carry passengers on a freight train, had no rights as a passenger.

A motion for a new trial has just been denied by Judge Moer, and in a memorandum accompanying the order he says: "The plaintiff claims that as her husband was allowed to ride and paid his fare, he was entitled to rights as a passenger. The defendant claims that his knowledge that the act was against the rules of the road made him a trespasser, and that the road owed him no duties as a passenger."

"If the question were open I would be inclined to the plaintiff's view, for it seems to me that although deceased knew of the rule, he became entitled to the rights of a passenger when the conductor violated it and received him as a passenger at the regular fare. Were it not for the fact that I regard the case of McVety vs. the Manitoba road (45 Minn. 268) as in direct conflict with this view I should so hold, as I cannot agree with the reasons given in that case. It being my duty, however, to follow the law as announced by the supreme court, whether right or wrong, and as the language used by that court admits of but one construction in my mind, I feel obliged to hold that there can be no recovery in this case."

"If this view of the law is erroneous, the supreme court is the only place to 'right it.' The decision in the case cited is substantially as follows: 'If a person solicits free transportation or rides on a part of the train from which passengers are excluded, knowing that his act is against the rules of the carrier, and if in permitting it the conductor is disobedient to the orders of the carrier, the conductor is liable to the carrier for the passenger's rights.'"

Judge Moer has filed his findings in the case of the Miners' Savings bank of Pittsburg against A. W. Bradley and A. B. Chapin, to recover on a guarantee of American Loan and Trust company.

The stock was guaranteed for three years, and the defendants, Bradley and Chapin, agreed to repurchase it at any time within that period. Demands were made in April, 1894, by the plaintiffs, but the defendants refused to do so. In December, 1894, the plaintiffs were again demanded to repurchase the stock, and the plaintiffs were non-suited on the ground that tender was not made of the stock within the stipulated time.

A good sum for a superior article is real economy. That is why Dr. Price's baking powder is a good investment.

Agreements Ordered Produced.

Some time ago, in the case of Alfred Merritt vs. John D. Rockefeller and Fred T. Gates, the plaintiff made an application to the federal court, to the effect that the defendant be compelled to bring into court certain letters and agreements between the plaintiff and the defendant. March 21, Judge Priest, in the absence of Judge Wilson, issued an order that the defendants produce the agreement of July 1, 1893; agreement of Aug. 28, 1893; the letter written by the plaintiff and others in August, 1893; and the agreement made Oct. 28 between the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron mines and the defendant Rockefeller.

In other respects, the application of the plaintiff is denied.

Cannot Issue Passports.

Capt. T. H. Pressnell says that the paragraph in the News Tribune this morning, stating that he now is able to issue passports directly to those wishing to go abroad, makes him appear ridiculous. He further says that he knows as well as any one that not a soul can issue a passport except the secretary of state, and that official cannot even delegate that power to any one else.

"What I meant to have understood," said Capt. Pressnell to a Herald reporter, "was that I was in a position to assist with information any who desire passports. I am in receipt of a circular from the department of state, giving full information as to passports and the way to obtain them."

McKenzie Backed Out.

The much-looked-for foot race between Patrolman Roy MacKenzie and Patrolman Knute Mohr, The Herald is informed, did not come off the other night for the reason that MacKenzie backed out. Mohr is anxious to run and will put up anything from $1 to $20. If the race comes off and Mohr wins, Joe Dwyer has a challenge all written out on a typewriter, which will shake in MacKenzie's face until he either accepts it or backs down.

Capt. Thompson also says that the boys do not want to get to feeling too sure that they are champions, for he thinks that he can run a little himself, even if he is old enough to be the father of twelve children. He may challenge Bob Benson to a contest if the racing fever is not soon broken.

ON PEARY'S EXPEDITION.

Perfect Reliance Was Placed in Paine's Celery Compound.

"When I was selected by Lieut. Peary to accompany him on his trip to the Arctic regions to try and find a way to the North pole, says Mr. James W. Davidson in the Fourth Estate, 'it was partly because of my strong, healthy constitution, and his belief that I could endure the fatigue and danger incident to the trip. I had been associated with him as his business manager on his lecturing tour, and was on terms of the greatest intimacy with him.'"

"When the ship Falcon left New York on her trip northwards it had among the stores several cases of Paine's celery compound. The reputation of that medicine was well established, so that it was the most natural thing in the world that the members of the party, and they comprised men from nearly every walk in life, from common sailors to men of science, should desire to use it. The record of our perilous trip to Camp Annular is too well known to need repetition. Once in camp we naturally took an inventory of our possessions, and I was exceedingly glad to find Paine's celery compound. The medicine chest was open to all, and we were free to take from it what we thought advisable, with in company with several others, selected some of the compound, taking a bottle of it to my cabin, knowing that it would be handy when wanted. Nor was I mistaken, for the excessive cold weather soon had its effects, and I began to be troubled in a number of ways. In every case whenever I felt the slightest indisposition, I used the compound, and found relief. "One thing noticeable in the article was that the cold weather made us all exceedingly nervous. We became irritable and cross. Our nerves were all unstrung, and naturally it affected our health. I talked the matter over with some of the others, and made up my mind that possibly the celery compound would be beneficial, for I knew that it was used for nervous disorders at home. Well, sir, we tried it, and I must say that it helped every one of us."

"On the long night of six months came on and we were in darkness, we found that the effects were very depressing. Imagine, if you can, living for six months in darkness such as occurs here every night, and you can readily understand how we were situated. It is a wonder that some of us did not go mad. We had not very much to divert our attention, and the effect was something like solitary confinement in a dark cell."

"I have used Paine's celery compound for a dozen ill such as a person is liable to have at any time, and especially in that desolate country. It has always helped me, and I should be pleased to have more of it should I go North again."

"I do not know of any one thing that I can say more of than Paine's celery compound. It certainly is a great medicine and I am an advocate of it."

"That Tired Feeling" Overcomes us when inferior preparations are recommended by unscrupulous dealers as "just as good as Foley's Honey and Tar Cough Syrup," when we know the unequalled merits of this great medicine. Max Wirth.

DAMAGES

Large Claims Against Various Corporations Filed in the District Court.

James Verneti Wants $25,000 From Canton Iron Co. for Injuries.

Angus Glassford Values His Leg, Which Was Amputated, at $15,000.

All sorts of mangled limbs and damage claims therefore filled the district court records yesterday afternoon. Three large personal injury suits were filed, aggregating in their demands for compensation $23,800. The largest claim is that of James Verneti, who wants $25,000 from the Canton Iron company. He alleges that in putting a "racer" through a drift in the Canton mine, he was working on a scaffold, and at the top of the race, when a huge stone and a mass of earth became dislodged and fell.
The ponderous mass struck the plank on which Verneti was standing and crushed through, precipitating the plaintiff sixty-four feet to the bottom of the mine. The sudden contact with the hard ground at the bottom broke a leg for him, and he alleges that the company's failure to provide a safe place for him to work throws the blame on the company.
Angus B. Glassford is another personal injury claimant, and he wants $15,000 from John F. Welmer and Nellie Welmer. One day last summer he was peacefully working on the good ship "W. S. Lloyd," which was anchored in Rattay Lake 100 feet from the shore, where Welmer was skiving a well.
A blast was touched off in the well, and a large piece of rock shattered over to the Lloyd, hurled up Glassford, and broke his leg in several places. He was permanently injured by the accident, amputation being necessary. He asserts that the blast which resulted in the loss of his limb was caused by negligence, and he therefore thinks that the owners should pay him $15,000.
Still another claim for damages is that brought by George Storey against the Knox Lumber Company, June 25, 1894, he was working for the company operating what is known as a "slasher." A piece of edging became caught, and he was caught up on the slasher board to arrange it. His foot slipped and came in contact with a revolving saw.

NEW TRIAL ASKED.
The Merritts Not Satisfied With Their Verdict of $500.

Before Judge Lewis in special term this morning Henry E. Harris moved for a new trial in the case of Leonidas Merritt against the Bivabik Mountain Iron company on the ground that the verdict was not justified by the evidence. The suit was for something like $20,000 and the jury brought in a verdict for $500. The ground for the motion was that the jury had disregarded the only testimony relating to the value of the services, and had found its verdict according to its own conjecture of the facts or by a compromise. Mr. Harris cited a number of cases in which manifestly insufficient verdicts had been set aside.
On the trial Judge Lewis held that an executive officer could not recover for services performed for a corporation as its executive officer, and instructed the jury to that effect. The charge was accepted at the time, and the ground of error in the court's charge was made a part of the motion for a new trial. Judge Fensholt held an opposite opinion to this in the case against the railroad.
Mr. Cotton held that the court was right in its ruling, and said that the verdict had never been fully decided by the supreme court of this state. In his argument he incidentally remarked that he thought that the Merritts were an after thought, and were conceived only after the Merritts left the company and the money. In reply Mr. Harris said that he considered such a remark unnecessary, as Mr. Cotton was not talking to "retroactive ungratefuls."
The case will be appealed no matter what the decision may be. There are but a few days more in which to get cases in the April term of the supreme court, so Judge Lewis will probably

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a fatal disease, and prescribed local treatment, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. MARKED THE BILLS.

Perry L. Paine Caught Stealing From His Uncle, J. Wilkey.

Right after dinner today, Capt. Sam Thompson arrested and lodged in the central police station Perry L. Paine, a young man who has been employed as clerk by J. Wilkey, proprietor of the grocery store in the Temple Opera building.
For some time Mr. Wilkey has suspected the clerk of "knocking down" his money. This morning he gave William Platt two $1 bills and one $2 bill, marked in a manner so that they were easily identified beyond a doubt. Platt then went into the store and purchased goods to the amount of $4.
When the money was paid over the counter, so Capt. Thompson told a Herald reporter, young Paine directed the cashier's attention to a telephone call. While she answered that, he made out a slip—"Cash $4"—and handed it to her with the $2 bill.
Platt went out and Mr. Wilkey, looking into the money drawer later, found only two of the $1 that had been marked and then spent over the counter. A young man was summoned and the clerk placed under arrest.
When Capt. Thompson searched Paine in police headquarters he found the marked bills on his person, so there seems to be ample proof that the money was held out from the bill. In fact, Paine admitted the theft. He said that he knew it was wrong when he took it but that it was the first he ever took.
On the young man's person was found $2 in gold, $2 in silver and a few coppers. A bank book showed a balance of $50.33 at the American Exchange bank March 1. On March 11 there was a credit of $20 and on March 19 a credit of $16, making a total deposit of about $90.
Paine resides at No. 1521 East First street and is a nephew of Mr. Wilkey. Wilkey told Capt. Thompson that he would call on the city attorney and swear out a complaint.

Interesting Travels Through
The West of Billy Brown, a Duluth Boy.He Beat His Way Through the Western States and Home Again.Served Time as a Vag in More Than One Place
—His Story.

Billy Brown, alias "Diamond Kid," has returned to Duluth and once more serves and takes nourishment under the parental roof. Oh, you don't know who Billy Brown is. Well, he used to be a Herald newsboy, and at that time he was well known all over the city. He next acted as office boy for Dr. Mattheis, the high rolling optician, who had quarters at the Spaulding just a few months before he was given quarters in the county jail over a Superior. Billy then took a position as carrier boy for the Zenith news stand. Last July he started a touring expedition and, like the disciples of old, he took neither scrip nor purse, depending on the back door generosity of the great American public. Billy Brown, alias "Diamond Kid," is only 15 years old, but he has got there quite as well as may be seen from the story of his wanderings, as he has just returned to Duluth.

"I left here on July 11 last," said the young rover, for Brainerd, in a Northern Pacific box car. There were six or seven of us and what money we had we hid in our shoes. The "brakey" came along and I gave him 50 cents for my ride.

"From Brainerd I went to Fargo, where I was arrested for vagrancy. I had a revolver, which made the police think I was a burglar. I told them I was an honest workman and after two days they let me go.

"A gang of us sprung the end of a Great Northern wheel car and got in. The 'brakey' came along and shut us in. We made a hole in the side of the car and a fellow told us to get out. That was at Devils Lake. We couldn't beg any grub and we were out of town. I made back to Grand Forks. From there I got a train to St. Cloud. There I took a Union Pacific freight for Grand Island. Neb. I hanged a lot there. The police ordered us right out, but gave us pointers as to which freight car to get in.

"Where, gave me three brass rings. I gave one to the 'con' and told him it was worth $5. That I wanted to go to Wilmar and that my brother, who lived there, would redeem the ring. When I got into Wilmar I went to the city authorities and got a tooth pulled, and I got all I wanted to eat in that town, too.

"GOT A COAT AND VEST.

"In Wilmar, about two dozen of us got into a lumber car. The 'brakey' put them all off. I hid under the lumber and he missed me. There were Indians in the car and I traded him one of the rings for a coat and vest. I reached Sioux Falls, S. D., in that car and not being bothered there, made for Sioux City, Iowa, where I was ordered right out of town.

"I next landed in Omaha, where I stayed a day. The police did not bother me, but I took exercise on it. In Omaha I took a Union Pacific freight for Grand Island. Neb. I hanged a lot there. The police ordered us right out, but gave us pointers as to which freight car to get in.

"At North Platte, Neb., I asked a lady for some coffee. She misunderstood me and put up a 50 cent lunch. When she found I had no money, she gave the lunch to me and I took it over to the car and had a good time all night.

"At Sidney, Neb., I got a job passing coal on a big engine. I worked like a mule all night and when I got into Cheyenne, Wyo., I ran into Jeff Carr the first thing. He's the chief of police and he knows me. When he saw me and when he meets a tramp he pulls his gun and commences shooting. I got away from him after being chased and after a big run. I took a train for Cheyenne, Wyo., and I hanged a lot there. The police ordered us right out, but gave us pointers as to which freight car to get in.

"I had no brother in Laramie and made Salt Wells all right. I couldn't get anything to eat there. I got into Cheyenne, Wyo., I ran into Jeff Carr the first thing. He's the chief of police and he knows me. When he saw me and when he meets a tramp he pulls his gun and commences shooting. I got away from him after being chased and after a big run. I took a train for Cheyenne, Wyo., and I hanged a lot there. The police ordered us right out, but gave us pointers as to which freight car to get in.

"I got out of the town and made Hot Springs, Utah, where I was ordered out. A Corinne we locked a Dutch policeman in the water tank and ordered us out. I was out of there. I passed out all night on an engine and got into Cheyenne, Wyo., I ran into Jeff Carr the first thing. He's the chief of police and he knows me. When he saw me and when he meets a tramp he pulls his gun and commences shooting. I got away from him after being chased and after a big run. I took a train for Cheyenne, Wyo., and I hanged a lot there. The police ordered us right out, but gave us pointers as to which freight car to get in.

"At Newton, Kan., I got plenty of 'hand-outs' and a coat. I made a train, and when I woke up in the Kansas City, I got orders from the police, so took the Missouri Pacific for Omaha. I came through Atchison, where there were lots of drunks. I got a group of passengers and ordered us out. When I got to Omaha, a kind hearted policeman helped me find a coat and overcoat and I headed for Sioux City. It took me about two weeks for I got out of nearly every station. From Sioux City, I went to St. James, Minn., and from there to St. Paul. From St. Paul I started out on the Omaha for De Wagon. I was kicked off at nearly every station but once got under a car seat on a passenger train and rode two stations. I got home March 15, and now I am looking for a job."

HIS DEAR TIE TIEPERY.

"People tell about it being almost impossible to beat across the bay on the ferry boat. I did it lots of times, dead end. I'd tell you I would see the captain. Then I'd go on, get in a water closet and stay until the boat was acrossed."

"I bumped it down to Los Angeles and got there December 3. I was picked up three or four days later. I was on the chain gang. We had to grade streets with a pick and shovel and wear a ball and chain. I met Schaefer there. He had a tailor shop in a little room and didn't seem to be doing much. C. H. Holbrook is running a vegetable garden there. He saw me on the chain gang one day and begged for me. He recognized me. I saw a lot of people there who used to be in Duluth."

"Jan. 11 I rode a train twenty miles out of Los Angeles into the fruit country. I was with the farmers for a while. I next landed in San Bernardino, where they give tramps plenty of food and bread and water. I slept in a barn the first night and a fellow with a pitchfork woke me up the next morning. He yelled, 'There's tramps in the barn,' and the owner came with a shotgun and chased us out. We walked out of town and made thirty-two miles that day."

"At Needles, California, I got a hay car to Peach Springs, Arizona. I washed my shirts there and while there were one free drying the Indians stole them. I sat at the back door of the Harvey house and the police run at the prison, where I spent Christmas day. I begged the passenger train and raised $5. I spent every cent buying turkey dinners. I stopped a while in Chandler, a logging camp town, and made Flagstaff, where I ate all right."

"When I reached Winslow I met a boy who was starting out on a tramp himself. He had clothing, some fine blankets and a big revolver. He left his outfit with me and went up town. A main came along and I crowded on ahead. The next town I struck I got three days in jail for vagrancy—the good clothes cheered me."

"At Gallup, N. M., I was ordered out but could catch no train. I begged a passenger train there and got ten days for vagrancy. I went ten miles out to the fort and the soldiers gave me a full suit of blue army clothes, foot boots and even spurs for the heels. I then headed for Albuquerque, New Mexico and as I met the chief of police, dressed in blue clothes and brass buttons, I gave him a military salute. It made him mad and he gave me ten days in the county jail."

"Let me see your knuckles," said the police judge.

"I held them out before him. They were hard and calloused like an honest workman's should be."

"Your hands are like that from grabbing hold of the iron on the side of the box cars," said he.

"Let me see your knuckles," he next ordered.

"I showed my knuckles.

"You got those callouses on your knuckles from hitting them so much on back doors. Ten days," said he.

"I did my ten days in Albuquerque and made Wallace and then Los Cerillos. There I caught a train for Los Vegas. There were six of us in the car. That was Feb. 19 or 20. Four of the tramps lay on their coats. We thought they were sleeping. It was terribly cold and I stamped and jumped around what I could in the car to keep warm. When we got to Los Vegas, four of the tramps were frozen to death. They were taken to Raton where the city spent $150 for lumber and buried them. I froze one foot some and another fellow froze both of his so badly that they had to be cut off."

"I walked out of Raton and reached La Junta, Col., with about two dozen tramps. There I took the 'blind' to Los Animas, where the agent let me sleep in the depot. I caught a freight and reached Dodge City, Kas., where the police chased me out. In eight hours I caught a freight for Kingsley, where I was jailed five days for vagrancy."

"I served my time and made for Hutchinson, Kan., on a train that carried sixty-four tramps. They were on top and underneath and everywhere they could hang on. The police arrested the first four that got off, not thinking there were any more, but when the whole gang crowded off they let us all alone. I walked out of there, and seventeen miles out on a cressmy, where we got a lot of butternut to drink."

"At Newton, Kan., I got plenty of 'hand-outs' and a coat. I made a train, and when I woke up in the Kansas City, I got orders from the police, so took the Missouri Pacific for Omaha. I came through Atchison, where there were lots of drunks. I got a group of passengers and ordered us out. When I got to Omaha, a kind hearted policeman helped me find a coat and overcoat and I headed for Sioux City. It took me about two weeks for I got out of nearly every station. I was kicked off at nearly every station but once got under a car seat on a passenger train and rode two stations. I got home March 15, and now I am looking for a job."

The polo game between the Zeniths of Duluth, and the Superiors at Endon rink Tuesday night wound up the cold season and there will probably be no more games this season. The Zeniths for the second time defeated the Superior club by a score of 2 goals to 1 in a pretty game in which both clubs played good polo.

The Zenith club is composed of young players averaging probably 17 or 18 years of age, and it has been organized but a part of this season. In that time their progress has been marvelous. The boys are all good, strong skaters, and they have devoted a good many spare hours to hard practice. As a result the club has developed a tough game, and if they continue their organization and apply themselves as they have in the past next season will bring them to the front in a way that will make it necessary that even the Duluths, who are the best of the state, shall look to their heels.

The Harrier club, in connection with the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, has effected a temporary organization with George M. Wheatley as captain. A meeting was held Wednesday night at which the temporary organization was made.

application defects may be rectified, bodies straightened and given symmetrical development, and disease may be arrested and even entirely worked out of the system. This is by application and systematic work. On the other hand, by careless work and overdoing one may do just the opposite.

When a man goes into a gymnasium for the first time he is subjected to a thorough physical examination. The system used by Director A. S. Ames, of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, is a good example. All dimensions are taken and placed on record. All muscle girths, all bone girths and lengths are taken, and the would-be athlete is carefully examined for organic troubles.

A table has been prepared from measurements and marked on the chart, and these defects or deficiencies are easily determined. His work for a considerable period is to correct these defects, and a certain line of work is given him to that end. For instance, suppose the pupil's shoulders are uneven. Appropriate exercises tending to draw them into line are given him, and when they are set for him, and the ease with which his build is corrected is remarkable.

Again, suppose a man comes with a chest measurement about thirty-two inches and a waist of the same size. A few months work under the direction of the physical director brings his waist down to about twenty-nine and his chest up several inches. In case of organic disease, such as heart disease or consumption, is discovered, the pupil is directed to a medical adviser immediately. His exercises must be taken with a great deal more care than those of a healthy man. Violent exertion is prohibited the sufferer from heart disease. By combining medical treatment with exercise the pupil may fortify himself against disease and prolong his life. Consumption may be entirely arrested by exercises arranged for that purpose.

The records of the members of the gymnasium, which are taken and compared from time to time, show interest and have made a bank clerk, accustomed to sedentary work for years, his chest below the normal and his waist only one inch, and that wholly lateral. There was not a trace of posterior and anterior expansion. That was a nice opening for the germs of disease. In six weeks work the records showed that his expansion was increased to three and a half inches, equally distributed between the front and sides of the chest."

The ice at Glen Avon rink has not is now nearly an assured fact. A subscription list has received so many signatures that the amounts set opposite their names foot up to a figure nearly large enough to pay for the boat.

The board of trade will probably have a gymnasium in which bulls and bears as well as lambs, if there are any of the latter species of fauna on the Duluth board, may develop their muscles and agility. A petition signed by nearly all of the younger members and many of the older ones was presented to the board of directors yesterday asking that a large room in the basement be set aside for the purpose. The room is not rented for any other purpose, and there is a likelihood that the petition will be granted.

The consolidation plan flared up, became a somewhat sickly flame, which lasted for a few short weeks, and then died. A number of meetings were held at which the various organizations tried to get together, but the attempt was unsuccessful for obvious reasons. At a meeting held Thursday afternoon it became plain that for the present the plan was impracticable, and it was finally abandoned.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 24.

Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic—Pure thoughts, pure words, pure deeds.—Matt. xxiii, 25-28; Ps. li, 6-10. (A temperance topic.)

The life of a man is made up of his thoughts, words and deeds. These are not separate and distinct one from another, but are necessarily interdependent, and each expresses to a greater or less extent the character of the other. To have a true, noble and pure life, therefore, these three attributes of the life must each possess these characteristics.

There must necessarily be pure thoughts, words and deeds if the person be pure. The thoughts cannot be impure and the life pure. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit nor an evil tree good fruit." The stream must partake of the qualities of the fountain in which it has its source. There may be an attempt to have the outward life have the appearance of purity when impurity abides within.

Many like the Pharisees try to "make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess." But God knows the heart as well as the words and the outward life, and any attempt to deceive Him is a miserable failure, and He will bring all who thus try to deceive Him into judgment.

Purity of thought is the great necessity to purity of words and deeds. Sin is first conceived in the heart. Then it is expressed in words, and at the last manifests itself in deeds. When David had repented of his sin and desired once more to be upright, he said, "God, be well to pray. 'Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me.' The heart needed first of all to be cleansed before the life could be what he desired. As with David, so it is with all. If the life has been stained and we have repented of our sin, we should ask God first of all to renew our hearts. If the heart is right with God, the words and deeds of the life will also be right with Him.

It is well to remember also that God demands and expects entire purity—purity in the heart, in the speech and in the behavior. In fact, he will be satisfied with nothing short of this. In the days of Noah "God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually," and He destroyed the world because of its sinfulness. Time and again Christ demonstrated the Pharisees in their hypocrisy—for making a show of godliness when the heart was wrong. As with the thoughts, so it is with our words and deeds.

But how may the heart be pure so that the words and deeds may be pure? There is but one way. God alone can purify the heart. If He purges us, we shall be clean; if He washes us, we shall be white as snow. Resolutions, reformation will not cleanse the heart. Only God can do that.

The Spirit of Endeavor.

Our brethren in the antipodes fully understand the genius of the Christian Endeavor Society, says The Golden Rule. How better could a vital principle of organization be stated than in the following words, delivered before a meeting of the New South Wales union? "The pre-eminent test of our Endeavor is service. Pledged to serve; pledged to serve God; pledged to serve Christ; pledged to serve truth. Blazon it on every banner; weave it in every fiber of your national life; write it in living deeds. Serve, serve. 'We are among you as those who serve.'"

Fact Beats Theory.

Opposers of the Christian Endeavor society may say that the wickedness of organizing any society not specially provided for by name in the New Testament, but the fact remains that the Christian Endeavor idea has enlisted in Christian work thousands of young men and women who had no direct tinge of faith, and as you may have noticed, whenever a fact runs up against a theory, the theory has to be laid by for a reality.—Young People's Weekly.

Our Gifts Multiplied.

The beautiful law of Christian love, life and truth is that the more we give of our own capital the more that capital increases. The widow's crust of oil and barrel of meal increased as she distributed them, and a Christian's sunshine and happiness, faith and hope will be invigorated and multiplied in proportion as he tries to make others hopeful, trustful and happy.—John Cunningham.

Christian Endeavor Brief.

A Young People's church in Los Angeles is the aim of the societies among the United Brethren in Christ.

The Juniors of the Point St. Charles Congregational society of Montreal frequently taken in delegations to visit the sick and poor of the city by the district Bible women. Then the Juniors report their experiences to the society.

They who count themselves too holy to do common work in the Master's kingdom ought to be rebuked in disgrace.

An office for the sale of Christian Endeavor literature has been opened in Sydney.

A good name for the Christian Endeavor pledge is "Our Touchstone."

Better Outlook in Mexico.
MEXICO CITY, March 25.—The improvement in the price of silver greatly stimulated the buying of the foreign exchange during the week and many large transactions have been made by the banks of the United States and other foreign countries, the appearance being that exchange will continue to go down. There is a possibility that the great plethora of $16,000,000 in Mexican silver now lying in the banks of this capital without use will be relieved by loans solicited, and that a decided stimulus will be given foreign trade generally. The feeling in Mexico is much better than some weeks ago, and already the outlook for a largely increased foreign trade is good.

CAPT. MAHAN'S VIEWS.
What the Japanese-Chinese Naval Battles Have Shown.
NEW YORK, March 25.—Capt. Alfred T. Mahan, of the cruiser Chicago has been interviewed in reference to the Japanese-Chinese naval battles. In regard to the report recently cabled from London that the entire British and Russian Mediterranean fleets were to be ordered to the Pacific, Capt. Mahan said: "That, I think, is not at all likely. Before I left, some ships of those fleets had been ordered to the Pacific but it is highly improbable that either England or Russia will leave the Mediterranean stations without a fleet of warships. I do not see why England should want a larger fleet than she now has in either Japanese or Chinese waters."

COOKING.

Police Officers Were Kept Busy Chasing Wrecked Doers Saturday Night.

Jack Curtis Spent Yesterday in Jail Because of a Noisy Spree.

A Crowing Rooster Betrayed the Location of a Cock Fight.

The West Duluth police department experienced quite a little boom in business on Saturday night which for the time being woke memories of better times and by gone days. John Manson was the first victim to take their attention, he being found curled up on the sidewalk on Central avenue in an intoxicated condition.

After his incarceration word came from the home of Jack Curtis that the pugilist was becoming a successful imitator of Sullivan in a domestic way and was maltreating the women and other women acting in a drunken and disorderly fashion about the house.

Lieut. Briggs went up and persuaded Curtis that the best thing he could do under the circumstances would be to peacefully follow the lieutenant to jail. Yesterday Curtis tried to get some of his friends to go his bail by putting up $100 but no one could be found to grant the favor and Curtis was obliged to pass the day behind the cold and cruel bars.

This excitement was hardly over when a rumor came to headquarters that a number of Duluth high rollers had quietly entered West Duluth and that a real blood curdling cock fight was on the tapis. It was whispered about a sporting character was not booked for his place.

The Rooster Crows. Just as the saloonkeeper had entered an emphatic denial of any such conduct and had assumed an air of injured innocence, a rooster which was undoubtedly running a bluff on his antagonist, crowed with loud and haughty voice in the basement below the saloon.

Taking this for a clue the officer made and discovered an interesting fight in full progress with an audience of about 100 Duluth and West Duluth sports.

It is needless to state that the officers adjourned the meeting sine die and that the sports were obliged to depart with spirits broken and feathers drooping.

Fooled by a Wax Figure.

At one of the suburban stations along the line of the Reading railroad an enterprising man who has erected a factory and warehouse, says the Philadelphia Record. Facing the railroad is the large show window of the main saleroom. In this window one day a few weeks ago there appeared to the riders of the early morning train a very pretty girl who seemed to have paused in the midst of her labor of washing to fix her hair. Nearly every male rider who saw her proceeded to flirt with her and the male riders on all trains often passed during the day did the same. In fact, she has been flirted with ever since, although most of the regular riders have long since learned that the beautiful young girl in the window is but a waxen figure.

His Superstition.

Louisville Courier Journal. "I don't believe there is a man living who is without superstition," remarked a second-hand furniture man. "We constantly have people who sell us articles of household use, and come in after a few weeks—sometimes only days—and try to buy them back again, with the explanation that they 'had had luck' ever since the same was made, and never would have good luck again until the bargain was undone. One woman who had sold her grinning image of a man, and because it was gone before she could buy it again. This idea is so common, so much, and so common, that it is almost a truism. At this very time I know a Louisville business man of great culture and refinement who is so superstitious that he will not touch a desk on which he has owned many years ago a desk on which he made an enormous amount of money by a few lucky strokes of his pen. The desk passed from hand to hand and out of his possession; he is now earnestly endeavoring to trace it and purchase it, believing that recent business reverses and hard times will flee away if he can only stretch his legs once more under that same old desk."

LOSS OF POWER

And Manly Vigor, Nervous Debility, Paralysis, or Palsy, Organic Weakness and Wasting Drains upon the system, resulting in loss of mental faculties, impaired Memory, Low Spirits, Morose Irritable Temper, fear of impending calamity, and a thousand other troubles, of both body and mind result from parasitic diseases, often indulged in by the young, through ignorance of the cause, and the result is a loss of power, and a loss of health, and a loss of life. The only remedy is the use of the medicine prepared by a doctor, who has prepared a book, written in plain but choice language, treating of the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. The book is sent free of charge, and is a valuable work, and is a must for every young man, parent and guardian in the land.

WHEAT WAS HIGHER.

Strength Due to Dry Weather in Wheat Belt.

Wheat started at an advance today and after a reaction became steady, slightly above Saturday's closing prices. Cables were about steady and the heavy northwestern receipts were against the price. The strength came from the continued dry weather in the winter wheat belt with predictions for its continuance. Later prices showed a decline but the final increase in the visible supply was about as expected Saturday. The total decrease was 1,100,000 bushels against $4,000,000 decrease a week ago, and 1,100,000 bushels the same week last year. May started at 60¢, sold up to 61¢, reached 61¢, recovered and near the close touched 61¢. July opened at 61¢, and at 10 o'clock had declined to 60¢, but firming up to 61¢ later. There was fair trading in futures, but small business in cash. The close was 1/4¢ higher than Saturday for cash, 1/2¢ higher for May and September and 1/4¢ higher for July. PRESIDENT HILL'S VIEWS.

President James J. Hill of the Great Northern system is everywhere regarded as a careful observer of what is happening in the financial world and his opinions are received with great respect and have due weight with the business men of the country. He has just returned from a visit to Europe, and while there he learned many striking facts of vital interest to financiers, sociologists and economists. In an interview at St. Paul, Mr. Hill said: "The general depression that has prevailed throughout the United States for the past two or three years has been felt to a greater or less extent in all countries in Europe and particularly in those where the greater number of the people are employed in manufacturing establishments. In Great Britain I think that those who are entirely out of employment and the proportion of those working short time is equal to fully one-fourth of the entire number depending on wages for their support. Labor is cheaper on the continent than in Great Britain and this fact is making itself felt."

"The value of the agricultural lands in England has fallen from fifty-one millions in 1879 to forty millions in 1892. The crowded condition of the population of the European countries renders it necessary for the people to find homes elsewhere. The conditions surrounding the industrial population of the United States are affected to a greater or less extent by the conditions surrounding this population in other countries, and notwithstanding the low prices of agricultural products, Mr. Hill thinks the surplus industrial population will be compelled to seek homes on the unoccupied fertile lands of this country, where they can make a living, if they cannot make as large profits as have been made within the past twenty-five years."

Mr. Hill's views on the financial question are interesting. He has always been a bimetalist, but he does not agree with the silver politicians' idea that the way to secure bimetalism is to commit this country to free silver coinage. Mr. Hill says he found that the English manufacturer and landowner, owning agricultural lands are taking a very active interest in bimetalism, and the greater use of silver. They are realizing fully that Argentina, Australia, the East Indies, China and Japan, who are on a silver basis, forcing their labor to accept silver, which they buy for about 55 per cent of the value of gold, have a margin on the labor alone that enables them to undersell the English farmer, or manufacturer, in markets which England has heretofore controlled. From 1870 to 1875, or until France closed her mints against the coinage of silver, England was legally on a gold basis, but practically, on a bimetallic basis, sending her surplus silver to France, having it coined to her credit and used for paying her continental debts on a basis of 15 to 1. After the closing of the French mints, the United States, purchasing over fifty millions of silver per annum, furnished England a market for her surplus silver until the repeal of the Sherman law.

"England," says Mr. Hill, "is either compelled to give up a large amount of the world's trade, which she has heretofore controlled or to increase the use of silver in the world to such an extent that it will not be possible for her competitors to take advantage of the lower difference of gold and silver. If the silver men in the United States will only let congress alone and leave the matter to be worked out by the commercial profit and loss account of Great Britain, the latter nation will be compelled to join with Germany, France and our own country in bringing about a condition of things that will enable the English people to meet the competition of

Of the prospects in this country, Mr. Hill is hopeful. He says: "There is throughout the country a steady improvement in business. This I can say after a careful study of the situation. An important matter is found in the quiet meetings being held almost daily in Chicago among working men who are out of employment. Some of these are very largely attended. They are in this way gathering information and means to locate elsewhere. As a result, there is a steady emigration of these people into the unsettled portions of the Northwest. Our sales of land are doubling right along."

Mr. Hill is recognized as a cool-headed, conservative business man, and he does not grow enthusiastic or optimistic without good reasons. The hopeful strain in which he talks now may therefore be regarded as evidence that he sees much in the situation for encouragement—much more than he has explicitly expressed in his interview.

TWO GREAT PROBLEMS.

A subscriber of The Herald writes from Toledo, Ohio, as follows: "Was it a mere rumor that found its way into the paper that there was oil in the Rainy Lake region, or is there some foundation for the statement? Will you not prepare an article on the oil-bearing rocks and the rocks underlying the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges and see how far the opinion can be sustained that there are both gas and oil on these ranges? These are the two supreme problems in Duluth's future. These two facts assured, and she is the Pittsburgh of the Northwest. No other subjects ought now to so occupy exploration in that north country, and I take it that the Duluth papers would be doing their best service to their city if they could stimulate a persistent watchfulness for these two great products of nature."

"As the oil-bearing rocks are some 1500 feet beneath the surface here in Ohio, I take it that no such depth has been reached by the diamond drill on either ranges as to make a fair test as to whether Minnesota is supplied with them or not. Possibly Professor Winchell has said that the geological formation is unfavorable to either gas or oil. A somewhat clear impression lingers in many minds that Professor Winchell expressed a judgment also that the rocks on these ranges gave no promise of iron ore."

If there is any person who can throw any light upon the subject, which the Toledo gentleman takes such a great interest, The Herald will be pleased to hear from him. If oil, gas or coal can be found in this vicinity, all present calculations as to the future growth of Duluth would need revision. The greatest manufacturing center in the country will soon be established here."

THE IRON ORE BOUNTY.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press says: "One of the most vicious propositions brought before this legislature is a contemplated amendment to the constitution to turn over half the proceeds of mineral land leases to any company that shall smelt iron within the limits of the state. The mere statement of the thing is its sufficient condemnation. There has been experience enough with the business of offering bounties, bonuses and other inducements in different parts of the country to condemn it utterly."

Yet the Pioneer Press is an adherent of a political party, which has as its chief plank in its platform the bounty system. What is the protective policy of the Republican party but a system of bounties for the manufacturers? The Republican party has declared in favor of protecting American industries from foreign competition, and it has asserted that in this way the industries of this country will be built up, giving plenty of employment to our workmen, and providing a large home market for our farmers. Tariff duties have been raised to a figure that compels people here to pay higher prices for certain goods in order that American industries may be built up and that American workmen may receive higher wages than their brethren in Europe receive. What is this but a system of bounties?

Again, the Republican party granted a bounty to the producers of cane, beet and maple sugar. The Pioneer Press may have objected to this policy one of its free trade spasms when there was no election at hand, but when the campaign came on it had nothing but words of praise for the Republican party. It is therefore rather strange to see it now objecting to the bounty system.

And if the system of protection and bounties is good for the whole country as against the rest of the world, why is it not good for the state of Minnesota? Why should not Minnesota offer encouragement for the establishment of iron manufacturing within the state? The Pioneer Press talks of giving away money that should go to the school fund and calls it robbery. Does not the Pioneer Press know that the taxes which would be levied upon these plants and the taxes which the hundreds and probably thousands of employees would pay to the state would exceed many times the small amount given by the state as a bonus? In addition to this the amounts expended in wages to employees would be spent in the state increasing the number of merchants who would also contribute to the state treasury in taxes, while a much larger home market would be provided for the products of the farm.

The echoes of the stupendous political revolution of last November in New York city still roll on throughout the land, says the Boston Transcript. They are felt visibly in the efforts made everywhere to improve municipal government, driving out more placemen everywhere and substituting their stead officials who will not continue their efforts to party aggrandizement, but will endeavor to advance the public good as a primary motive. If stolid partisans attempt to set up or maintain ring rule, they will, as the result of New York's awakening to its duty, be sure to encounter the opposition of large masses of respectable citizens. This is a good augury for our country, as so much of general prosperity depends upon our towns and cities being governed by men who will not abuse the trust confided to their charge.

The Prussian parliament is not troubled either by the theater hat or the theater posters, but it has another perplexing topic for consideration. What has taken up its time and exhausted its patience is the long skirts of walking costumes, which collect microbes and germs and other things, that the Prussian hygienic authorities say are bad. The government has promised parliament to consider a bill abbreviating these skirts, and it is particularly German that the dress reformers in Berlin are rejoicing in expectation of a legislation in the favor of their hobby.

The trolley system has been applied to various uses, but St. Louis has the ambulance trolley car. It is thirty-three feet long, mounted on double trucks, rides easily, is lighted by electricity, equipped with reclining chairs, stretchers, etc., and manned by trained nurses and a surgeon. In a city so honeycombed with trolley lines as St. Louis the service to be obtained from such a vehicle can not be overestimated. Why not have one in Duluth?

The baby holds apparent of Europe's effete monarchies have a most variegated future before them. With the rise of the Republican, Liberal and Socialistic leaven from London to St. Petersburg these princelings are more or less bound to come to a bad end. The child of Napoleon I, who, in his cradle, was king of Rome, and who, at Schoenbrunn, only a few years later, died the forsaken of death.

The expected has happened in the Maine legislature, and the woman municipal suffrage bill, which was recently passed in the popular branch, has been defeated in the senate by a vote of 11 to 15. The woman suffrage bill did not pass either branch of the Massachusetts legislature this year. The adverse vote was emphatic.

A Minneapolis man has offered to be one of 1,000,000 to give $1 each towards the erection of a capital building in that city. Thus has the state an opportunity of having another million.

When the state census has been taken and a new apportionment bill based upon it has been passed, Northern Minnesota will have a majority vote in the legislature.

Great Britain now declares that she does not want any territory from Nicaragua, she intends to respect the Monroe doctrine. This is as it should be.

Woman's Rights.

A fight to tread as softly as a feather on the couch of man; To smooth with gentle fingers the tangled curls of woman; To watch beside the dying in low small hours of night; And breathe a consecrating prayer When the spirit takes its flight.

Alight, to clear the way; On the battlefields of life; To give the words of sympathy to the fallen and the dying; To lift the burdened soul; From care and the burden; And never weary of the task This gloomy career departs.

A right to be a woman; No duties to be assigned; If it should be a hard one, No duties to be assigned; A right to show to others; How strong a woman grows When she is free and loving; And life bears not a rose.

A right to love one truly; And be loved back again; A right to share his fortunes Through sunshine and through rain; A right to be protected; From life's most cruel blights; By manly love and courage; And life bears not a rose.

PINGREE ENDORSED.
St. Paul Globe: Pingree may yet be president. His potato plan has been endorsed in Minneapolis and Duluth.

A CLEVELAND SCHEME.
Two Harbors Iron News: West Superior has been offered to annex itself to Duluth if Wisconsin will cede a portion of Douglas county to Minnesota. This is possible, but this is a device of West Superior to secure a normal school by joint proprietorship with the Duluth institution, it having allowed one to get away from it last year.

A NEW YORK VIEW.
New York Mercury: And now it is the "Greater Duluth." The proposition is to have Wisconsin cede to Minnesota all the territory west of the St. Croix river, about 1600 square miles in all and then consolidate the cities of Superior (now in Wisconsin) and Duluth. That done, Duluth would begin to look something like the Duluth which Proctor Knott saw in his mind's eye twenty years ago.

A MICHIGAN SONGSTER.
New York Tribune: It was the subject of a remark that the Abbey and Grau Opera company of this year had five American prima donnas. This is a gratifying state of things. The present German Opera company at the Metropolitan is not so well supplied with American women, but it is not wholly without them. One that it has is Miss Marcella Lindh, who has not yet been seen, but whose voice has been heard as the Forest Bird in "Siegfried."

Her musical talent early manifested itself, and her parents took her abroad, where she received a training in music and languages. When but 14 years old the girl attracted attention by the purity of her voice. At the age of 17 she made her debut in Berlin as Suzanne in "The Marriage of Figaro." Here she also sang in "Mikademo," "Carmen," "La Traviata," and "The Barber of Seville." Following this she traveled through Germany with much success, and three years ago returned to America. Since then she has devoted herself to concert singing.

And whereas, no act or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described and situate in St. Louis County, Minnesota, to-wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 8

Harrah, second vice president of the Illinois Central; W. H. Baldwin, third vice president of the Southern railroad; and E. T. D. Each American road is entitled to send two to eight delegates. The president of the international railway congress is Mr. Dubois, administrator of the Belgian state railways, and the secretary is Mr. Weissenbruch.

ARMS FOR THE CUBANS. Hunters Saw Arms Shipped From the Florida Coast.

TAMPA, Fla., March 23.—A party of hunters who arrived at Palm Beach last night brings news that a filibustering craft was loaded with arms between there and Santa Ana. They say that yesterday they came upon a party of men putting all in a boat to sea, which was standing off to about a mile off the coast. The boatmen were greatly excited by the appearance of the hunters, and rowed rapidly to the vessel. Through a glass the hunters saw boxes heaped up on the vessel's side. When all the boxes had been transferred, the men clambered up the vessel's side and shot away south. The hunters began an investigation and soon found signs of a camp in the scrub and also recent excavations. They dug into this and unearthed a long narrow box, which was found to be full of rifles and matches; they brought some of these arms here.

The place where the discovery was made is a lonely spot on the east coast, where, but for the accident, a cargo of arms might be loaded without interference. It is supposed these arms were shipped here by rail and the vessel transferred to the place where the vessel was seen. The hunters are confident that the vessel was in the employ of Cuban revolutionists.

SHOT AT LI HUNG CHANG. Young Japanese Tried to Kill the Chinese Envoy.

YOKOHAMA, March 23.—Resolutions have been submitted to the Japanese diet regretting the attack on Li Hung Chang, who was shot and wounded in the face yesterday at Shimonoeki.

As the Chinese viceroy was returned yesterday to his lodgings in Shimonoeki, after having attended a conference with Count Ito and Viscount Mutsu, the Japanese peace envoys, a young Japanese fired a pistol at him. The bullet fortunately did no more harm than to inflict a wound in Li Hung Chang's face. The would-be murderer, whose name is Koyama Bokunoki, has been arrested. It is believed that he was prompted to the deed by misguided patriotism.

DEBS' CASE ARGUED. The Contempt Case Before the Federal Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The United States supreme court today began the hearing of arguments in the case of E. V. Debs, president of the A. R. U., and others who participated with him in the Chicago strike of last summer. The knowledge that the case was to come up did not attract so large an audience of distinguished people as when the income tax was being considered, but the attendance was considerably in excess of that of ordinary days and was greater than could be accommodated with seats.

The counsel number three on the side of the defendants, headed by Hon. Lyman Trumbull, and including Messrs. Gregory and Darrow, Assistant Attorney General Whitney and Edwin Walker, special United States attorney, appeared for the government. The early proceedings developed that while the argument would be extended, the question at issue was not complex. Debs and his associates ask for a writ of habeas corpus, relieving from the sentence of imprisonment passed upon them by Judge Woods.

The fact was soon also developed that the main contention of the petitioners was that the original bill stated no case cognizable in chancery and that therefore the injunction was void and that the persons at whom it was aimed were not bound to observe it. In support of this proposition, they asserted that without statutory authority from congress, the government could maintain no such bill, and that no such authority could be found unless it be in an act of 1890 known as the Sherman anti-trust act. But they contended that this act was not applicable, or if it was, that section 4, authorizing such proceeding was unconstitutional, because, involving the proceedings in chancery, in such a case, it deprived defendants on trial under a penal statute of the right of trial by jury.

FARMERS COMPLAINING. Damage to the Winter Wheat Crop in Wisconsin.

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., March 23.—The farmers are complaining because of the damage to the winter wheat crop. There has been no snow of importance during winter and no rains so far this spring, and with hard freezing at night and thawing during the day, it has been very hard on this crop, and in some places it is entirely killed out. Unless there is a heavy rain, there will be little prospect of a rise in the river this spring, as the snow has gone off so gradually there is, rose left, and the frost is mostly out of the ground. It will drink up an ordinary rain without affecting the river at all and will leave the logs hung up.

It also looks as though it would be an off year for berries in this county, as the forest fires last summer and fall burned over so much of the blueberry country and it takes two years before they begin bearing again. The winter has also been very severe on the cranberry crop, the vines in some places being entirely killed off.

Fatal Slabbing Case.

New York, March 23.—Patrick Neveine was fatally stabbed by John McCall in the tenement in East Eighteenth street, occupied by Neveine and his family, at midnight. McCall, who was a tenant of the same building, broke into Neveine's room, according to the story told by the wounded man and his wife, and without provocation attacked Neveine with a knife, stabbing him in the abdomen and twice in the breast. McCall is in custody.

The Danger Past.

PITTSBURGH, March 23.—Two enormous ice corgies, which threatened the safety of a number of towns along the river, slid out quietly today. One was near Kittanning and the other, three miles in length, in the Mahoning creek, at its junction with the Allegheny.

Waller House Burned.

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., March 23.—The Waller house, a small hotel at Central Lake, burned at midnight. James Miller, the porter, was cremated and the other inmates narrowly escaped with their lives.

Municipal Anti-Fusion Law.

LANSING, Mich., March 23.—The supreme court has rendered a decision on the anti-fusion law. The court holds that the law is valid, but it does not apply to the case of A. M. Todd, the people's candidate for congress in the Third district, inasmuch as Todd was nominated by one party and endorsed by another before the law was passed.

Not to be Dissolved.

BERLIN, March 23.—The National Zeitung is informed semi-officially that the government does not intend to dissolve the reichstag as a result of the refusal of that body on Saturday last to agree to congratulate Prince Bismarck on his birthday.

Tornado in Ohio.

DELAWARE, Ohio, March 23.—A tornado visited this city and vicinity last midnight, uprooting houses, uprooting trees and demolishing fences. The business block of W. E. Knick, on Sandusky, suffered the most in the city. Several persons were injured but no fatalities are yet reported.

Acquitted of Murder.

HUTCHINSON, Kan., March 23.—The jury in the case of Charles Carson returned a verdict of not guilty. Carson was charged with the killing of his wife, Christmas eve, at Nickerson, Kan.

Sullivan Improving.

BOSTON, March 23.—John L. Sullivan's condition is improving. He slept well last night and this morning partook of a good breakfast. It is expected that he will be out in a few days.

Is Opposed to It.

Senator Spencer asked the board of trade for an expression of opinion on the bill providing for the election of members of the state railroad and warehouse commission by popular vote. The board this morning adopted a resolution against it deeming it to be the best interests of the state to have the commission appointed by the governor as they now are.

THE MICHAUX CLUB.

The Cycling Organization of the Four Hundred and its Founder.

All kinds of sports have their heyday and period of prosperity. Some have attained great popularity simply because what is known as "society" has taken them up for a brief space of time. Cycling needs no such booming to make it popular; nevertheless society as exemplified by the "Four Hundred" of New York has taken to it as a fad. It has organized a club and is now actively engaged in learning to ride and to distinguish a pedal from a brake.

The Ward McAllister of cycling is Mr. C. Wyndham-Quinn. He has been the prime mover in the creation of the Michaux club, the cycling organization of the "Four Hundred." Ladies especially are receiving careful attention and instruction within the precincts of the club's riding school, and many well-known society women are becoming expert riders. Although the New York women have not adopted such strikingly "fin de siècle" costumes as many commonly have seen on the boulevards of Paris, still a good many of them have adopted the rational dress, ordinarily known as bloomers in some form or shape. Bicycling, moreover, is not likely to die out or remain a mere fad among "the upper ten thousand," for it has proved much more efficacious than tennis or golf in keeping down "amateurism," that worst enemy of the society woman.

New York is by no means the only city to feel the effects of the bicycle craze among its leaders of fashion. Brooklyn has a similar organization, and many towns and cities throughout the United States are fast falling into line.

Mr. Wyndham-Quinn has also been mentioned in connection with Austin Corbin, the railroad magnate, as being interested in a project to build a magnificent cycle track at Manhattan Beach, the popular summer resort on Long Island, a few miles from New York.

An Up to Date Wheelman's Bicycle Trunk.

The bicycle trunk is the latest convenience demanded by an up to date wheelman. It resembles a Samsonite that has been put under a hydraulic press and flattened out like a pancake. It stands on one edge and is only a few inches wide. Before the wheel is put into the trunk for shipping the handle bar and pedals are removed. These can be placed in small compartments along the walls of the trunk. A bicycle which is packed in a trunk may be checked as baggage. The trunk is in general use by the salesmen of bicycle houses and have been ordered by nearly all of the races. Wheels which are sent unpacked in baggage cars are always liable to be "stove up" or broken, so that the racers carry them in the trunk for protection as well as for economy. The trunk is built to endure rough treatment, and they cost from $10 upward each.

State Institute for Teachers
Began at the High School Today.

President Lord, of Moorhead Normal School, is Conducting It.

Miss Margaret McElligott is Assisting. Thirty Teachers Expected.

The state teachers' institute, conducted by County Superintendent Sulz, opened at 1:30 p. m. today at the Central High School building in Room 101. It will be continued through the week until Friday and then close with examinations of such of the teachers who wish or require certificates permitting them to teach in the county schools. The sessions will open at 9 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. each day. The instructors arrived in the city this morning and have taken quarters at the Spaulding. They are Professor L. C. Lord, president of the State normal school at Moorhead, and Miss Margaret T. McElligott, teacher of arithmetic and language in the same institution. Both instructors have excellent reputations in their lines and undoubtedly will make the week a profitable one for those in attendance. Superintendent Sulz does not look for an attendance of much over thirty. When the session opened this morning about twenty-five were present, nearly all ladies. A few men were present but they are so overwhelmed by the members of the fairer sex that they will stand no show, unless they remain very much.

CAME IN EARLIER.

St. Paul Mail Now Arrives at 1:50 Instead of 3 O'Clock.

The St. Paul & Duluth brought the afternoon mail from the Twin Cities in at 1:50 this afternoon instead of at 3 o'clock, as heretofore. The cause of this is the change in time on the Eastern Minnesota, which went into effect yesterday, together with the new night train. The Eastern goes in at 10 o'clock hereafter, although she was a few minutes late today. In order for the St. Paul & Duluth to get the mail into Duluth it was necessary to bring it here before.

A special was made up at Hinkley and the mail was taken from the regular train and brought to Duluth in an hour and ten minutes ahead of time. This will be done for a few days until the St. Paul & Duluth's new time goes into effect, when the day train will arrive at 1:50 instead of 3 o'clock.

He Likes White Earth. Maj. Baldwin, chairman of the Chippewa Indian commission, returned yesterday from a visit to the White Earth reservation. He speaks in glowing terms of the White Earth reservation, saying that it is a garden spot, if all be true. A few lines of land where the reservation will be located, he says, are being transferred to White Earth, where they can get eighty acres, and possibly 100, of the finest kind of land. Maj. Baldwin thinks they will eventually come around it and consent to be removed.

Forty Hours Devotion. The forty hours devotion opened this morning at St. Clements church with solemn high mass at 9 o'clock. The devotion will be terminated Wednesday evening on which occasion Rt. Rev. Bishop McGillicuddy will speak. The sermons tonight and tomorrow night will be preached by Very Rev. Alfred Mayer, of St. Paul, known as one of the best pulpit orators in the West. At 8:30 o'clock every morning there will be high mass and sermon by Rev. Father Eustace, of Superior.

A Surprise Party. Mr. and Mrs. William Abrahamson were given a surprise party yesterday afternoon at their home, in honor of the third anniversary of their marriage. There was music, recitations and refreshments. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Gust Levine, Mr. and Mrs. N. Summerfield, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cohn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Levine, Mr. and Mrs. B. Edelmann, Mr. and Mrs. I. Abrahamson, all of Duluth, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. I. Cohn and Mrs. S. Summerfield, of West Superior.

Births and Deaths. Births as follows have been reported to the board of health: Brocco and Gracia Maziotto, 819 West Superior street, a daughter; Alexander and Regina Robert, 1418 Clifton street, a son. The death of Mrs. Margaret Lahey was reported this morning. She was 72 years of age and had been ill for some time. The remains will be interred at Niles, Mich.

The Ice is Breaking. The outer edge of the ice is rapidly breaking up, and a strong northeast gale would undoubtedly finish it. Yesterday a line of ice, 300 to 400 feet in area, broke off at Lester Park and floated out into the lake. The ice seems still to be fairly firm and is not honeycombed to any great degree. The end is about half a mile east of Lester Park, six miles from Duluth.

SIGNAL OF DISTRESS.

Flag on the Federal Building Caused Some Anxiety.

Through a powerful telescope the federal building on Fifth avenue west was observed to be flying signals of distress this morning. The national colors were hoisted union down, as is the nautical custom when a craft is in trouble. The building was hailed (through a telephone) and anxious inquirers sought to learn the trouble which caused the signal of distress to be shown. In this way it was learned that the flag was sent up wrong end foremost by a Scandinavian employe who has not been in this country long enough to learn which end of the flag goes up first. When the mistake was discovered by the inmates of the building, pressure was brought to bear on the janitor, and the flag was reversed, giving relief to those who had observed the signal and who feared that the building might be foundering from the weight of its own ugliness.

Some Bids Opened. The bids for constructing an open culvert in Twenty-sixth avenue west from Michigan street to First street, which is the bed of Miller creek, along the street car track, were opened by the board of public works this morning, were as follows: C. J. Frederickson, $5750; G. R. King & Co., $5567.80; L. C. Meining, $7299.50; Aranson & Thompson, $5400.25; John Clyne, $5318.75; Fredin & Wilson, $5960.99.

The contract was awarded to John Clyne. For constructing a sanitary sewer in New street from Seventeenth avenue to Eighteenth avenue west, the bids were: J. M. Fitzgerald, $5500; L. C. Meining, $5751.15; Bubar & Heisler, $4900.05; J. D. O'Connell, $5331.10; J. W. Preston, $5800.00; Aranson & Thompson, $5515.50; M. Fitzgerald, $472.85.

HIGHTON IS BITTER.

Says He will Come Back and Pursue His Persecutors.

Sheriff W. W. Butchart left this forenoon for Stillwater, accompanying Alfred G. Highton, the aged high roller who goes down for six months. He goes, but like the melodramatic villain, he will come again, according to his story. When he left this morning it was with a heart full of bitterness toward his enemies in Duluth, and he announced his intention of returning and sending his persecutors behind the bars. "You are nice people to jump on a man when he is down," said the old gentleman angrily. "When I came here I bought the Spaulding for $400,000 and gave $20,000 in payment. Now, if I had had that money in the bank I would have lost it through the indignities to which I have been subjected." When he passed by the Spaulding for the first time since his arrest six months ago he took his fist at the windows and cried out: "Oh, I'll be back; I'll fix you!"

Prize Fight Last Night.

Up on Fifth street last night a glove contest was pulled between a couple of 14-year-old boys, before about thirty-five companions of a similar age. Eleven rounds were hotly fought when one of the boys was taken sick and attempted to cough up a lung. The referee—there was one and seconds as well—then declared the fight a draw. Similar contests will be given in the future, the young sports say.

Fourth Street Sale.

J. A. Mannheim and Mathias Haug have sold a piece of property on Fourth street at the corner of First avenue west at a price which is considered a very good one. The property consists of 125 feet on the northwest corner on which is situated a two-story double store building. The purchaser is the Homestead Building and Loan association, and the consideration is $31,700.

The Court Filings. In the case of Mary Wiczorkun against Ezra Bubar and Charles Hanson, to restrain the defendants from prosecuting a suit for unlawful detainer, now pending in municipal court against the plaintiff, an order has been filed denying an injunction.

A motion for a new trial has been denied in the case of John Chessier against the Franklin Iron Mining company.

The case of Charles E. Valentine against the Van Dusen Elliott company has been dismissed.

In the matter of the assignment of the Iron Range Brewing company, Judge Lewis has signed an order approving the final accounts of Assignee Charles McNamara and ordering his discharge and the release of his bondsman.

The National Bank of Commerce has sued A. T. Scarlett for $3215.80 on a note. Some time ago Edmund Caplis sued the American Fire Insurance company and received a verdict for $507. The defendant asked for a new trial and it was granted. Caplis appealed, and a transcript of judgment from the supreme court was filed this morning overruling the order of the district court granting a motion for a new trial.

Lacrosse Club Meeting. A meeting will be held Wednesday evening in Dr. King's office, King block, for the purpose of reorganizing the Duluth Lacrosse club. It is the intention of the club this year to play for the state championship so all enthusiastic admirers of the game are requested to attend the meeting.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than in any other, but together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. It is now, however, pronounced a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by using catheters with local treatment, pronounced incurable, science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally and acts through the mucous surfaces. It is sold by druggists and testimonials. Address: J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, N. C.

HIGH-WATER MARK.

THE WEATHER.

U. S. Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Minn., March 26.—Area of high pressure in the Canadian Northwest to the lower Missouri valley, and the barometer has fallen, with warmer, partly cloudy weather. Light rain or snow has occurred in the lake region, with winds generally brisk and high. In the remaining districts the weather has been fair. The lowest thermometer reading reported is at St. Louis, Mo., where it is above zero at Saint Ste. Marie. The highest is at Duluth, at 3 p. m. today, 22; maximum yesterday, 23; minimum yesterday, 20.

Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity till 7 p. m. tomorrow: Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness tonight; warmer tonight and Wednesday; winds, mostly southeast to southwest.

CHICAGO, KENNELS.
Local forecast until 5 p. m. tomorrow: Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness tonight; warmer tonight and Wednesday; winds, mostly southeast to southwest.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.
The annual message of Mayor Lewis read to the common council last evening is a document that will repay careful perusal. In it are embodied very complete accounts of the workings of the various departments during the past year and a statement prepared by Treasurer Voss showing the condition of the city's finances. The showing is of an excellent character and indicates that the affairs of the city have been carefully and economically administered during the past twelve months. So far as Mayor Lewis is concerned, he certainly has fulfilled his election pledge, reaffirmed upon his induction into office, to give the city a first class, honest, and economical business administration. That he has faithfully carried out his promises, the records prove most conclusively.

In the management of the police department, which is under the mayor's direct control, an exercise of economy has resulted in a large saving to the city without in any way destroying the efficiency of the department. The records show that crime in Duluth is not increasing, and that in comparison with other cities it stands in the front rank for good order and absence of serious crimes. That this happy state of affairs is largely due to the policy pursued by the administration cannot be doubted. In handling the city's question, the administration has pursued a policy which has achieved good results, particularly in the maintenance of good order, and it will be conceded by every fair-minded observer that there is less drunkenness to be seen upon the streets of Duluth than upon the streets of any other port on the great lakes or upon the Atlantic coast. This undeniable fact speaks volumes for the success of the administration's efforts.

Mayor Lewis has made several recommendations which deserve attention. The chief one is that rigid economy should be practiced in the administration of the city's affairs during the coming year, and that no street improvements should be given the summer except where absolutely necessary, and that hereafter when streets are opened up or graded the gas and water mains and sewers should be laid in the streets at the same time. This is good advice which should be heeded by the council. The treasurer's statement shows that an economical policy must be pursued, and it was an inappropriate time for an alderman to introduce a resolution last night to increase the salaries of the chief of police and other members of the police department. There is no reason for an increase in salaries at this time. The chief of police is receiving a good salary which many competent men would be glad to receive. The other members of the department have no reason to complain about their salaries. It will be time enough to talk about increasing salaries in the police department or any other department when prosperity has returned to the country.

Another recommendation by the mayor is timely. He advocates the abolition of the municipal court at West Duluth. The Herald heartily endorses this recommendation, as it is in line with what it has been urging ever since the legislature opened. There is no reason why the West Duluth court should be retained. It is a needless expense and should be abolished as soon as possible. The members of the legislature from this district should introduce a bill to abolish the court. There should be no trouble about securing its passage.

AN ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK.
Reports from the East agree in stating that the business outlook is most encouraging. On all sides there are signs of betterment, and it is believed that the return of prosperous times is close at hand. The New York Herald says that every day brings new evidence of a more hopeful sentiment pervading the business community and sentiment is a very important factor in trade as well as in speculation.

Silver is steadily increasing in value, and dealers expect a brisk summer trade. An increase in the amount of the bank clearings reflects an increased interchange of commodities, and railway traffic returns, while not large, show an encouraging improvement over those reported a month ago. Silver is steadily increasing in value, and the markets for grain and cotton have broadened and advanced in a manner which recently would have appeared incredible. The recently issued government bonds have risen to a level at which they yield less than 3 per cent to investors, and corporate securities have begun to adjust themselves to this standard by a general advance in prices.

Wall street, which is popularly supposed to force and "discount" good or bad times in perspective, has awakened into new life with a willing and anxious market for stocks. Merchants notice among their customers an increased willingness to spend money, and as a consequence of the nascent revival more commercial paper is being offered for discount and the banks and other money lenders are feeling more cheerful.

THE MANITOBA TROUBLE.
If some of the sensational press dispatches from Winnipeg are to be believed, there is a serious danger of a revolution over the school question. Knowing, however, the tendency of the Winnipeg correspondents of American papers to indulge in exaggeration, The Herald does not look forward to any such ending to the agitation now proceeding in Canada's prairie province. There is considerable excitement in no doubt true, but the people of Manitoba are not going to fight each other nor will they succumb to the Dominion. The matter will probably be adjusted without resort to arms by some compromise agreement that will restore peace.

That the Catholics of Manitoba have a real grievance cannot be honestly disputed. After careful investigation and listening to learned arguments on both sides of the question, the judicial committee of the English privy council, the highest legal tribunal in the British empire, found that a grievance did exist and that the Catholics of Manitoba were entitled to a remedy. The Dominion government was instructed to provide the remedy, and it has issued a remedial order calling upon the government of Manitoba to restore Catholic parochial schools. The Manitoba premier says that his government will decline to obey the order. This will necessitate the passage of remedial legislation by the Dominion parliament. Then the crisis will be reached. There will be an open conflict between the federal and provincial authorities.

Most people, learning the cause of the dispute, will take a stand against the Catholics' demand for separate schools, because the people of the United States believe in a free, non-sectarian school system, which is established here and guaranteed by the constitution. But the conditions in Manitoba are altogether different. Separate schools were guaranteed to the Catholics of Manitoba when that province was created by the Dominion. This guarantee was given after the first rebellion and it was one of the pledges made to the Dominion government in order to secure the cessation of hostilities by the half-breeds.

Over twenty years passed. The stream of immigration from England and the older Canadian provinces turned towards Manitoba, and the Roman Catholics at last found themselves in the minority. Indeed very largely outnumbered by the English and Protestants. In 1888 there came a deadlock in the Manitoba legislature between Conservatives and Liberals. The Conservatives were in power, or as they had been from the formation of the province. Circumstances made it necessary for them to have a new minister elected. If this minister were returned, the Conservatives could hold power and rule over their difficulties.

If, however, the minister were defeated by the Liberals, it was equivalent to wrecking the Conservative government. The minister selected was Joseph Burke, a Frenchman and a Catholic, and the constituency for which he was named was overwhelmingly Roman Catholic. The Conservatives sought to elect Burke by declaring that, should their government be beaten, the Liberals would abolish parochial schools. The Liberal leaders were Thomas Greenway and Joseph Martin. These gentlemen assured the people to whom they were appealing that, if Burke was defeated and the Liberals came into power, the Catholic parochial schools would not be interfered with. On this pledge the issue turned. Burke was defeated, Greenway became premier and Martin attorney general.

In 1890, or about two years later, Martin introduced in the legislature a measure abolishing Catholic parochial schools and abolishing what is called a national school system, but which, Catholics contend, is a Protestant school system. Then began the long battle in the courts which has resulted in the present state of affairs.

Up to the time that the new school law was introduced by Attorney General Martin the Catholics and Protestants of Manitoba were living peacefully together. Each had their own schools, and neither contributed to the support of the other's schools. There was no demand from the people for a change, because all were satisfied, simply because the state of affairs was the result of a solemn compact. It remained for Premier Greenway and Attorney General Martin to arouse a religious and race feeling in order to perpetuate their control of the provincial government. They were afraid to go to the people upon their record otherwise, and this issue was introduced to inflame the public mind and deflect attention from its record upon other questions. That the plan succeeded the records show, but what serious results are to come in the future cannot now be predicted.

When Mrs. Mary D. Lawrence, the first woman to apply for admission to the Jackson county bar, was called upon by a Kansas City "Star" reporter, she was found preparing dinner and "she went about it with all the ease of an experienced housekeeper," and the kitchen "was pervaded with a savory smell and everything looked bright and clean." That a woman of this kind should be breaking into the legal profession speaks well for the profession, but for her husband, says the St. Louis Star-Banner.

Japan, it is understood, will exact a large indemnity from China and take bonds instead of cash. This will afford the visitors a sort of perennial lien on the vanquished. So the Japanese content themselves with a cash indemnity, the Chinese might, by a spirit, imitate the example of France and be quits with their conqueror in six months.

The following startling information is conveyed in the News Tribune's head lines on the Manitoba school question: "Fud is added to the flames—Dominion cabinet makes one of its members military minister." As the minister of militia is always a member of the cabinet, it is puzzling to understand what the News Tribune means.

Telephone wars in Topeka and numerous other Kansas cities show the benefit of competition. The price has been cut in two, the number of instruments in use has greatly increased, the subscribers are getting much better service and what was once a luxury is becoming a necessity.

It is just possible that some Minnesota man put sand on the ways and thus prevented the launching of the St. Paul at Cramp's ship yard.—P. S. This paragraph was suggested by a St. Paul man.

Nearly 72 per cent of all the wheat in store at Duluth today grades No. 1 hard. It is the largest stock of No. 1 hard wheat in the country.

A cheap cab crusade is creating quite a stir in New York. Twenty-five cents a mile is to be the ruling rate, and the cabbies are coming down to it in great numbers.

"TUE 'LORELEI."
For sadness sake, let me,
No reason can I find,
I have an evil look,
That will not quit my mind.
The air is cool, it is darkening,
And quiet flows the Rhine;
The mountain peak is sparkling,
Where evening sunbeams shine.

Aloft amid the beaming
She comes and times thereby,
In notes of rapturous singing,
A wondrous melody.
The bonanza is drifting by,
Soer not the rapids foaming—
To only look on O'er boat and boatman clinging
At last the waters sing,
And with alien slurs,
The Lorelei has sung.—W. B. Moore.

SUGGESTIONS TO ARTISTS.
Chicago Record: "What a splendid expression of profound unadornedness of the spirit," said the critic, "you have worked into your portrait of Hamlet!" How did you do it?

"That, sir," said the artist, "is the result of a composite photograph of several people waiting their turn in a dentist's ante-room."

ENGLISH AND FRENCH AT FOOTBALL.

A recent football match in Paris between French and English teams, played on the field from which the snow had been cleared a few hours before the game began, resulted in a victory for the Englishmen. The game was played under association rules and was a closely contested one.

Scrofula From Childhood

"My mother has been afflicted with scrofula in her head since her childhood. She is now in her first year. She has also suffered from weakness in her back for years. She has never expected any relief, but she has been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla and has freed her system from scrofula, cured burning pains in her feet and limbs and also a pain in her left breast which prevented her from lying on that side for fourteen years. It has made her feel many years younger."

COUNCIL

W. B. Welles Appointed a Member of the Board of Public Works.

Action Taken Favoring the Abolition of the West Duluth Court.

Chief Black's Salary Raised—Alderman French Secures a Job.

The council meeting opened last evening with the announcement of some appointments by Mayor Lewis. Gilbert Boyd, at the request of the board of education, was appointed a special policeman at the Central High School building without pay. William B. Welles was appointed the successor of Capt. Farrell on the board of public works, and Alderman Cox and Ash were named as members of the board of health from the Central High School building without pay. William B. Welles was appointed the successor of Capt. Farrell on the board of public works, and Alderman Cox and Ash were named as members of the board of health from the Central High School building without pay.

The city attorney submitted an opinion to the effect that municipal court No. 2, at West Duluth, is of no use for any purpose and that the city has no use for it. A petition was also read, signed by leading citizens of West Duluth, praying that the court be abolished. Later on, a resolution by Alderman Hale was passed, requesting the members of the legislature from St. Louis county to prepare a bill and secure its passage for the abolition of that court. The city clerk will submit to them the resolution and other documents and the mayor, Judge Hoyt and others will go to St. Paul to further the plan.

A petition from W. H. Smallwood and others, asking that H. C. Osterhout be appointed city seal and seal measures, was received and filed. Annual reports from the chief of police, public library board and city clerk were received and filed. The report of the latter was as follows:

102 liquor licenses secured.....$102,000.00
96 hack and dray licenses.....$25.35
102 billiard and pool licenses.....$15.00
102 amusements.....$32.40
3 plumbers licenses.....$9.00
3 exhibitions.....$9.00
3 shooting galleries.....$9.00
4 auctioneers.....$14.50
2 employment offices.....$20.00

Total receipts.....$106,729.35
THE ONEOTA INDEBTEDNESS.

At the afternoon session the supervisors of Oneota township and other interested parties appeared for the purpose of adjusting the Oneota indebtedness. H. H. Thayer presented the matter to the council and some time was spent in explaining and asking questions. The supervisors submitted a proposition for settlement to the effect that the township transfer to the city all its assets on condition that the city assume the indebtedness. There are bonds outstanding to the amount of $25,000, and orders, unpaid, to the amount of nearly $20,000 more. It is thought that the assets will amply cover all the indebtedness except the $25,000 bonds. The matter was finally referred to the city attorneys. At last night's meeting action was deferred for one week.

An increase of Chief Black's salary from $200 to $250 a year caused considerable discussion both at the afternoon caucus and the regular evening session. At the afternoon caucus Alderman French announced that he did not favor an increase at the present time. Alderman Patterson thought Chief Black worth $250 a year but stated that a year ago the salaries of the policemen were cut in the interest of economy and he did not feel that he could support an increase in Mr. Black's salary unless an increase was made in the police department.

Alderman Olafson supported the proposed increase as did Alderman Lerch. The latter said that the city has been getting a new department, new apparatus, new hose, etc., but said nothing about the new horses. THE INSURANCE COMPACT. Alderman Harwood said that when Chief Black was brought here, it was represented that an improvement in the department would decrease insurance rates. He said that no decrease has yet come hence said no use in increased expense without some return. He jumped with both feet on what it pleases him to call the "damnable insurance compact" and the local "adjuster." He said that he had no patience with a people that allow the extortion and high charges of this compact. "It has utterly done away with competition," he said, "and I am surprised that little attention is paid to this compact."

Alderman Howard could not understand what was meant by raising the city third in comparison with other cities. He also said that the losses here last year were 42 per cent of the premiums and that Duluth ranked first in Minnesota as to net profit paid to the companies. He did not hold a high opinion of the "damnable compact."

Alderman Ole could see no use in an increase of the department expenses unless there was a decrease in insurance rates. At the evening session, when the time came for the formal passage of the resolution increasing Chief Black's salary, Alderman Nelson moved an amendment that action be deferred one week. It was seconded by Alderman Patterson, but lost by a vote of 5 to 3. Alderman French, Patterson, Nelson, Kneuse, Ole, Westerman, Black, Ash supporting a postponement. The original motion was then passed by a vote of 11 to 5. Alderman James, Nelson, Ole and Howard coming in on the negative side.

The mayor's appointments of Frank Provinski, patrolman, E. M. Blisford, policeman at Fond du Lac at $40 a month and William Garrett, special policeman on the Pioneer Fuel company's dock, made one week ago, were confirmed.

JOB FOR ALDERMAN FRENCH. Alderman L. D. French was voted the job of completing the condemnation proceedings record in the city clerk's office at a salary of $25.00 a day. Alderman Patterson introduced a resolution fixing the salaries in the police department as follows: Chief, $2500; lieutenants and detectives, an increase of $10 a month; all other members of the department an increase of $5 each a month. By vote, action on the resolution was deferred one week.

Duluth is no nearer a steam ferry across the ship canal than she has been, apparently. At the caucus yesterday afternoon, John Nears spoke to the council in favor of that convention. He said that he was a member of the Park Point council when the village was brought into the city. They only laid down when they ran out of money and were promised many things which they never got. He spoke of the hardships of getting coal, wood and supplies across. Last night he cost him $2.50 to get a ton of coal from the canal to his house. The crossing is dangerous and unsatisfactory for horses, and as the Park Point ferry carries $10.00 a ton, he thought they ought to have consideration.

W. H. Silenstien, as a Park Point property holder, asked for a suitable conveyance across the canal. William Sargent, representing an assessed valuation of $300,000, pleaded in his gentle way that he had built a dock over there and that July 1 he had moved his business there and transferred to the Point. His whole fleet would employ 150 men and he expected to have a very large business. He wished to make their homes across the canal. It has been his purpose to erect some houses over there. He urged the council to let a contract for a steam insurance compact" and the local "adjuster." He said that he had no patience with a people that allow the extortion and high charges of this compact. "It has utterly done away with competition," he said, "and I am surprised that little attention is paid to this compact."

Alderman Patterson introduced a resolution fixing the salaries in the police department as follows: Chief, $2500; lieutenants and detectives, an increase of $10 a month; all other members of the department an increase of $5 each a month. By vote, action on the resolution was deferred one week.

"I AM A WOMAN AND HENCE I SUFFER."

How often this expression is heard and how much oftener it is felt. Alas! women do suffer. Why, we often cannot tell, but we know there is one great cause, and that is weakness. The headaches, the depressed feelings, the pains, the discouragements, indeed, almost all the misery has a common cause—weakness. At such times a woman always needs a friend that can be relied upon, and such a friend, for more than twenty years, has been that great-est of all remedies, Warner's Safe Cure. By its purity and its power it furnishes a prompt relief for women in their hours of need, and if the grateful expressions which come up from the homes of the land about what Safe Cure has done were printed, they would fill volumes. If you, reader, are a sufferer can you not take hope from this suggestion?

the payment of both interest and principal are provided by the county. The city treasurer is paying interest on $1,782,000, amounting to $87,767.93. The increase of the bonded debt during the past year is caused by the annexation of New Duluth and Fond du Lac.

The outstanding improvement certificates at the commencement of the year ending Feb. 25, 1895, amounted to $827,767.85. During the year new certificates to the amount of $44,638 were issued and $23,800.72 paid making a decrease of $23,800.72 in the outstanding certificates. The outstanding 1 per cent orders of the city of Duluth, New Duluth, Fond du Lac and West Duluth amount to $449,061.01, making a total liability of $1,276,828.86. The amount of the year ending Feb. 25, 1895, of $225,305.20, of which is to be accounted for by items which would not have been obligations of the city but for the annexation of West Duluth, Lakeside and Fond du Lac. The sale of the gas and water bonds having been arranged, will put the city in funds for the immediate prosecution of the great work of extending the present system.

THE WATER PLANT. There is every reason to believe the supreme court of the state will render a favorable decision early in April, in the suit of Henry Truesden against the city of Duluth, whereby we will be able to consummate the purchase of the gas and water plant. THE FIRE DEPARTMENT. The net expenses of the fire department for the year ending Feb. 25, 1894, was $125,159.37 and for the year ending Feb. 25, 1895, $125,159.37. But for the last fiscal year the department was covered by the net expenses aggregated $23,179.87 which were not charged to it in 1894, showing a comparative saving of $101,979.50.

According to the comptroller's report the total expenditures on account of the police department for the year ending Feb. 25, 1895, amounted to $69,311.42. For the year ending Feb. 25, 1894, the expenditures were $66,113.25, an increase of $3,198.17. The report of the secretary of police shows that the expenses of the West

Duluth district for the year ending Feb. 25, 1895, amounted to $13,715. Thus the comparative reduction in the entire city of expenses for the year ending Feb. 25, 1895, is $13,715. This reduction is due, first, to reduction of salaries; second, to reduction of force in West Duluth district from sixteen to eight men; and third, to the establishment of the rock pile at Sixth avenue cut, through the recommendation of the chief of police, not only has there been a saving during the past fiscal year in the single item of board of prisoners at the county jail of $8000, but the city has been freed from a great extent from vagrants and petty criminals, and the number of arrests for drunkenness has decreased 25 per cent from previous years.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY. During the year the number of works in the public library has increased 2175, the total now being 16,336. Books issued in the last fiscal year amounted to a total of 114,880, as compared with 94,714 for the previous year, an increase of 20,166. The expenditures for the last fiscal year were $12,425.36, of which $1,486 were for new books. The total for the previous year was $10,806.23. On hand in 1894 was $14,552.68 and in 1895 $13,346.65.

SOME RECOMMENDATIONS. "I most earnestly recommend to your honorable body that no streets or avenues be opened up or improved, or for the cause of any other improvement, until the city is satisfied that said improvements are absolutely necessary and that parties petitioning for the same are able to promptly pay assessments levied upon any property benefited."

"We have now outstanding improvement certificates amounting to $827,767.93, for which the city is obligated itself. Many upon the Ontario plan have been issued, and the city has been obliged to borrow or use money from general taxes to pay the same. It is therefore recommended that the city be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $827,767.93, to be used for the purpose of paying the same."

"The outstanding orders at the commencement of this administration amounted to $449,061.01. It is recommended that the city be authorized to issue bonds to the amount of $449,061.01, to be used for the purpose of paying the same."

"We must also be in mind that only a small amount is to be paid into the city treasury for taxes before June 1, and there being only a very little money now in the treasury, it will be necessary to further issue city orders in order to meet the running expenses of the city, and to consistently increase the amount now outstanding."

In the future, whenever it may be necessary to open and grade new streets, I deem it advisable to lay gas and water mains and sewers through the streets, and make connection to the curb of every lot.

A DOCTOR'S EVIDENCE.

What He Says About Medicine and Cures.

He Tells What He Considers the Best of All Medicines.

There is One Remedy Which He Knows Will Do All It Claims.

A doctor's evidence regarding medicine and disease is always considered the highest authority. Every court in the world accepts his judgment as positive and indisputable evidence. Therefore, what he says about a certain remedy cannot be doubted.

Dr. J. W. Minkler, of Bath, N. H., suffered for a long time from that terrible disease, asthma. All the doctors and medicines he tried could do nothing for him till he found the one remedy in the world for asthma, and all diseases of the nerves and blood. Read the doctor's convincing words:

"I had the asthma," he said, "the worst of any man I ever heard of that I lived. I have paid out more than $500 for medicines, without receiving the slightest benefit."

"I was obliged to leave New York because I could not live there, and went into the country thinking it might help me, but it did not. I was so bad off that I did not expect to live. It would come upon me suddenly, in the midst of conversation and stop me instantly, as quickly as though I had dropped dead."

"Sometimes I would be taken with strangling in bed, and had a window opened and a cold air draught spring and throw it open quickly to put my head out to breathe. One day a friend asked me how I could stand that, and I told him I was cured. I did so and it helped me. I continued using it, and now I am cured, and have had no return of it since."

"I was cured of my asthma, and now I am cured of my asthma, and have had no return of it since."

NOT TRUE.

Captor of Jeff Davis Denies a Story About the Event.

Says That Davis Was Not in Woman's Attire When Captured.

It Was a Cold Morning and Davis Wore a Shawl.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 26.—Gen. Henry Harnden, the officer of the Union army who captured Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, is in Chattanooga with the Wisconsin commission to locate the positions of the troops of that state in the Chickamauga national military park.

It is not true, said he, "that President Davis was in woman's attire when captured. It was a cold morning, about daybreak, when I arrested him, and he had a woman's shawl over his shoulders. The story about hoopskirts is totally false."

Then Gen. Harnden, who belonged to the First Wisconsin cavalry, told how he was given 150 picked horsemen and given orders to capture Davis. They rode three nights and three days without rest. The capture was made near Irwinville, in Cowan county, Georgia, just before the capture, a body of Michigan cavalry on a similar expedition and Gen. Harnden's men collided. A fight ensued and two or three men on either side were killed and a number wounded, before it was found out they were friends instead of enemies.

"When I reached the Davis camp," continued Gen. Harnden, "the first man I spoke to was the Texas gentleman, now Senator Reagan, who told me that he was the postmaster general of the Confederate states. President Davis was sitting near by on a log, with a shawl over his shoulders, as it was a cool morning."

"How did the story get out that he had on dresses and hoopskirts?" asked the reporter.

"When I went to Macon and reported to Gen. Wilson, my superior officer, he had the story telegraphed out as fast as I spoke, and the woman's shawl became exaggerated into female attire. In the excitement he may have misunderstood me, or the newspapers exaggerated it. I have tried for years to correct the story but have been unable to do so. It is very hard for truth to overtake a lie."

"In Grand Army posts when I attempt to explain it, I am sometimes hissed. If the writer of history gets it corrected for future generations, I shall feel better."

A SPORTING SENSATION.

The Favorite in a Horse Race Suddenly Scratched.

LONDON, March 26.—The sudden scratching of Cloister, a big favorite for the grand national steeplechase, to be run next Friday at Liverpool, has caused a great sensation in sporting circles. Cloister won the grand national two years ago, and was a favorite for that event last year but went lame just before the race.

While exercising yesterday, Cloister seemed to go stiffly and then suddenly dropped to the ground and lay with his tongue protruding. The lad who was riding him was pitched to the ground insensible. A veterinary surgeon who has examined Cloister reports that he is lame and very pained, but that the racer shows no signs of having been poisoned.

Stolen Records Found.

ARMORE, I. T., March 26.—A startling discovery has been brought to light near Tishomingo by the finding in a hollow log of the journal records of the last session of the legislature, which contained the impeachment charges of Ben Kemp, the then district judge. The records had been stolen from the capitol, but the fact was known only to a very few and efforts to keep the matter concealed are still employed. The books are in possession of the national jailer and some startling developments are expected.

Epidemic of Diphtheria.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 26.—Diphtheria is raging at the Indiana Feeble Minded Institute, near this city. Since the disease made its appearance there have been thirty-nine cases and at the present twenty-three children are in the quarantine hospital. It is feared the entire 500 inmates have been exposed to the contagion.

GROWING SUGAR CANE

Experiments on a California Island Have Been Successful.

STOCKTON, Cal., March 26.—The experiments of growing sugar cane on the island of San Joaquin county have been so successful that the government is now preparing to engage in the culture on a larger scale.

Two experts who were recently sent here by the Spreckels people to inquire into the government's experiments in growing cane were so surprised by the developments that they procured two tons of first class cane from the Hawaiian islands and other sections to make thorough tests of the lands here also. The cane was received a few days ago and is now being set out for thorough cultivation. The experts representing the Spreckels company expect to see the sugar cane grow here to a height of thirty-five feet and contain more saccharine matter than any cane raised in this country.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

A Colored Woman Sentenced to Hang at Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Maggie Tiller was today condemned to be hanged for the murder of Charles Miller. The condemned woman is colored, and if the sentence is carried out here's will be the first execution of a woman which ever occurred in Chicago.

She became infatuated with a colored woman named Freda Huntington and was violent in her jealousy of any attentions paid to Miss Huntington. On Dec. 12 the Tiller woman found the Huntington woman in company with Charles Miller, colored.

The enraged girl drew a revolver, and Miller rushed to a third story window to escape. As he leaped to the sill, Miss Tiller fired two shots, striking him in the head. His foot caught in a drape and the man hung head downward from the window, dying in view of a large crowd which had gathered about the house. The defense was insanity.

FOR TRAIN ROBBERY.

Five Men Are Under Arrest at Cripple Creek.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 26.—Five men are now under arrest charged with the robbery of the train on the Florence & Cripple Creek railway Saturday night. They are Bob Taylor, Frank Wallace, Lou Vannick, W. S. Crumley and James Gibson. Vannick, Crumley and Gibson are employed at the Strong mine.

W. S. Crumley is the man who drove the back at Colorado Springs when Gen. Tarsney was taken from the Alamo hotel to the outskirts of the city and tarred and feathered. The bloodhound played an important part in tracking the men.

Fears for a Steamship.

MEXICO CITY, March 26.—A telegram received by Senor Joaquin Rodo, of this city, states that fears are entertained in Mazatlan for the foundering on the 24th inst. of the steamship Diego, bound for La Paz, Lower California, from Guaymas. A steamer has left the latter place in search of the missing vessel, which was built in San Francisco to replace the steamer Alexandro, recently purchased by the Mexican government to transport troops to Oaxaca in view of the pending difficulties with Guatemala.

The Cuban Uprising.

MADRID, March 26.—An official dispatch received here from Havana says that the rising is confined to the province of Santiago, that most of the insurgents are without arms and that they do not hold any places of importance.

How Griffs Would Fight Corbett.

Young Griffo, the featherweight, tells the New York Sun how he would fight Heavyweight James J. Corbett: "All I will have to do is just to duck and dodge him and get in an occasional punch in the stomach. I might make a few for his face, and I bet you I'll land one in awhile. I boxed Dan Creedon, and he couldn't put me out in eight rounds. Creedon and Corbett have boxed together, and if I remember aright Corbett said that Creedon was a very likely man and would surely beat Fitzsimmons if they ever came together. When Bob and Dan fought at New Orleans, Fitz liked him quick, as we all know. Taking this into consideration, don't you think I would have a good chance against Corbett? I'm sure of it. I was never wrong in my life at the game, and I ain't wrong now."

His Rocky Goal.

I admire the rosy dawning of the morning on her cheek. For pearls each time she opens her lips I diligently seek. I shiver at the coldness of her frowning brow of snow. When lightning blazes from her eyes, for cover do I go. The midnight blackness of her hair strikes chill into my soul. The path to her affection is my rocky, weary goal.—Chicago News.

BASEBALL

O. P. Caylor Makes Some Observations About the National Game.

Louisville Team Will Be De-lighted to Secure the Eleventh Place.

Some of the Players Who Held Out for More Salary.

St. Patrick's day is looked upon by some people as the ne plus ultra of Jack Frost's work in the middle latitudes. It is also the beginning of activity in baseball circles south of the great lakes. This year the usual day of Ireland's patron saint saw nothing left undone in preparation for the various baseball championships of the United States except the training of the teams. Schedules have been arranged and adopted, rules and regulations provided, and the players are getting ready for the fight. There is no doubt of the widespread expectation that the coming season will be the greatest and most successful in the history of the national game.

A month of March without a series of predictions as to the probable individual strength of the various National league teams would be a unique period in the calendar. This month has been no exception in that respect. The National league manager or captain who has not already placed his 12 players in the order of the finish, and especially his own, is not supposed to know the necessary points of his business. With one exception I believe the 12 captains have gone on record for 1895. Six of the 11 claim first place, and the other five, though they will not holdily declare themselves, talk about the first division but cannot conceal the fact of higher hope which is swelling in their heart of hearts. I have on my memoranda not one of the 12 which is willing to accept a place in the second division, although there are six niches there waiting to receive deposits next October.

The one exception is the Louisville people. So far as my memorandum shows, the Colonels have claimed nothing thus far except the right to live and be a factor in the race. The team has become hardened from experience to expect little in the windup, and eleventh place would be looked upon in Louisville as a proud position of distinction whence the Kentuckians could gaze down upon the one more unfortunate collection with feelings of real downright satisfaction.

Since he left for the south Uncle Anson isn't saying much, but he is not asleep. Word comes from Galveston that his Colts are not doing the way in illness, and the amount of perspiration which Anson has succeeded in driving through the pores of his men already would irrigate a considerable plot in the arid regions of western Texas. Baseball, according to Anson's philosophy, is not pleasure and play, but hard work from post to finish.

That old veteran, Tom Burns, who has been that Anson got as much work out of his men in a week as most captains get out of their teams in a month, and Burns spoke from years of experience with the Chicago chief. It is a great compliment to the "Grand Old Man" that every other club in the league concedes to him a much higher position in the race this year than he got last. It is also a fact that in every section of the country a desire prevails almost universally to see the Chicagoans land among the first six clubs. This feeling is wholly founded upon the widespread, genuine admiration for the Gladstone of the national pastime. Anson is "short" in pitchers. It is the weak spot in his team. If he could get a man like Rusie, Meekin or McMahon, he would by no means be out of the race. Another questionable spot on his team has been second base. The nine has been wanting there since Pfeffer left him in 1890. This season he has secured Stewart to play the base. The young man came from Sioux City. Anson discovered him in the fall of 1893 while playing a past season series in Iowa. Last spring he offered $1,000 for Stewart's release, but it was refused. When the season ended, the Chicagoans drafted the man, and under the baseball laws of the national agreement paid only half the amount. Stewart's official record in the Western league last year was not encouraging, but Anson attaches no importance to averages. He wants a runner and a player who takes desperate chances with no regard for official records. But in spite of Stewart's abilities Captain Anson was sorely disappointed in his club's failure to secure the services of Pfeffer for this season. He has never ceased to mourn the loss of Pfeffer, Duffy and Farrell.

The case of Stewart calls up the fact that clubs are prone to engage players who happen in some one or more games to play extraordinarily well against their paragon. Pfeffer for this season. He has never ceased to mourn the loss of Pfeffer, Duffy and Farrell. The Pittsburghs found Hart a most puzzling pitcher in some of their exhibition games against him, and this year Hart will play on the Cincinnati team. Rusie was another pitcher whom the Pittsburghs found to be troublesome, and they traded him for him.

Several attempts have been made this year by players to "hold out" for more salary than was offered. None succeeded. The most notable instance was that of Rusie, who surrendered very easily when the folly of his attempt was held up to him. Wilson of the New Yorks also made a bluff, but came to the club's terms in the end. So far Westcott of the New Yorks is the only player who is holding out, and as he does not depend on professional playing for a livelihood he will probably retire permanently from the game.

The Baltimore club had four "hold outs"—namely, Kelley, McGraw, Jennings and Keeler. Their plans also fell flat. Kelley was the last to surrender, and he does not hesitate to express his dissatisfaction with the situation. He demanded the limit of $2,400, though he gets $2,000, which is an increase over his recompense of last season. It is a queer fact that the two teams which profited most last season and stood first and second in the League have given the most trouble to their clubs this year when it came to a question of salaries.

Joseph J. Kelley is what may be classed as an aggressive player, a fighter. He is 30 years old, but has been playing professionally only five years. His first professional season was with the Lowell of the New England league, where he played as a pitcher. The Bostonians picked him up that year and used him in 24 games. Next year he went to Omaha and thence to the Pittsburghs. The latter club let him go to Baltimore as part consideration in the trade for Van Halton. His advance toward the front of the ball players of the country has been rapid.

There will be about 30 young players brought out on the National league diamond this year, recruits drafted from the minor leagues, where they were stars last season. It will be interesting to watch these new candidates for popular favor and note how many of them will "wear."

If former experience is a fair measure by which to make an estimate, then perhaps one of each six will remain on the League roll at the end of the year.

O. P. CAYLOR.

Irish Politeness.

The gift of the Irish peasant for making expressive and humorous phrases is not by any means a fiction of literature. The use of "pat" phrases is natural to him.

A clerical traveler in Cavan not long ago asked a peasant how far it was to a certain village and was answered, "Two miles."

"What! Only two miles?" said the traveler, who had before traversed the distance and found it a long road.

"Well, your reverence," answered the peasant, "it is two miles strong and rich, so to speak."

A somewhat similar story is told by one of Lord Zetland's party, who were making inquiries into the condition of a distressed district. They were crossing a lake. A gale was blowing, and waves were dashing over the boat.

The gentleman referred to had been assured that an Irish peasant if treated well will always agree with what is said to him rather than appear disagreeable. It struck the gentleman that there was a good chance to put the assertion to the proof.

"There is very little wind, Pat," he said to one of the loamen.

The answer came through the howling of the elements.

"Very little indeed, yer honor, but fawar there is is mighty strong."—Youth's Companion.

A Valuable Opinion.

The two girls were talking. As girls talk.

One was of the impetuous, impulsive type whose blood flies to the cheek, whose eyes snap and whose tongue is sharp as a razor.

The other was as the placid ocean, profound, solemn, silent, billowing deep far out from shore and coming in upon the silver sands as noiseless as the dew falls upon the flowers at night.

They were talking about men and their ways, a subject of unceasing interest to women in their teens or beyond.

The face of the impetuous one was flushed, and there was the unmistakable evidence of indignation in her manner.

"Well," she exclaimed, with a warning and a threat in her tone, "I'd like to see a man kiss me."

The eyes of the other one closed softly against the dazzling flash of those of her companion, and a gentle glow came to her face.

"Yes!" she answered dreamily.

"Well, I don't care whether I see the man or not. It is so perfectly lovely any way that I never think about the conditions."—Detroit Free Press.

Contradictory Extremities.

Mr. B—, who recently made the journey from Denver to Salt Lake City on horseback, relates the following amusing story of the perplexity which his appearance caused in the mind of a small boy whom he encountered on the way.

He had allowed his beard to grow and for coolness wore a pair of buckskin-boots and low shoes. He fell in one day with a man and a boy of about 10 driving in a wagon and rode along with them for some distance. The boy kept eying him most curiously and finally, being unable to restrain his curiosity any longer, turned to his father and said in a loud stage whisper, "Say, pop, is that a man in short pants or a boy with whiskers?"

Information Freely Imparted.

"As to the question of sidesaddles, roadman," ventured the reporter as delicately as he could, "what will probably be the position of the coming season?"

"As to the question of saddles, sir," replied the president of the woman's convention, with considerable asperity, "the coming woman, if she feels like it, will take both sides."—Chicago Tribune.

Discreetly Reared.

"What's this parrot saying?" asked the visitor in the bird store. "It doesn't sound like 'Polly wants a cracker.'" "No. It's 'Polly wants a bean.' I'm educating the bird for a Boston lady."—Washington Star.
